Compromise Housing Bill Worked Out

Senate Committee Approves 6-Year, $3 Billion Program

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Senate Banking Committee Monday approved a compromise housing bill to provide nearly three billion dollars for a six-year federal grant and loan program.

The bill, as approved by the committee, also would provide an increase of one-half of one per cent in the maximum interest rates on G.I. housing mortgages.

The measure was chosen by Democratic leaders as the first test of President Eisenhower's 1959 economy campaign. It would provide 750 million dollars more for slum clearance over a six-year period than the administration proposed.

35,000 New Units

It also would authorize construction of 35,000 new public housing units on which low rents are subsidized by the federal government. These, plus re-allowance of 16,000 unused authorizations, would make a total of 51,000 units. The President asked for a freeze on new public housing authorizations.

Democratic Whip Mike Mansfield (Mont.) announced that the Senate will hold night sessions Wednesday, Thursday and Friday and, if necessary, an unusual Saturday session to finish action on the housing bill this week.

The administration had maintained that there was enough low-rent public housing available and that no new units should be authorized. Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.) had proposed allowing up to 100,000 new units to be built. The committee decided on 35,000 by an 8 to 7 vote.

Ike Scores Victory

Eisenhower won a victory in the committee's agreement to raise interest rates on new GI housing mortgages from the present 4¾ per cent to the 5¼ per cent allowed on FHA - insured loans.

The Senate committee approval of more expensive G.I. loans followed similar action by the House Veterans Committee last week. The G.I. proposal, standing as a separate bill, was scheduled to go before the full House on Wednesday.

Injured Audrey Can Still Smile

Actress Audrey Hepburn gives out with a big smile despite her cracked back after arriving in Los Angeles yesterday by special plane from Durango, Mexico. The actress was injured last week when she was thrown from a horse while working on a movie on location near Durango. Her husband, actor Mel Ferrer, bends over the injured actress. Ferrer said he thinks Audrey will be walking in three weeks. (AP Photofax)

Civilian Space Chief Says Reds 3 Years Ahead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Civilian space chief T. Keith Glennan said Monday it may be three years or more before the United States can match Russia in rocket engine power.

But Glennan and Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy defended President Eisenhower's budget against Democratic charges of penny-pinching.

Glennan and McElroy testified just about simultaneously at separate House inquiries into how the United States is faring in space and defense.

A Senate hearing last week brought a Democratic challenge to Eisenhower's contention that his 41-billion-dollar defense program provides for balanced strikeback power and speedy development of advanced missiles.

McElroy told the House Armed Services Committee "there is nothing under the rug" in Eisenhower's budget, that U. S. defense is "prepared to meet the threat it faces today," and no further large manpower cuts are slated for the armed services.

And the Pentagon boss said the first few Atlas intercontinental ballistic missiles will be set up, ready for firing, by the end of June. The giant 6,300-mile range ICBMs are expected to be placed at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. McElroy said work on the Atlas is moving ahead even faster than originally expected.

Glennan, head of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, called for "urgently sustained . . . time, money and effort . . . for years to come."

If the U. S. program is to be on a stop-and-go basis, he told the House Space Committee, "then we'd better spend our money buying telescopes to watch the Russians pioneer in space."

N.Y. Night School Teachers Resign In Wage Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—The city's 300 evening high school teachers resigned en masse Monday when their demands for wage boosts were turned down.

Affected were 16 schools in the city's five boroughs with an estimated 30,000 night-school students, including armed forces veterans and other adults.

Harold Israelson, counsel for the High School Teachers Assn., said resignations for the entire force of evening teachers were sent to Supt. of Schools John S. Theobald.

The night schools will have to close as a result, Israelson said.

Most of the teachers also instruct in day sessions. Their resignation from the volunteer evening jobs won't affect their daytime posts.

Ice And Snow Leave 14 Dead In Southwest

By The Associated Press

Snow and freezing rain moved from Colorado and New Mexico toward Alabama Monday, leaving at least 14 dead in Texas from weather-caused accidents.

The Weather Bureau issued a special warning of freezing rain or snow in parts of Arkansas, Louisiana, Mississippi and on into extreme northern Alabama. Parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Colorado and New Mexico felt the hazardous weather earlier.

The ice conditions extended south into central Texas, almost to Austin.

Scores of Texas schools closed because slick highways and streets created hazards for children seeking to attend classes.

Almost all southwestern highways were open but many were termed hazardous.

Except for mountain areas, heaviest overnight snow reported was more than six inches at Gage, Okla., near the Texas border. Follett, in the Texas Panhandle, reported six inches.

Meantime, an arctic chill numbed most of the northern states.

The southern edge of the zone of subzero cold stretched from the Missouri-Iowa border to the central Appalachians and into Connecticut.

Temperatures reached the lowest levels of the winter in many New England cities. Manufacturers Light and Heat Co. curtailed its natural gas supplies to industrial customers in Western Pennsylvania, northern West Virginia and eastern Ohio because of predicted prolonged cold weather. The move was taken to preserve reserves.

Early morning lows included: Lone Rock, Wis., -36; Owl's Head, N.Y., -35; Elkader, Iowa and Freeport, Ill., -26; Newport, Vt., -25 and Presque Isle, Maine, -24.

However, a warming trend developed in the Northern Plains during the day and was expected to spread across the Midwest and Northeast on Tuesday.

Skies generally were clear throughout the frigid area. Based on Groundhog Day legend, although not on the science of weather forecasting, this signifies six more weeks of winter weather.

Mother Of Four Slaying Victim

BALTIMORE (AP) — A factory worker was charged Monday with slaying a 37-year-old mother of four as she was driving home from a downtown tavern.

Police said George W. Taylor, 34, was accused of the butcher knife murder of Mrs. Anna Lorraine Blevins.

Two cruising policemen who witnessed the crime were not able to reach the victim in time to prevent it.

Patrolman William Wright and Bernard Struck said they arrested Taylor without a struggle.

Police said Taylor had followed Mrs. Blevins as she drove her 18-year-old daughter to the girl's grandmother's home. Then, he forced her car to a halt about six blocks from her home, where the slaying took place.

The window of her blood-soaked car had been smashed, apparently by Taylor.

Ship Survivor Hunt Curtailed

HALIFAX, N. S. (UPI)—Snow and low ceilings Monday cut short an air search for survivors among the 95 persons aboard the Danish ship Hans Hedtoft when it crashed into an iceberg last Friday. Feeble radio signals stirred hopes that at least some survivors still may be alive.

Word came from the Danish commercial radio station Lyngby Radio, north of Copenhagen, that intermittent and faint signals had been heard on the regular emergency frequency for ships between 3:20 and 3:55 p.m. e.s.t.

The radio reported there were intermittent long signals with irregular intervals between.

New Supercarrier Begins Sea Trials

The 60,000-ton carrier was maneuvered out of its berth in the New York naval shipyard in Brooklyn and into the East River by 12 tugs, manned by crews who took time out from a port-wide tugboat strike to get the big ship under way.

Mom Jailed; Didn't Pay Wayward Son's Keep

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP)—A mother of seven, jailed for failing to pay for her wayward son's keep, got no sympathy Monday from the judge who sent her there or the lawyer who dropped her case.

Mrs. Catherine Robbins, 35, went weeping to jail Sunday night on a contempt of court citation by Juvenile Court Judge Harold N. Fields. She traded places with her husband, Perry, 36, the judge having ordered them to serve alternate weeks in jail.

"This is a case of noncooperation and willful contempt," Judge Fields said. "If they had made a reasonable effort to pay, they wouldn't be where they are today."

Judge Fields said the parents had paid only $5 in the last six months toward the $21 weekly tuition for their son, James, 12, at White's Institute, a private correctional institution at Wabash, Ind.

The judge said he committed the boy, who was accused of stealing, to White's because he felt he was too young to be committed to the Indiana Boys School, with mostly older offenders. The parents wouldn't have to pay for their son's care at the state school.

The couple denied Judge Fields' estimate they had been earning more than $600 a month, and they said layoffs and medical bills had strained family finances.

Mrs. Robbins was to have returned Monday to her job in an aluminum factory after a layoff. Robbins is a laid-off railroad carman.

Dulles Planning German Counteroffer To Russia

Issue Studied By Secretary And Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said Monday night Secretary of State Dulles is seriously considering a counter proposal to Russia on the German issue.

Fulbright, soon to become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told this to newsmen after an hour-long conference with Dulles at the secretary's home.

Dulles arranged the session with Fulbright on the eve of his departure for talks with allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn.

The secretary appeared to be covering his congressional flank before going abroad to unify the sometimes conflicting views of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in the new German crisis.

Question Of Harmony

Fulbright said he made no specific suggestion to Dulles. But he said he urged the secretary to develop some counter proposal to Russia's demand that allied troops withdraw from West Berlin and deal with East Germany on the future of Berlin.

"The secretary told me that he was considering very seriously that question of counter proposals, of what can be done," Fulbright said.

The senator quoted Dulles as saying it was necessary to harmonize the views of all the Allies, whereas the "Russians have only themselves to consult."

Fulbright said he and Dulles discussed various possibilities, including one proposal that both allied and Soviet troops be withdrawn a substantial distance from both banks of the Elbe River. This would leave a wide zone through Germany devoid of either Soviet or allied forces. Fulbright gave no details on the discussion about this suggestion.

Dulles To Fly To London

The senator said he and Dulles also talked about the State Department's relations with the Foreign Relations Committee now that Fulbright is succeeding Sen. Theodore F. Green (D-RI) as chairman. Green quit the chairmanship, saying he was doing so because of trouble with his sight and hearing. Fulbright gave no details, but he said he was confident the relations would be satisfactory.

Dulles plans to leave by plane Tuesday afternoon for London. Stops at Paris and Bonn are scheduled in the week or so thereafter.

U.S. Citizen Denies Plotting To Kill Castro

HAVANA (UPI) —Police are holding a United States citizen on suspicion that he was hired to assassinate revolutionary leader Fidel Castro, it was learned Monday.

The suspect was identified as Edward Allan Nye, 31, of Chicago and Coral Gables, Fla. Nye denied the charge.

Nye said he had been arrested at Santa Rita, in Oriente Province, last Dec. 26 and was transferred to Havana Jan. 18.

The U.S. Embassy said there were "criminal charges" against Nye, but did not elaborate.

Police Capt. Luis Herrera Tito said he could not disclose details of the charge against him.

Authorities claimed they confiscated a rifle with telescopic sight and a pistol when Nye was arrested.

Meanwhile, authorities reported that Jose Duany Cobas, 20-year-old member of the regular army, had confessed he planned to kill Fidel Castro while the revolutionary leader was distributing farm lands to peasants. Castro returned Monday to his Sierra Maestra stronghold in Oriente Province.

Duany also confessed that he accidentally discharged a grenade Sunday in the midst of a Santiago religious procession. Three persons were killed and 80 injured by the blast, the reports said.

Duany was quoted as saying that he had planned to use the grenade to seize arms from rebel soldiers, but it slipped from his hands during the pilgrimage of 15,000 Roman Catholics to the shrine of Our Lady of Cobre, outside Santiago.

Duany, it was reported, said he planned to form a "counter-revolutionary" group of former members of the regular Cuban army which would operate from the Sierra Maestra and try to halt the trial and execution of "war criminals" by revolutionary tribunals.

Duany was unable to obtain any support, it was said. Three young soldiers approached by Duany reported him to rebel authorities who were rounding up anti-Castro suspects.

Batista Target Of Dominican Radio, Press

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — The continued presence of Fulgencio Batista is "repugnant and unpleasant" to this country, the Dominican Republic Radio says, backing a suggestion that he get out.

Batista, former Cuban president, has been in political asylum since New Year's Day, when he fled Havana and the Cuban revolution.

A government spokesman said Monday the radio and press attacks on Batista represent the views of the authors — and the government will stick by the principle of granting asylum to political exiles.

The outspoken broadcast of La Voz Dominicana called Batista an unscrupulous, evil man and a petty figure "hated by the very stones in Cuba." It echoed the sentiments of a leading Dominican newspaper, El Caribe, which carried an article under the headline: "Batista should get out."

The radio station was founded by Arismendi Trujillo, brother of this country's leader, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo. The broadcast quoted from El Caribe and said Arismendi Trujillo wanted to add some of his own views.

"The vigorous campaign waged by La Voz Dominicana against the atrocities committed by red chieftain Fidel Castro must not be misinterpreted. It does not mean that we are forgetting the abuses and ingratitude of the regime under Batista, that unscrupulous, evil man who gathered together part of his clique and unexpectedly fled Havana," the paper said.

"Trujillo's nobility and Christian kindness have given shelter to a man who would not have come here if he had any sense of decency."

An aide to Batista said he would not talk to newspapermen about it.

There is a long-standing feud between Trujillo and Batista. One of Batista's chief henchmen, ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer, once led an expedition against the Dominican Republic with the intention of overthrowing Trujillo. Masferrer now is in the United States.

Three Die, 25 Survive Crash

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — An airplane, weighted down with ice and seeking a landing place, crashed into a hill Sunday midnight. Twenty-five men fought, kicked and crawled their way out of the flaming craft. Three died in the smashup.

The plane, a chartered DC3, was carrying 25 National Guardsmen from Idaho and eastern Oregon to a training school at San Antonio, Tex., southeast of Kerrville. It had a crew of three. The flight originated at Boise, Idaho.

Had the plane landed 50 yards to the right or 50 feet to the left, it would have been on flat ground.

"Some of us kicked our way out," said Airman William Leland Peterson, 22, Emmett, Idaho. "The pilot told us we would make an emergency landing. I heard the plane scraping the trees, then the screech and the thud and the explosion and flames."

The plane, on a chartered flight, carried 25 National Guardsmen and a crew of three. The troops, from Idaho and eastern Oregon, were en route to a training school at San Antonio.

Killed were Airman Robert C. Griffith, Ola, Idaho; pilot W. O. Epps, Portland, Ore.; and copilot Harvey Hitt, Oswego, Ore.

Lewis Reported "Much Improved"

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor leader John L. Lewis was reported "much improved" Monday from pneumonia complications that followed a heart attack last week.

Dr. John B. Minor, physician to the CIO founder and United Mine Workers president, said that his 78-year - old patient "seems to have responded to treatment" for pneumonia.

Earlier Lewis reportedly was a "pretty sick man" after being stricken Sunday with what doctors feared was either a blood clot in his lung or pneumonia.

Minor said the complication turned out to be pneumonia, less serious of the two.

Rockefeller Submits Record N.Y. Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Republican presidential possibility in 1960, submitted a record two - billion-dollar budget to the New York Legislature Monday. He called for higher taxes on incomes, gasoline, cigarets, horse racing and inheritances.

Rockefeller blamed the need for new taxes on what he called a serious legacy of financial troubles he inherited from Democrat Averell Harriman, whom he defeated by a landslide last November.

The first budget submitted by the new governor, grandson of the late billionaire John D. Rockefeller, raised a storm of Democratic cries of "soak the poor."

Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast charged that New York under Rockefeller was headed for the most colossal tax and spend spree in its history.

Many Reds In U. S. Jails, Communist Congress Told

MOSCOW (AP) — James E. Jackson Jr., the U.S. Communist party's secretary for Negro and southern affairs, said Monday many Communists are in jails of the United States.

But for that, he told the Soviet Communist party's 21st congress, there would be a bigger American representation in Moscow for congress sessions.

Jackson praised Premier Khrushchev's seven-year plan in an address. He drew applause by saying in Russian: "Long live peace, long live communism." These were the concluding words of a message to the congress from the U.S. party's National Committee.

Jackson told the gathering "If President Eisenhower could say, as Khrushchev did in his report (on Russia), that in the United States there is not a single political prisoner, then many leaders of the Communist and workers movement in the United States would be able to be present here and to greet the delegates of the congress."

(Jackson, 43, of Brooklyn, was among six Communist leaders who won reversal last Aug. 4 of convictions under the Smith Act of conspiring to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the U.S. government. A New York federal appeals court held there was no proof they taught revolutionary deeds—beyond mere theory. The reversal nullified prison sentences of from one to five years.)

Jackson told the congress that implementation of the seven-year plan will boost the U.S.S.R. "to a height unattainable in the capitalist world."

No Disorder As Schools Integrated

Few White Pupils Quit Classes As 21 Negroes Admitted

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia glumly gave way to racial integration Monday and hesitantly took 21 Negro children into seven white schools.

The Negro pupils came and went unmolested at schools in Norfolk and Arlington County. In each community, a few white children refused to attend school with them, picked up their books and left.

Special police details turned out to maintain order. But they didn't have to work at it. There were no commotions, serious incidents or even any cat-calls—only the usual loud chatter of bubbling teen-agers.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said in Washington that President Eisenhower had been following the integration process in Virginia quite closely and "thinks it is a fine thing that it has been orderly."

Arlington school officials reported after classes were over for the day that an anonymous telephone call, apparently from a woman, had come through about noon saying a bomb had been planted in Stratford Junior High and timed to go off at 1:30 p. m.

A quick search turned up nothing. In the belief the call was a hoax, authorities ruled out evacuating the building.

Firecrackers Explode

Firecrackers flipped out a window were the nearest thing to a bombing. Three white boys were sent home for that. A white girl was sent home, too, for uncomplimentary remarks about the school principal.

Between the white pupils and handful of Negroes who joined them there apparently was a minimum of ill-will.

Yet it was with grimness and discontent that the Old Dominion watched the ancient ramparts of segregation start tumbling down in a state which once paced the Southland in massive resistance to the mixing of races in the schools.

Through the gaps 17 Negro youngsters filed into six junior and senior high schools in Norfolk, the state's largest city. Another four entered Stratford Junior High in Arlington County, a prosperous suburb of Washington.

So, for the first time in Virginia's history, Negroes and whites began attending public schools together, limited though the scale of integration might be at the outset.

"Black Day," Delegate Says

"This," said Del. Sam E. Pope, "is one of the blackest days Virginia has faced since reconstruction."

"The rape of our constitutional rights is an accomplished fact," said Sen. Mills E. Godwin," also from the southside, the area most heavily populated with Negroes.

Segregationists in the Legislature still hunted hopefully, but with slim chances of success, for some new device to bring integration to a halt. One rallying point, a new school closure bill, was defeated in the Senate.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and legislators alike voiced gratification that the transition to integration was peaceful at Norfolk and Arlington. That was just what school and community authorities had predicted—with crossed fingers.

Both at Norfolk and in Arlington, 200 miles to the north, extra police were on duty just in case. But both inside and outside the buildings no violence or even unpleasantness were reported.

The Negro newcomers offered no complaints at their treatment. Demonstrations against them were lacking, even through comaraderie was lacking too.

Eisenhower Heads South Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to leave Wednesday for a vacation of quail shooting and golf at Thomasville, Ga. He will stay five or six days.

In announcing the President's departure plans Monday, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will hold a news conference at 10 a.m., EST, Wednesday in advance of leaving aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

At Thomasville the President will be the guest of George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the treasury.

Dulles Planning German Counteroffer To Russia

Issue Studied By Secretary And Fulbright

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said Monday night Secretary of State Dulles is seriously considering a counter proposal to Russia on the German issue.

Fulbright, soon to become chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, told this to newsmen after an hour-long conference with Dulles at the secretary's home.

Dulles arranged the session with Fulbright on the eve of his departure for talks with allied leaders in London, Paris and Bonn.

The secretary appeared to be covering his congressional flank before going abroad to unify the sometimes conflicting views of the United States, Britain, France and West Germany in the new German crisis.

Question Of Harmony

Fulbright said he made no specific suggestion to Dulles. But he said he urged the secretary to develop some counter proposal to Russia's demand that allied troops withdraw from West Berlin and deal with East Germany on the future of Berlin.

"The secretary told me that he was considering very seriously that question of counter proposals, of what can be done," Fulbright said.

The senator quoted Dulles as saying it was necessary to harmonize the views of all the Allies, whereas the "Russians have only themselves to consult."

Fulbright said he and Dulles discussed various possibilities, including one proposal that both allied and Soviet troops be withdrawn a substantial distance from both banks of the Elbe River. This would leave a wide zone through Germany devoid of either Soviet or allied forces. Fulbright gave no details on the discussion about this suggestion.

Dulles To Fly To London

The senator said he and Dulles also talked about the State Department's relations with the Foreign Relations Committee now that Fulbright is succeeding Sen. Theodore F. Green (D-RI) as chairman. Green quit the chairmanship, saying he was doing so because of trouble with his sight and hearing. Fulbright gave no details, but he said he was confident the relations would be satisfactory.

Dulles plans to leave by plane Tuesday afternoon for London. Stops at Paris and Bonn are scheduled in the week or so thereafter.

U.S. Citizen Denies Plotting To Kill Castro

HAVANA (UPI) —Police are holding a United States citizen on suspicion that he was hired to assassinate revolutionary leader Fidel Castro, it was learned Monday.

The suspect was identified as Edward Allan Nye, 31, of Chicago and Coral Gables, Fla. Nye denied the charge.

Nye said he had been arrested at Santa Rita, in Oriente Province, last Dec. 26 and was transferred to Havana Jan. 18.

The U.S. Embassy said there were "criminal charges" against Nye, but did not elaborate.

Police Capt. Luis Herrera Tito said he could not disclose details of the charge against him.

Authorities claimed they confiscated a rifle with telescopic sight and a pistol when Nye was arrested.

Meanwhile, authorities reported that Jose Duany Cobas, 20-year-old member of the regular army, had confessed he planned to kill Fidel Castro while the revolutionary leader was distributing farm lands to peasants. Castro returned Monday to his Sierra Maestra stronghold in Oriente Province.

Duany also confessed that he accidentally discharged a grenade Sunday in the midst of a Santiago religious procession. Three persons were killed and 80 injured by the blast, the reports said.

Duany was quoted as saying that he had planned to use the grenade to seize arms from rebel soldiers, but it slipped from his hands during the pilgrimage of 15,000 Roman Catholics to the shrine of Our Lady of Cobre, outside Santiago.

Duany, it was reported, said he planned to form a "counter-revolutionary" group of former members of the regular Cuban army which would operate from the Sierra Maestra and try to halt the trial and execution of "war criminals" by revolutionary tribunals.

Duany was unable to obtain any support, it was said. Three young soldiers approached by Duany reported him to rebel authorities who were rounding up anti-Castro suspects.

Three Die, 25 Survive Crash

KERRVILLE, Tex. (AP) — An airplane, weighted down with ice and seeking a landing place, crashed into a hill Sunday midnight. Twenty-five men fought, kicked and crawled their way out of the flaming craft. Three died in the smashup.

The plane, a chartered DC3, was carrying 25 National Guardsmen from Idaho and eastern Oregon to a training school at San Antonio, Tex., southeast of Kerrville. It had a crew of three. The flight originated at Boise, Idaho.

Had the plane landed 50 yards to the right or 50 feet to the left, it would have been on flat ground.

"Some of us kicked our way out," said Airman William Leland Peterson, 22, Emmett, Idaho. "The pilot told us we would make an emergency landing. I heard the plane scraping the trees, then the screech and the thud and the explosion and flames."

The plane, on a chartered flight, carried 25 National Guardsmen and a crew of three. The troops, from Idaho and eastern Oregon, were en route to a training school at San Antonio.

Killed were Airman Robert C. Griffith, Ola, Idaho; pilot W. O. Epps, Portland, Ore.; and copilot Harvey Hitt, Oswego, Ore.

Lewis Reported "Much Improved"

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Labor leader John L. Lewis was reported "much improved" Monday from pneumonia complications that followed a heart attack last week.

Dr. John B. Minor, physician to the CIO founder and United Mine Workers president, said that his 78-year - old patient "seems to have responded to treatment" for pneumonia.

Earlier Lewis reportedly was a "pretty sick man" after being stricken Sunday with what doctors feared was either a blood clot in his lung or pneumonia.

Minor said the complication turned out to be pneumonia, less serious of the two.

Batista Target Of Dominican Radio, Press

CIUDAD TRUJILLO (AP) — The continued presence of Fulgencio Batista is "repugnant and unpleasant" to this country, the Dominican Republic Radio says, backing a suggestion that he get out.

Batista, former Cuban president, has been in political asylum since New Year's Day, when he fled Havana and the Cuban revolution.

A government spokesman said Monday the radio and press attacks on Batista represent the views of the authors — and the government will stick by the principle of granting asylum to political exiles.

The outspoken broadcast of La Voz Dominicana called Batista an unscrupulous, evil man and a petty figure "hated by the very stones in Cuba." It echoed the sentiments of a leading Dominican newspaper, El Caribe, which carried an article under the headline: "Batista should get out."

The radio station was founded by Arismendi Trujillo, brother of this country's leader, Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo. The broadcast quoted from El Caribe and said Arismendi Trujillo wanted to add some of his own views.

"The vigorous campaign waged by La Voz Dominicana against the atrocities committed by red chieftain Fidel Castro must not be misinterpreted. It does not mean that we are forgetting the abuses and ingratitude of the regime under Batista, that unscrupulous, evil man who gathered together part of his clique and unexpectedly fled Havana," the paper said.

"Trujillo's nobility and Christian kindness have given shelter to a man who would not have come here if he had any sense of decency."

An aide to Batista said he would not talk to newspapermen about it.

There is a long-standing feud between Trujillo and Batista. One of Batista's chief henchmen, ex-Sen. Rolando Masferrer, once led an expedition against the Dominican Republic with the intention of overthrowing Trujillo. Masferrer now is in the United States.

Rockefeller Submits Record N.Y. Budget

ALBANY, N.Y. (UPI) — Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, a Republican presidential possibility in 1960, submitted a record two - billion-dollar budget to the New York Legislature Monday. He called for higher taxes on incomes, gasoline, cigarets, horse racing and inheritances.

Rockefeller blamed the need for new taxes on what he called a serious legacy of financial troubles he inherited from Democrat Averell Harriman, whom he defeated by a landslide last November.

The first budget submitted by the new governor, grandson of the late billionaire John D. Rockefeller, raised a storm of Democratic cries of "soak the poor."

Democratic State Chairman Michael H. Prendergast charged that New York under Rockefeller was headed for the most colossal tax and spend spree in its history.

Many Reds In U. S. Jails, Communist Congress Told

MOSCOW (AP) — James E. Jackson Jr., the U.S. Communist party's secretary for Negro and southern affairs, said Monday many Communists are in jails of the United States.

But for that, he told the Soviet Communist party's 21st congress, there would be a bigger American representation in Moscow for congress sessions.

Jackson praised Premier Khrushchev's seven-year plan in an address. He drew applause by saying in Russian: "Long live peace, long live communism." These were the concluding words of a message to the congress from the U.S. party's National Committee.

Jackson told the gathering "If President Eisenhower could say, as Khrushchev did in his report (on Russia), that in the United States there is not a single political prisoner, then many leaders of the Communist and workers movement in the United States would be able to be present here and to greet the delegates of the congress."

(Jackson, 43, of Brooklyn, was among six Communist leaders who won reversal last Aug. 4 of convictions under the Smith Act of conspiring to teach and advocate the forcible overthrow of the U.S. government. A New York federal appeals court held there was no proof they taught revolutionary deeds—beyond mere theory. The reversal nullified prison sentences of from one to five years.)

Jackson told the congress that implementation of the seven-year plan will boost the U.S.S.R. "to a height unattainable in the capitalist world."

No Disorder As Schools Integrated

Few White Pupils Quit Classes As 21 Negroes Admitted

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Virginia glumly gave way to racial integration Monday and hesitantly took 21 Negro children into seven white schools.

The Negro pupils came and went unmolested at schools in Norfolk and Arlington County. In each community, a few white children refused to attend school with them, picked up their books and left.

Special police details turned out to maintain order. But they didn't have to work at it. There were no commotions, serious incidents or even any cat-calls—only the usual loud chatter of bubbling teen-agers.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said in Washington that President Eisenhower had been following the integration process in Virginia quite closely and "thinks it is a fine thing that it has been orderly."

Arlington school officials reported after classes were over for the day that an anonymous telephone call, apparently from a woman, had come through about noon saying a bomb had been planted in Stratford Junior High and timed to go off at 1:30 p. m.

A quick search turned up nothing. In the belief the call was a hoax, authorities ruled out evacuating the building.

Firecrackers Explode

Firecrackers flipped out a window were the nearest thing to a bombing. Three white boys were sent home for that. A white girl was sent home, too, for uncomplimentary remarks about the school principal.

Between the white pupils and handful of Negroes who joined them there apparently was a minimum of ill-will.

Yet it was with grimness and discontent that the Old Dominion watched the ancient ramparts of segregation start tumbling down in a state which once paced the Southland in massive resistance to the mixing of races in the schools.

Through the gaps 17 Negro youngsters filed into six junior and senior high schools in Norfolk, the state's largest city. Another four entered Stratford Junior High in Arlington County, a prosperous suburb of Washington.

So, for the first time in Virginia's history, Negroes and whites began attending public schools together, limited though the scale of integration might be at the outset.

"Black Day," Delegate Says

"This," said Del. Sam E. Pope, "is one of the blackest days Virginia has faced since reconstruction."

"The rape of our constitutional rights is an accomplished fact," said Sen. Mills E. Godwin," also from the southside, the area most heavily populated with Negroes.

Segregationists in the Legislature still hunted hopefully, but with slim chances of success, for some new device to bring integration to a halt. One rallying point, a new school closure bill, was defeated in the Senate.

Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. and legislators alike voiced gratification that the transition to integration was peaceful at Norfolk and Arlington. That was just what school and community authorities had predicted—with crossed fingers.

Both at Norfolk and in Arlington, 200 miles to the north, extra police were on duty just in case. But both inside and outside the buildings no violence or even unpleasantness were reported.

The Negro newcomers offered no complaints at their treatment. Demonstrations against them were lacking, even through comaraderie was lacking too.

Eisenhower Heads South Tomorrow

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower plans to leave Wednesday for a vacation of quail shooting and golf at Thomasville, Ga. He will stay five or six days.

In announcing the President's departure plans Monday, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower will hold a news conference at 10 a.m., EST, Wednesday in advance of leaving aboard his private plane, Columbine III.

At Thomasville the President will be the guest of George M. Humphrey, former secretary of the treasury.

Md. House Approves Employer Tax Plan

Kimble Proposes Idle Benefit Changes

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—The House of Delegates approved Monday night an emergency move to ward off a heavy tax increase facing employers because of the industrial recession.

Simultaneously, the Maryland Legislature received a new batch of bills pertaining to jobless benefits. They aren't expected to be given as easy a ride through the Legislature as the proposed new tax formula.

Among the 10 new proposals received from the Department of Employment Security are changes in amount of salary to be taxed, the maximum weekly benefit from $35 to $40, the maximum time they may be received from 26 to 30 weeks, and payments allowed dependents.

Robert B. Kimble, director of employment security, purposely kept such changes separate from his one to revise the employer tax which finances the weekly benefits to those out of work.

He termed the tax measure urgent and necessary even if his other proposed changes were rejected by the Legislature.

The House reacted as he expected and sent the new tax program sailing over to the Senate four days after hearing Kimble explain it.

It will prevent nearly half of the employers in the state from paying the maximum tax rate of 2.7 per cent although they are entitled to a rating of .3.

The rating is based on the past experience of employers in the turnover of their labor force.

However, under the present formula all must pay the maximum rate if the reserve trust fund falls below a certain point. It went under the first of year because of the heavy drain caused by the continued high rate of unemployment last year.

The new rate formula passed by the House would require all employers to pay higher taxes, but not as drastic as provided for by the present system. For example, an employer with a rating of .3 would pay 1.4 instead of 2.7.

Kimble claims this will permit the state to continue to provide the scheduled jobless benefits and at the time assure the trust fund remaining at an adequate level for a year. He plans to have a permanent readjustment for recommendation next year.

He may be getting into a touchy legislative area in his recommendation to eliminate weekly allowances for the dependents of those receiving jobless pay.

The jobless now receive $2 for each child under 16 years of age up to four.

Extension of the maximum time for the jobless to receive benefits to 20 weeks also may spark controversy. The limit was extended temporarily last year to 39 weeks to cope with the recession.

Another likely subject for sharp debate between management and labor is on a recommendation to change the language of the law providing jobless pay for workers involuntarily unemployed.

The law now disqualifies them when their unemployment is due to a stoppage of work caused by a labor dispute. Kimble is recommending that this be clearly due to a strike or refusal to work.

The Senate rapidly enacted three bills and passed 27 others to the House, but virtually all were local.

Federal Milk Price Control Plan Attacked

BALTIMORE (AP)—A proposal to regulate wholesale milk prices in Maryland by federal order was attacked Monday as a plan that could keep lower priced milk out of the state.

A chief backer of the control plan acknowledged it could lead to higher milk prices to the consumer.

The proposal of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers Inc. is to establish a minimum wholesale price for milk over a wide area of Maryland.

The cooperative has said a federal marketing order is needed "to stabilize wholesale milk prices paid to dairy farmers."

At the opening session of a hearing before a federal examiner, Sidney Berde, assistant attorney general of Minnesota, was the main opposition witness.

He said a marketing order would "insulate the (Baltimore area) market from competition."

It would also serve, he said, as an effective barrier to milk from outside the marketing area.

Berde contended "marketing conditions in the area do not justify" such an order. His state opposes it, he said, because it would be discriminatory, would tend to discourage technological research in the milk field and encourage uneconomic production.

Other opponents, some representing dairies from nearby states, including Pennsylvania, are to be heard later.

The milk cooperative said it would develop in later testimony why it believes a marketing order is needed.

It wants to set the price dairies pay to farmers at $5.70 per hundredweight for much of the year. A hundredweight is about 10 gallons. The price would be pegged at $5.10 in April, May and June, if an order is finally issued.

W.P.Sadler, secretary-treasurer of the cooperative, who was on the stand most of the first day, said the wholesale price could be pegged without necessarily bringing a price boost in the "home delivered, single quart container price of 27 cents per quart . . . which is generally charged in Baltimore."

He indicated, under cross examination, other retail milk prices might be upped by some dealers.

Under a federal order dairies would be required to pay minimum prices announced monthly by a federal administrator. This method sets the wholesale price. The retail price is set by distributing dairies.

The order sought would affect Baltimore City, Harford, Baltimore, Carroll, Howard, Anne Arundel, Cecil, Kent, Queen Annes, Talbot, Caroline, Dorchester, Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset Counties and parts of Frederick, Washington and Prince Georges Counties.

Tawes Studies Bill To Ratify River Compact

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes met late Monday with the attorney general to go over details of a bill to ratify a proposed new Potomac River Compact between Maryland and Virginia.

The governor said, however, that there would be no formal action toward ratification by this state until he can discuss the pact with legislative leaders and the Maryland commission which helped draft it.

He plans to hold this meeting after the bill is introduced later this week. The conference apparently will determine whether Maryland should propose any changes in the compact and what form they should take.

Virginia's Legislature has already approved the proposal, which calls for a bi-state agency to administer fishing laws on the river owned by Maryland to the low-water mark on the Virginia shore.

Virginia leaders have indicated they'll resist any efforts to make substantial changes in it.

Ratification by both states is necessary for the agreement to take effect.

The compact was drafted by five-man commissions from Virginia and Maryland to replace a 1785 compact, which the 1957 land Legislature sought to abrogate. Virginia challenged the action in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Tawes, who took office Jan. 14, requested Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. last Friday to slow down Virginia ratification of the compact until he had a chance to study it further.

The bill had already passed the Virginia House and had gone to the Senate when Tawes telephoned Almond Friday with a request to defer action.

Almond said in a telegram to Tawes later that "the Senate leadership felt action should be completed" and that he concurred.

"May I express the hope that our action will in nowise impede or embarrass you or your Legislature," Almond said.

Tawes replied Monday that his request for Virginia to defer decision was "to assure uniformity of action between the two states in the event amendment is required."

If the two Legislatures don't come to an agreement on the proposed new compact, Virginia will be free to go ahead with its Supreme Court challenge of Maryland's attempt to abrogate the old pact.

Motherwell Case Handed To Grand Jury

FREDERICK (AP) — The Frederick County grand jury was ordered Monday to meet in special session Friday to consider charges against Larry Lord Motherwell in the death of his abnormal baby daughter.

State's Atty. Edwin F. Nikirk requested the special session of the September grand jury. The jury was ordered by Circuit Judges Thomas M. Anderson and Kathryn Lawler, sitting in Rockville, Md., to meet Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Motherwell's attorney, John P. Reges of Washington, asked Sheriff Horace M. Alexander to request a preliminary hearing Tuesday for the former construction worker.

However, Nikirk said later the hearing could not possibly be held that early because the state would not have sufficient time to prepare its case.

The 42-year-old Motherwell was charged with first degree murder Jan. 21 a few days after he was arrested in Las Vegas for failing to register as an ex-convict.

His arrest ended an intensive manhunt that began with the disappearance of 71-year-old Mrs. Pearl Putney, a wealthy Washington widow. She is still missing.

Frederick County authorities brought Motherwell back here Jan. 27 to face the charge of causing the death of his 14-month-old baby June 20, 1954. He was ordered held without bail in the county jail.

The child's body was exhumed on the property of a suburban Frederick farm last Nov. 19. Police quoted Motherwell as saying the baby suffocated while he was taking a shower.

Policeman Dragged By Suspect's Car

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — A Montgomery County policeman was hurt Sunday night trying to make an arrest.

Pvts. Marvin R. Gullick and Charles Wolfe were called to a Seven Locks Road address to answer a complaint that a man had a gun. Sgt. Byron Souder, who came in another police car, found William N. Martin, 61, of Bethesda in a car and removed a shotgun from it.

When Gullick and Wolfe tried to seize Martin, Police said Martin, drove off, dragging Gullick along the side of the car before he fell.

Police said Gullick and Wolfe fired several shots at the Martin car. Martin was caught after a high speed chase along Bradley Blvd., which ended when his car hit a guard post. Martin was hurt when thrown from the car.

Both Gullick and Martin were in a hospital here Monday but neither was seriously injured. Police said Martin was charged with assaulting an officer.

Police Report Clears Officers Of Charges In Negro's Arrest

BALTIMORE (AP) — A special police report was sent to Chief Inspector Oscar L. Lusby Monday clearing officers of charges of unfair treatment in the arrest of a 36-year-old auto mechanic.

The Negro mechanic, Harold V. Holden was charged with 17 traffice violations within a few minutes, but all were dismissed by Magistrate Thomas F. Dempsey last week.

Lusby said he would review all the reports submitted before discussing the case.

Meanwhile, Holden has been summoned to a hearing Friday before a Department of Motor Vehicles license reviewer.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner James B. Monroe said the summons was issued "in order that we might determine whether under all the facts before the reviewer he (Holden) is 'an unfit and unsafe' person to hold a license to operate a motor vehicle."

The report submitted Monday by Captain of Detectives George H. Mintiens said Holden was present in Traffic Court when his attorney asked for a second postponement of the case on grounds that his client "had been injured while at work and was not present in the courtroom."

The report added that at the time of this request, on Dec. 23, one of the arresting officers pointed to Holden in the courtroom. Magistrate Henry Miller granted the postponement anyway, the statement declared.

Then, last week, Chief Magistrate Dempsey dismissed all 17 charges against Holden. The magistrate has been asked by Gov. Tawes to submit a report on the case.

The police department investigation stemmed from a statement by Stanley L. Scherr, defense attorney, that Holden's arrest last Dec. 1 was "another example of irresponsibility on behalf of police officers."

In reply, the Mintiens report denied that Holden had been called "nigger" by police officers. The report added that Holden was taken into custody instead of being given a summons because police wanted to make certain he was not wanted for any other violations or crimes.

Mysterious Phone Solicitor Sought

BALTIMORE (AP) — A tombstone salesman called on Mrs. Marie Bruff. Then a monkey arrived at her door.

Along came a taxicab and packages of drugs and liquors.

Police Seize 34 In Raid On Club

RIVERDALE, Md. (AP) — Prince Georges County Police seized 34 persons Sunday in an early morning raid on what police described as a private after-hours drinking and gambling club in the 6300 block of Good Luck Road.

About 28 policemen in 10 cars surrounded the three-story building.

Detective Sgt. George E. Clements said four men were charged with operating the business, known as the Olympic Fight and Sports Club and 30 others posted $13.50 each for disorderly conduct.

Allis-Chalmers Workers Strike At Eight Plants

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Nearly 14,000 United Auto Workers at eight plants across the nation went on a "no violence" strike against Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. Monday.

The strike began after failure of last ditch efforts to hammer out a new contract and to stave off the fourth strike against the heavy equipment manufacturer since 1939.

At the end of negotiations, the two sides were still snarled over the issue whether to write a master contract covering all the plants or separate agreements for each factory.

The 7,000 workers at the Milwaukee West Allis works walked off shortly after 11 a.m. and went immediately to a mass meeting, where they were told the UAW is prepared financially for a strike of any duration.

Injured Actress Flown To U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Audrey Hepburn, her back fractured, flew here from Mexico Monday. As she was carried from an ambulance plane, smiling and waving, she said:

"I feel fine, just fine. I'm perfectly all right."

Her husband, actor Mel Ferrer, who accompanied her on the seven-hour flight from Durango, said she suffered fractures of two and possibly four lower vertebrae when thrown from a horse in a movie scene last Wednesday.

"It wasn't the horse's fault," Miss Hepburn insisted cheerily. "It was just an accident."

"I think she'll walk in three weeks," Ferrer told newsmen. "There's no danger of paralysis."

He said his wife, wearing "no tape, no bandage, nothing" on her injured back, stood the 1,200-mile flight well although air turbulence caused her "a little pain."

The rating is based on the past experience of employers in the turnover of their labor force.

However, under the present formula all must pay the maximum rate if the reserve trust fund falls below a certain point. It went under the first of year because of the heavy drain caused by the continued high rate of unemployment last year.

The new rate formula passed by the House would require all employers to pay higher taxes, but not as drastic as provided for by the present system. For example, an employer with a rating of .3 would pay 1.4 instead of 2.7.

Kimble claims this will permit the state to continue to provide the scheduled jobless benefits and at the time assure the trust fund remaining at an adequate level for a year. He plans to have a permanent readjustment for recommendation next year.

He may be getting into a touchy legislative area in his recommendation to eliminate weekly allowances for the dependents of those receiving jobless pay.

The jobless now receive $2 for each child under 16 years of age up to four.

Extension of the maximum time for the jobless to receive benefits to 20 weeks also may spark controversy. The limit was extended temporarily last year to 39 weeks to cope with the recession.

Another likely subject for sharp debate between management and labor is on a recommendation to change the language of the law providing jobless pay for workers involuntarily unemployed.

The law now disqualifies them when their unemployment is due to a stoppage of work caused by a labor dispute. Kimble is recommending that this be clearly due to a strike or refusal to work.

The Senate rapidly enacted three bills and passed 27 others to the House, but virtually all were local.

Federal Milk Price Control Plan Attacked

BALTIMORE (AP)—A proposal to regulate wholesale milk prices in Maryland by federal order was attacked Monday as a plan that could keep lower priced milk out of the state.

A chief backer of the control plan acknowledged it could lead to higher milk prices to the consumer.

The proposal of the Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers Inc. is to establish a minimum wholesale price for milk over a wide area of Maryland.

The cooperative has said a federal marketing order is needed "to stabilize wholesale milk prices paid to dairy farmers."

At the opening session of a hearing before a federal examiner, Sidney Berde, assistant attorney general of Minnesota, was the main opposition witness.

He said a marketing order would "insulate the (Baltimore area) market from competition."

It would also serve, he said, as an effective barrier to milk from outside the marketing area.

Berde contended "marketing conditions in the area do not justify" such an order. His state opposes it, he said, because it would be discriminatory, would tend to discourage technological research in the milk field and encourage uneconomic production.

Other opponents, some representing dairies from nearby states, including Pennsylvania, are to be heard later.

The milk cooperative said it would develop in later testimony why it believes a marketing order is needed.

It wants to set the price dairies pay to farmers at $5.70 per hundredweight for much of the year. A hundredweight is about 10 gallons. The price would be pegged at $5.10 in April, May and June, if an order is finally issued.

W.P.Sadler, secretary-treasurer of the cooperative, who was on the stand most of the first day, said the wholesale price could be pegged without necessarily bringing a price boost in the "home delivered, single quart container price of 27 cents per quart . . . which is generally charged in Baltimore."

He indicated, under cross examination, other retail milk prices might be upped by some dealers.

Under a federal order dairies would be required to pay minimum prices announced monthly by a federal administrator. This method sets the wholesale price. The retail price is set by distributing dairies.

The order sought would affect Baltimore City, Harford, Baltimore, Carroll, Howard, Anne Arundel, Cecil, Kent, Queen Annes, Talbot, Caroline, Dorchester, Wicomico, Worcester and Somerset Counties and parts of Frederick, Washington and Prince Georges Counties.

Tawes Studies Bill To Ratify River Compact

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes met late Monday with the attorney general to go over details of a bill to ratify a proposed new Potomac River Compact between Maryland and Virginia.

The governor said, however, that there would be no formal action toward ratification by this state until he can discuss the pact with legislative leaders and the Maryland commission which helped draft it.

He plans to hold this meeting after the bill is introduced later this week. The conference apparently will determine whether Maryland should propose any changes in the compact and what form they should take.

Virginia's Legislature has already approved the proposal, which calls for a bi-state agency to administer fishing laws on the river owned by Maryland to the low-water mark on the Virginia shore.

Virginia leaders have indicated they'll resist any efforts to make substantial changes in it.

Ratification by both states is necessary for the agreement to take effect.

The compact was drafted by five-man commissions from Virginia and Maryland to replace a 1785 compact, which the 1957 land Legislature sought to abrogate. Virginia challenged the action in the U. S. Supreme Court.

Tawes, who took office Jan. 14, requested Gov. J. Lindsay Almond Jr. last Friday to slow down Virginia ratification of the compact until he had a chance to study it further.

The bill had already passed the Virginia House and had gone to the Senate when Tawes telephoned Almond Friday with a request to defer action.

Almond said in a telegram to Tawes later that "the Senate leadership felt action should be completed" and that he concurred.

"May I express the hope that our action will in nowise impede or embarrass you or your Legislature," Almond said.

Tawes replied Monday that his request for Virginia to defer decision was "to assure uniformity of action between the two states in the event amendment is required."

If the two Legislatures don't come to an agreement on the proposed new compact, Virginia will be free to go ahead with its Supreme Court challenge of Maryland's attempt to abrogate the old pact.

Motherwell Case Handed To Grand Jury

FREDERICK (AP) — The Frederick County grand jury was ordered Monday to meet in special session Friday to consider charges against Larry Lord Motherwell in the death of his abnormal baby daughter.

State's Atty. Edwin F. Nikirk requested the special session of the September grand jury. The jury was ordered by Circuit Judges Thomas M. Anderson and Kathryn Lawler, sitting in Rockville, Md., to meet Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Motherwell's attorney, John P. Reges of Washington, asked Sheriff Horace M. Alexander to request a preliminary hearing Tuesday for the former construction worker.

However, Nikirk said later the hearing could not possibly be held that early because the state would not have sufficient time to prepare its case.

The 42-year-old Motherwell was charged with first degree murder Jan. 21 a few days after he was arrested in Las Vegas for failing to register as an ex-convict.

His arrest ended an intensive manhunt that began with the disappearance of 71-year-old Mrs. Pearl Putney, a wealthy Washington widow. She is still missing.

Frederick County authorities brought Motherwell back here Jan. 27 to face the charge of causing the death of his 14-month-old baby June 20, 1954. He was ordered held without bail in the county jail.

The child's body was exhumed on the property of a suburban Frederick farm last Nov. 19. Police quoted Motherwell as saying the baby suffocated while he was taking a shower.

Policeman Dragged By Suspect's Car

BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — A Montgomery County policeman was hurt Sunday night trying to make an arrest.

Pvts. Marvin R. Gullick and Charles Wolfe were called to a Seven Locks Road address to answer a complaint that a man had a gun. Sgt. Byron Souder, who came in another police car, found William N. Martin, 61, of Bethesda in a car and removed a shotgun from it.

When Gullick and Wolfe tried to seize Martin, Police said Martin drove off, dragging Gullick along the side of the car before he fell.

Police said Gullick and Wolfe fired several shots at the Martin car. Martin was caught after a high speed chase along Bradley Blvd., which ended when his car hit a guard post. Martin was hurt when thrown from the car.

Both Gullick and Martin were in a hospital here Monday but neither was seriously injured. Police said Martin was charged with assaulting an officer.

Police Report Clears Officers Of Charges In Negro's Arrest

BALTIMORE (AP) — A special police report was sent to Chief Inspector Oscar L. Lusby Monday clearing officers of charges of unfair treatment in the arrest of a 36-year-old auto mechanic.

The Negro mechanic, Harold V. Holden was charged with 17 traffice violations within a few minutes, but all were dismissed by Magistrate Thomas F. Dempsey last week.

Lusby said he would review all the reports submitted before discussing the case.

Meanwhile, Holden has been summoned to a hearing Friday before a Department of Motor Vehicles license reviewer.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner James B. Monroe said the summons was issued "in order that we might determine whether under all the facts before the reviewer he (Holden) is 'an unfit and unsafe' person to hold a license to operate a motor vehicle."

The report submitted Monday by Captain of Detectives George H. Mintiens said Holden was present in Traffic Court when his attorney asked for a second postponement of the case on grounds that his client "had been injured while at work and was not present in the courtroom."

The report added that at the time of this request, on Dec. 23, one of the arresting officers pointed to Holden in the courtroom. Magistrate Henry Miller granted the postponement anyway, the statement declared.

Then, last week, Chief Magistrate Dempsey dismissed all 17 charges against Holden. The magistrate has been asked by Gov. Tawes to submit a report on the case.

The police department investigation stemmed from a statement by Stanley L. Scherr, defense attorney, that Holden's arrest last Dec. 1 was "another example of irresponsibility on behalf of police officers."

In reply, the Mintiens report denied that Holden had been called "nigger" by police officers. The report added that Holden was taken into custody instead of being given a summons because police wanted to make certain he was not wanted for any other violations or crimes.

Mysterious Phone Solicitor Sought

BALTIMORE (AP) — A tombstone salesman called on Mrs. Marie Bruff. Then a monkey arrived at her door.

Along came a taxicab and packages of drugs and liquors.

Allis-Chalmers Workers Strike At Eight Plants

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) — Nearly 14,000 United Auto Workers at eight plants across the nation went on a "no violence" strike against Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. Monday.

The strike began after failure of last ditch efforts to hammer out a new contract and to stave off the fourth strike against the heavy equipment manufacturer since 1939.

At the end of negotiations, the two sides were still snarled over the issue whether to write a master contract covering all the plants or separate agreements for each factory.

The 7,000 workers at the Milwaukee West Allis works walked off shortly after 11 a.m. and went immediately to a mass meeting, where they were told the UAW is prepared financially for a strike of any duration.

Police Seize 34 In Raid On Club

RIVERDALE, Md. (AP) — Prince Georges County Police seized 34 persons Sunday in an early morning raid on what police described as a private after-hours drinking and gambling club in the 6300 block of Good Luck Road.

About 28 policemen in 10 cars surrounded the three-story building.

Detective Sgt. George E. Clements said four men were charged with operating the business, known as the Olympic Fight and Sports Club and 30 others posted $13.50 each for disorderly conduct.

Injured Actress Flown To U. S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actress Audrey Hepburn, her back fractured, flew here from Mexico Monday. As she was carried from an ambulance plane, smiling and waving, she said:

"I feel fine, just fine. I'm perfectly all right."

Her husband, actor Mel Ferrer, who accompanied her on the seven-hour flight from Durango, said she suffered fractures of two and possibly four lower vertebrae when thrown from a horse in a movie scene last Wednesday.

"It wasn't the horse's fault," Miss Hepburn insisted cheerily. "It was just an accident."

"I think she'll walk in three weeks," Ferrer told newsmen. "There's no danger of paralysis."

Woman's Body Found Along Va. Highway

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — The body of an unidentified white woman — apparently a hit-and-run victim — was found alongside Lee Highway north of Fairfax Circle Monday.

Police said the woman, who appeared to be about 50, wore a white waitress-type dress, had auburn hair and was about 5 feet 2.

Her upper and lower dentures were found on the road; her horn-rimmed glasses shattered. Her shoes were found about 60 feet apart. Police said what appeared to be an auto headlight lens also was found.

Deep Creek Safety Strip Must Be Kept Cleared

OAKLAND — Deep Creek Lake property owners are receiving official notices from the Pennsylvania Electric Company declaring that structures of a permanent nature re not allowed on the firm's safety strip.

It came to the attention of the company recently that a number of such structures had already been erected on the safety strip by various lot owners.

There was a conference held several weeks ago by company officials and members of the Board of Forests and Parks. The latter had constructed stone barriers off the shore of Deep Creek State Park on the Meadow Mountain inlet and maintained they were for the protection of the swimmers against motor boats.

The electric company is now in the process of sending out statements for the renewal of privilege permits for the coming year. With the statement is a letter declaring "It is with the understanding that the renewal is subject to cancellation for failure to remove any encroaching structures which may have been placed on the safety strip adjoining the properties."

The letter also added: "If it is later discovered that any such encroachments are found to be on the safety strip adjoining your property, notice will be given you in accordance with the terms of the privilege permit and unless same are removed within the time allowed the privilege permit will be cancelled."

It was also indicated that strict compliance with the terms thereof would be expected and full cooperation appreciated. The letter was signed by E. L. Bussey, representing the production department.

7th Army Launches 'Exercise Free Play'

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) —The U.S. 7th Army's winter maneuvers began Monday with 50,000 troops engaged in a mock war less than 70 miles from the Iron Curtain.

Exercise Free Play got under way at dawn with "aggressor" forces dashing westward across an imaginary border between Nuernberg and Regensburg. They were met by a screening force whose mission was to execute "maximum delaying action."

Maneuver officers reported that all-day attacks had achieved one breakthrough which was contained by friendly reserves.

General officers from 16 nations are watching the 10-day exercise.

Visit G. H. Q. for income number two

If you want to know more about a second income—an additional check over and above your regular take-home pay—don't delay. Go straight to headquarters!

Headquarters for a second income is any Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Here's a first-rate source for the help you need to go after extra income through sensible investment in stocks and bonds. Specifically . . .

Headquarters For Advice

Before you make any important purchase, you probably like to ask the opinion of someone who knows his business. For investing, too, there's no substitute for good advice. And there's an easy way to get it. Drop in at headquarters (a Member Firm, remember) and talk with a Registered Representative or Partner. He (or possibly she) has measured up to the Exchange's standards of knowledge and experience—and can be of real help to you.

Be frank. Discuss your financial situation and objectives with him. Invest only money left over after paying your bills and putting something aside for emergencies. Then let him help you work out an investment plan—whether in stocks or bonds or both—for your particular needs and pocketbook. He does it all the time—with all kinds of people.

Headquarters For Facts

In addition to getting qualified advice on any major purchase, you undoubtedly look it over pretty carefully yourself. It's not too different with a security. Tips and rumors are undependable. Stock and bond prices go down as well as up—and a company may not make a profit, may not pay interest or a dividend.

So you need facts. And a Registered Representative has a great deal of information. Member Firms, all told, spend millions of dollars for research about companies and securities. Study the facts a Registered Representative will give you . . . evaluate them with him . . . and you've taken another big step along the road to a second income.

Headquarters For Service

Let's assume that you've decided to buy some stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Once you've told the Registered Representative what and how much, you place your order and your Member Firm sends it promptly to its representative on the floor of the Exchange. That's the nation's market place where orders to buy or sell securities come together from investors all over the country. There, your Member Firm's man finds a seller and your order is executed, usually in minutes.

That's all there is to it. You'll be one of many part-owners of a company. If things go well, you can share in its profits—and in its growth. All you pay for the experienced service of a Member Firm is a modest commission on what you buy and sell. And, from time to time you can (and should) ask your Registered Representative to review your securities with you.

There's something you can do right now about getting that second income. Visit a G.H.Q. for investing. Ask a Member Firm for a free copy of our helpful booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." It gives the records of some 365 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to more than 100 years. It contains much more worthwhile information—including a description of the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can systematically acquire stock on the New York Stock Exchange for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month. Woman's Body Found Along Va. Highway

FAIRFAX, Va. (AP) — The body of an unidentified white woman — apparently a hit-and-run victim — was found alongside Lee Highway north of Fairfax Circle Monday.

Police said the woman, who appeared to be about 50, wore a white waitress-type dress, had auburn hair and was about 5 feet 2.

Her upper and lower dentures were found on the road; her horn-rimmed glasses shattered. Her shoes were found about 60 feet apart. Police said what appeared to be an auto headlight lens also was found.

Deep Creek Safety Strip Must Be Kept Cleared

OAKLAND — Deep Creek Lake property owners are receiving official notices from the Pennsylvania Electric Company declaring that structures of a permanent nature re not allowed on the firm's safety strip.

It came to the attention of the company recently that a number of such structures had already been erected on the safety strip by various lot owners.

There was a conference held several weeks ago by company officials and members of the Board of Forests and Parks. The latter had constructed stone barriers off the shore of Deep Creek State Park on the Meadow Mountain inlet and maintained they were for the protection of the swimmers against motor boats.

The electric company is now in the process of sending out statements for the renewal of privilege permits for the coming year. With the statement is a letter declaring "It is with the understanding that the renewal is subject to cancellation for failure to remove any encroaching structures which may have been placed on the safety strip adjoining the properties."

The letter also added: "If it is later discovered that any such encroachments are found to be on the safety strip adjoining your property, notice will be given you in accordance with the terms of the privilege permit and unless same are removed within the time allowed the privilege permit will be cancelled."

It was also indicated that strict compliance with the terms thereof would be expected and full cooperation appreciated. The letter was signed by E. L. Bussey, representing the production department.

7th Army Launches 'Exercise Free Play'

NUERNBERG, Germany (AP) —The U.S. 7th Army's winter maneuvers began Monday with 50,000 troops engaged in a mock war less than 70 miles from the Iron Curtain.

Exercise Free Play got under way at dawn with "aggressor" forces dashing westward across an imaginary border between Nuernberg and Regensburg. They were met by a screening force whose mission was to execute "maximum delaying action."

Maneuver officers reported that all-day attacks had achieved one breakthrough which was contained by friendly reserves.

General officers from 16 nations are watching the 10-day exercise.

Visit G. H. Q. for income number two

If you want to know more about a second income—an additional check over and above your regular take-home pay—don't delay. Go straight to headquarters!

Headquarters for a second income is any Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Here's a first-rate source for the help you need to go after extra income through sensible investment in stocks and bonds. Specifically . . .

Headquarters For Advice

Before you make any important purchase, you probably like to ask the opinion of someone who knows his business. For investing, too, there's no substitute for good advice. And there's an easy way to get it. Drop in at headquarters (a Member Firm, remember) and talk with a Registered Representative or Partner. He (or possibly she) has measured up to the Exchange's standards of knowledge and experience—and can be of real help to you.

Be frank. Discuss your financial situation and objectives with him. Invest only money left over after paying your bills and putting something aside for emergencies. Then let him help you work out an investment plan—whether in stocks or bonds or both—for your particular needs and pocketbook. He does it all the time—with all kinds of people.

Headquarters For Facts

In addition to getting qualified advice on any major purchase, you undoubtedly look it over pretty carefully yourself. It's not too different with a security. Tips and rumors are undependable. Stock and bond prices go down as well as up—and a company may not make a profit, may not pay interest or a dividend.

So you need facts. And a Registered Representative has a great deal of information. Member Firms, all told, spend millions of dollars for research about companies and securities. Study the facts a Registered Representative will give you . . . evaluate them with him . . . and you've taken another big step along the road to a second income.

Headquarters For Service

Let's assume that you've decided to buy some stock listed on the New York Stock Exchange. Once you've told the Registered Representative what and how much, you place your order and your Member Firm sends it promptly to its representative on the floor of the Exchange. That's the nation's market place where orders to buy or sell securities come together from investors all over the country. There, your Member Firm's man finds a seller and your order is executed, usually in minutes.

That's all there is to it. You'll be one of many part-owners of a company. If things go well, you can share in its profits—and in its growth. All you pay for the experienced service of a Member Firm is a modest commission on what you buy and sell. And, from time to time you can (and should) ask your Registered Representative to review your securities with you.

There's something you can do right now about getting that second income. Visit a G.H.Q. for investing. Ask a Member Firm for a free copy of our helpful booklet, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." It gives the records of some 365 stocks on the New York Stock Exchange that have paid a cash dividend every year from 25 to more than 100 years. It contains much more worthwhile information—including a description of the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can systematically acquire stock on the New York Stock Exchange for as little as $40 every three months up to $1000 a month. Or, send the coupon below.

List Released For Assistant Engineer Post

The Civil Service Commission yesterday released an eligible list for assistant city engineer as the result of examinations conducted last week.

Listed in the report to the Mayor and Council in the order of their grades are the following: Franklin J. Blaney, Wadsworth, Ohio; William H. Blackham, Morehead, Ky.; Edward H. Small Jr., Augusta, Maine, and Richard B. North, Cumberland.

It was pointed out that Blaney and Small had received a veteran's rating by the commission in arriving at their final score.

At the request of the Commission, the Mayor and Council set Friday, February 13 as the date for interviews for three of the applicants. Blaney was here last week and met with city officials.

Names of the engineer applicants were ordered posted by council.

In appointive action yesterday, council named James F. Twigg, who has been acting in that capacity, as chief clerk in the Water Department. Twigg was certified in Civil Service examinations last week. The appointment is effective at once and the salary will be $365 a month.

Mary Lou Arnone, also certified in the examinations, was named as clerk-typist in the Water Department at a salary of $212 a month.

City To Buy Two Vehicles

Street Commissioner John J. Long was authorized by the Mayor and Council yesterday to ask bids on a truck for the sewer department and a tractor for the flood maintenance crew and Street Department.

Long was also authorized to ask bids on repairs and painting exterior woodwork of City Hall.

On other matters, Long told council that Lt. Raymond Johnston and Street Superintendent Andrew Heller are to meet this week to work out a schedule of streets and parking regulations so the street sweeper can be put into operation to improve a street cleaning problem.

He also said his department is considering a standardization move of equipment. For example, he said the city has many types of trucks and the different types of replacement parts needed make repairs costly.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said she is also planning to ask informal bids on heating oil used by the city. About 18,900 gallons are used annually.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Truss

No Charge For It Now or Ever

Kansas City, Mo.—A doctor's invention for reducible rupture is proving so successful, an offer is now being made to give everyone who will test it a $3.50 truss at no cost. This invention has no leg straps, no elastic belts, or leather bands. It holds rupture up and in. Is comfortable and easy to wear. After using it many report entire satisfaction. Any reader of this paper may test the doctor's invention for 30 days and receive the separate $3.50 truss at no cost. If you are not entirely satisfied with the invention—return it, but be sure to keep the $3.50 truss for your trouble. If you are ruptured just write the Physician's Appliance Co., 6177 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., for their trial offer.

Airline To Halt Service Here; City Files Appeal

Allegheny Airlines said yesterday it will suspend service to Cumberland after February 10 and the city immediately appealed to the Civil Aeronautics Board to order service continued until after a hearing is held on petitions pending before the CAB.

Allegheny is operating on a temporary certificate which expires February 10 and the city has been joined by the Chamber of Commerce and State Aviation Commission in a petition to make local services by the airline permanent.

The petition has been docketed by the CAB for a hearing but no date has been set.

Allegheny notified the Mayor and Council yesterday that it planned to suspend service when its temporary certificate expired. The city's leter to the CAB asking the continuance order was dispatched within the hour.

Allegheny sent a copy of its letter to Rudolph Drennan, head of the State Aviation Commission.

The Allegheny move came as a surprise to the city. Solicitor William R. Carscaden said the city had understood Allegheny would continue service until a decision was announced after the hearing.

The CAB began investigating the need for local air service last week as a preliminary to the hearing on the city and Allegheny petitions hearing.

Students Hurt When School Bus Hits Truck

Two Valley High School students were hospitalized and four others injured yesterday when a Garrett County school bus with a frosty windshield smashed into the rear of a Garrett County Roads Department truck.

Admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg was Owen Crowe, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crowe, of Avilton, and Gladys Wilhelm, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm, also of Avilton.

The collision occurred on County Route 657 around 8:30 a. m. as the school bus was transporting students from Avilton to Valley High in Lonaconing.

Frank Robeson, driver of the bus said his windshield was continually icing up due to this morning's low temperatures. Often he would stop to scrape it and was about to do so again when he rammed into the rear of the truck, police said.

Robeson was coming down the steep mountain side which leads into Lonaconing.

Neither Robeson nor any workers on the truck were injured.

Treated at Miners Hospital and released were Catherine Wilhelm, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm; Delores Garlitz, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garlitz; Jackson Green, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Green, and Delores Broadwater, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Broadwater, all of Avilton.

Hospital attaches said Gladys Wilhelm sustained chest and leg injuries, while the Crowe youth suffered back injuries.

Ralph Swauger, director of the Maryland Forestry Camp near Lonaconing took the students to school from where they were transported to the hospital.

Attaches said all six were X-rayed.

UNDER SECRETARY DIES

MANILA (UPI) — Juan Alcazaren, 67, under secretary of foreign affairs, died of a heart attack Sunday.

Young Girl Injured On School Playground

Janet Bridges, nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bridges, RD 2, this city, was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital yesterday with a fractured arm.

Attaches said the child sustained the fracture while playing on the SS. Peter and Paul school yard.

RECEIVES CANDLES

VATICAN CITY (UPI) — Pope John XXIII received 260 richly-decorated candles Monday from heads of religious orders, institutes and churches in observance of Candlemas Day. Candlemas commemorates the day in which the Virgin Mary went to the temple of Jerusalem for ritual purification 40 days after childbirth, according to ancient Hebrew law.

Boy Scout Troop To Hold Dinner

Boy Scout Troop 23 sponsored by John Humbird School Parent-Teacher Association will hold its Scout Week dinner Thursday at 6 p. m. in the school auditorium.

The program will include the presentation of the unit's charter and also a court of honor for Scouts advancing in rank.

180 Licenses Issued

There were 180 marriage licenses issued at Allegany County Court House during January to match the number issued during the same month last year.

List Released For Assistant Engineer Post

The Civil Service Commission yesterday released an eligible list for assistant city engineer as the result of examinations conducted last week.

Listed in the report to the Mayor and Council in the order of their grades are the following: Franklin J. Blaney, Wadsworth, Ohio; William H. Blackham, Morehead, Ky.; Edward H. Small Jr., Augusta, Maine, and Richard B. North, Cumberland.

It was pointed out that Blaney and Small had received a veteran's rating by the commission in arriving at their final score.

At the request of the Commission, the Mayor and Council set Friday, February 13 as the date for interviews for three of the applicants. Blaney was here last week and met with city officials.

Names of the engineer applicants were ordered posted by council.

In appointive action yesterday, council named James F. Twigg, who has been acting in that capacity, as chief clerk in the Water Department. Twigg was certified in Civil Service examinations last week. The appointment is effective at once and the salary will be $365 a month.

Mary Lou Arnone, also certified in the examinations, was named as clerk-typist in the Water Department at a salary of $212 a month.

City To Buy Two Vehicles

Street Commissioner John J. Long was authorized by the Mayor and Council yesterday to ask bids on a truck for the sewer department and a tractor for the flood maintenance crew and Street Department.

Long was also authorized to ask bids on repairs and painting exterior woodwork of City Hall.

On other matters, Long told council that Lt. Raymond Johnston and Street Superintendent Andrew Heller are to meet this week to work out a schedule of streets and parking regulations so the street sweeper can be put into operation to improve a street cleaning problem.

He also said his department is considering a standardization move of equipment. For example, he said the city has many types of trucks and the different types of replacement parts needed make repairs costly.

Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said she is also planning to ask informal bids on heating oil used by the city. About 18,000 gallons are used annually.

Ruptured Men Get $3.50 Truss

No Charge For It Now or Ever

Kansas City, Mo.—A doctor's invention for reducible rupture is proving so successful, an offer is now being made to give everyone who will test it a $3.50 truss at no cost. This invention has no leg straps, no elastic belts, or leather bands. It holds rupture up and in. Is comfortable and easy to wear. After using it many report entire satisfaction. Any reader of this paper may test the doctor's invention for 30 days and receive the separate $3.50 truss at no cost. If you are not entirely satisfied with the invention—return it, but be sure to keep the $3.50 truss for your trouble. If you are ruptured just write the Physician's Appliance Co., 6177 Koch Bldg., 2906 Main St., Kansas City, Mo., for their trial offer.

Airline To Halt Service Here; City Files Appeal

Allegheny Airlines said yesterday it will suspend service to Cumberland after February 10 and the city immediately appealed to the Civil Aeronautics Board to order service continued until after a hearing is held on petitions pending before the CAB.

Allegheny is operating on a temporary certificate which expires February 10 and the city has been joined by the Chamber of Commerce and State Aviation Commission in a petition to make local services by the airline permanent.

The petition has been docketed by the CAB for a hearing but no date has been set.

Allegheny notified the Mayor and Council yesterday that it planned to suspend service when its temporary certificate expired. The city's leter to the CAB asking the continuance order was dispatched within the hour.

Allegheny sent a copy of its letter to Rudolph Drennan, head of the State Aviation Commission.

The Allegheny move came as a surprise to the city. Solicitor William R. Carscaden said the city had understood Allegheny would continue service until a decision was announced after the hearing.

The CAB began investigating the need for local air service last week as a preliminary to the hearing on the city and Allegheny petitions hearing.

Students Hurt When School Bus Hits Truck

Two Valley High School students were hospitalized and four others injured yesterday when a Garrett County school bus with a frosty windshield smashed into the rear of a Garrett County Roads Department truck.

Admitted to Miners Hospital in Frostburg was Owen Crowe, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Crowe, of Avilton, and Gladys Wilhelm, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm, also of Avilton.

The collision occurred on County Route 657 around 8:30 a. m. as the school bus was transporting students from Avilton to Valley High in Lonaconing.

Frank Robeson, driver of the bus said his windshield was continually icing up due to this morning's low temperatures. Often he would stop to scrape it and was about to do so again when he rammed into the rear of the truck, police said.

Robeson was coming down the steep mountain side which leads into Lonaconing.

Neither Robeson nor any workers on the truck were injured.

Treated at Miners Hospital and released were Catherine Wilhelm, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Wilhelm; Delores Garlitz, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garlitz; Jackson Green, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Green, and Delores Broadwater, 13, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Broadwater, all of Avilton.

Hospital attaches said Gladys Wilhelm sustained chest and leg injuries, while the Crowe youth suffered back injuries.

Ralph Swauger, director of the Maryland Forestry Camp near Lonaconing took the students to school from where they were transported to the hospital.

Attaches said all six were X-rayed.

Mayor And City Council Seek End To PPG Strike

The Mayor and Council yesterday urged "the speediest possible resolution of differences" which cause the strike at Pittsburgh Plate Company plants.

"Regardless of issues, regardless of the justice of the position of either management or labor and firmly believing that we can take neither side of this dispute, the Mayor and Council urges the speediest possible resolution of the differences which caused this strike.

"Cumberland can ill afford its continuance," the prepared council statement said.

Referring to newspaper reports which indicated the PPG labor negotiations have reached a crucial stage, council said the city has "a vital interest in the early solution of the problems confronting the industry and the union.

"The Mayor and Council has only one concern and one stake in the controversy — the effect of the continuance of this work stoppage on the whole of our community, both presently and over the long term. Since October 7, 1958, citizens of this community have lost many hundreds of thousands of dollars in payrolls. The economic loss to the employes here has been tremendous and we are aware of the personal problems they have encountered. The loss to the company has also been great. The indirect effects are far-reaching and immeasurably greater.

"We recognize that this is not only a local issue but involves many other plants in addition to that at Cumberland and that the problem cannot be solved entirely by Cumberland people. We do believe, however, that these Cumberland people, both in management and labor, can help in seeking a solution.

"The Mayor and City Council earnestly hope that our people will use their influence in working toward a prompt resumption of operations at Works 7. Both parties have agreed in principle to arbitrate the dispute and to be bound by the decision of an arbitration commission. It may be that this is now the best way to reach equitable decisions, fair to both sides, and permitting both to resolve the matter without undue delay. We urgently recommend to the officials of Works 7 and of Local 180 that they lend their support to any honorable and reasonable method of returning the employees to work.

"When Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company came to Cumberland a few years ago our city government and our people joined in assuring the company that this was a good place in which to work and to live. We believe this is true. We hope the company and the union will so act as to prove it true," the statement said.

Glass Union Issues Reply To CC Appeal

The executive board of Local 780, United Glass and Ceramic Workers, yesterday released an answer to the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce's observations on the three-month-old strike of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's plants and its local effects.

Charles O. Buskirk, president of the local, addressed this letter to "Members of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce:"

"Please be advised that the members of Local 180, United Glass and Ceramic Workers, are not interested in the expenditures of the Chamber of Commerce. We are aware that the amount you mention in your news release is infinitesimal compared to the amount spent by some business organizations to secure legislation which is detrimental to the welfare of hourly employes.

"You apparently were not worried about the future of Cumberland when the company's warehouses were full, enabling them to carry on business in a normal manner. Now that their warehouses are practically empty, you expect us to listen to the wolf cry.

"Certainly the lack of the Works 7 payroll has decreased the business for the merchants in this locality. Who couldn't use more money? We don't know of any assistance coming forth from your organization to help the hourly employes of Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company. We are certain your interest lies with the company, and that you would not make any move to assist the union in gaining equity for the company's men.

"This strike has also brought a burden upon the hourly employes at the local plant. We accept our burden of no money, now let the company accept theirs, no products.

"We are aware that this area was considered an economic distress area prior to the building of the glass plant but, if complete acquiesence by hourly employes is necessary in any industry to eliminate this condition, we would rather live in an economic distress area.

"If the Chamber of Commerce is short of money, they should not waste it by making appeals in behalf of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company.

"There shall be no settlement until the company ceases treating its employes as robots able to produce the finest glass product in the world and make the concessions to which we are entitled."

Elks Lodge Makes Plans For District Meet Here

Cumberland Lodge 63, BPO Elks, will be host to the Maryland-Delaware-District of Columbia State Elks Association next summer and the local steering committee mapped preliminary plans at a meeting at the lodge home Sunday.

Harry S. Tracy, general chairman, presided and James E. Yarnall, lodge secertary, was named convention secretary. Tracy also was chairman in 1950 when Cumberland was host to the state convention.

Dates for the conclave are July 30-31 and August 1-2 and it is planned to entertain 800 during the four days. Theme will be "For Your Best Time in '59. Come to Cumberland." Registration fee will be $3.50 a person and a pre-registration for local members will be conducted Wednesday night, July 29.

Tracy said invitations have been extended to Gov. J. Millard Tawes, Secretary of State Thomas B. Finan and U. S. Sen. J. Glenn Beall.

Members of the Steering group attending were John E. Mertens, exalted ruler, Yarnall, Joseph Bedinger, John M. Robb, John H. Mosner, E. A. Dashiell, Leslie Robertson, James E. Scott, Walter Fraley, Robert Dean, Paul Stakem, Joseph Stakem, Harry Thomas, George Zegles, Robert Moore, Bruce Mackey, Joseph E. Mackert, P. William Mackert, John Byrd, Jr., George A. Police Kept Busy With Car Theft Cases

Four stolen car cases kept State Police hustling over the weekend with three youths being arrested and three cars recovered in the process.

Trooper Harry J. Garcia had a busy time of it east of Cumberland on Route 40 by making three arrests.

Two boys, one 16 and the other 17, were nabbed in a stolen car last night on Town Hill Mountain. The boys stole the vehicle in Baltimore and were headed westward when Trooper Garcia apprehended them.

Both boys are being held in the detention quarters at the County Infirmary.

Late Saturday night Trooper Garcia took into custody an escapee from a medium security prison at Huttonsville, W. Va., after the prisoner had wrecked a car he had stolen.

The escapee, Robert William Johnson, 19, stole the car owned by Victor Price of Morgantown sometime earlier Saturday and while traveling east on Route 40 on Martins Mountain the machine was wrecked.

Johnson started to hitchhike and Trooper Garcia apprehended him on the eastern slope of the mountain. Johnson is being held in the County Jail for West Virginia authorities.

State Police also sent out an alarm for another car thief who is unidentified. A car owned by Donald Weimer, of Markleysburg, Pa., was stolen and found last night abandoned at Eckhart.

Police believe the thief who abandoned the stolen car then took the car of Ralph Pape of Eckhart and continued on his way. Pape's car is a 1954 Buick.

Work Slated This Week On New Church

Work on the construction of a new edifice for St. Luke's Lutheran Church will start Thursday, Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, announced yesterday.

Congregation officials yesterday signed the contract with the George F. Hazelwood Company, the prime contractor, and with two sub-contractors for the project that will cost over $400,000.

The church, the first of its kind in this area, will be of contemporary modern architectural design and will feature new concrete grid construction.

It will be erected in the 1600-block of Frederick Street and a spokesman for the Hazelwood firm said work will start Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Snyder said the Hazelwood contract is for $365,833. The Sterling Electric Company will do the wiring and electrical work while the Willets Stained Glass Study of Studio of Philadelphia will furnish the windows. Representatives of those two firms were on hand yesterday to sign contracts.

Others participating were Wilbur D. Sills, chairman of the congregation building committee, and Charles H. Smith, vice president of the church council.

Thruway Tax Survey Sought

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday supported a plan to reactivate the Municipal Planning Commission and also urged the Mayor and Council to make public estimates of cost and real estate to be removed from city tax rolls as a result of the Cumberland Thruway.

The Mayor and Council, at the suggestion of Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder, agreed to invite Robert C. Petersen, chamber manager, to meet with council and hear a review of thruway plans.

Originally, the letter from the Chamber Board of Directors said, the organization had opposed signing thruway contracts until cost and construction details were available. It added this request was "ignored."

The board said it wants to know the effect of the cost on the tax rate. Although contracts have been signed and some work started, the group said it still felt taxpayers should be informed as to the possible effects on city finances.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech, in commenting on the Planning Commission plan, said council also plans to hold a meeting with C of C officials on the matter. The chamber said reactivition of the commission is a necessary step in assuring methodical expansion of the area and improvement of facilities.

Work Slated This Week On New Church

Work on the construction of a new edifice for St. Luke's Lutheran Church will start Thursday, Rev. William R. Snyder, pastor, announced yesterday.

Congregation officials yesterday signed the contract with the George F. Hazelwood Company, the prime contractor, and with two sub-contractors for the project that will cost over $400,000.

The church, the first of its kind in this area, will be of contemporary modern architectural design and will feature new concrete grid construction.

It will be erected in the 1600-block of Frederick Street and a spokesman for the Hazelwood firm said work will start Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Snyder said the Hazelwood contract is for $365,833. The Sterling Electric Company will do the wiring and electrical work while the Willets Stained Glass Study of Studio of Philadelphia will furnish the windows. Representatives of those two firms were on hand yesterday to sign contracts.

Others participating were Wilbur D. Sills, chairman of the congregation building committee, and Charles H. Smith, vice president of the church council.

Australia is often called the land of living fossils. It is the home of the world's only egg laying mammals and most of the surviving marsupials.

Thruway Tax Survey Sought

The Cumberland Chamber of Commerce yesterday supported a plan to reactivate the Municipal Planning Commission and also urged the Mayor and Council to make public estimates of cost and real estate to be removed from city tax rolls as a result of the Cumberland Thruway.

The Mayor and Council, at the suggestion of Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder, agreed to invite Robert C. Petersen, chamber manager, to meet with council and hear a review of thruway plans.

Originally, the letter from the Chamber Board of Directors said, the organization had opposed signing thruway contracts until cost and construction details were available. It added this request was "ignored."

The board said it wants to know the effect of the cost on the tax rate. Although contracts have been signed and some work started, the group said it still felt taxpayers should be informed as to the possible effects on city finances.

Mayor J. Edwin Keech, in commenting on the Planning Commission plan, said council also plans to hold a meeting with C of C officials on the matter. The chamber said reactivition of the commission is a necessary step in assuring methodical expansion of the area and improvement of facilities.

District Luther League To Meet Here March 20

The next general meeting of the Mountain District Luther League and annual banquet were planned and the synodical retreat discussed at the planning meeting of the district officers, which was held Sunday afternoon at the home of Mrs. James R. Smith, Oldtown Road.

Dorothy Hill, of St. Paul's Frostburg, presided and announced the district had received recognition in the state Luther League paper.

For the first time the Intermediates are invited to attend the Maryland Synodical Luther League retreat, which will be held at Camp Nawakwa, Arendtville, Pa., the weekend of May 9-10.

A general meeting of all four churches will be held in the new St. Paul's Lutheran Church building March 20. Fred Sammel of and Jack Means, St. Luke's, the host church and Saundra Fresh, St. Paul's, Frostburg, will be the leaders. Special films on missions and social action will be shown.

Plans were discussed for the annual banquet, which will be in June in St. John's Lutheran Church. At that time there will be election of officers. A Nominating committee was appointed. It consists of Fred Eichner, Ronna Grim, of St. John's church; Saundra Fresh, Vera Lane MacKenzie, St. Paul's Cumberland and Jack Means, St. Luke's.

Memorial Students Will Choose Miss Sweetheart II

The students of Memorial Hospital School of Nursing will entertain with the second annual Valentine dance and crowning of Miss Sweetheart II, February 13.

It is to be at the nurses home with the Mardi Gras theme being carried out. The setting will be a little New Orleans cafe. A Mardi Gras parade will precede the crowning of the "Queen." Costumes are optional.

Doctors, their wives and graduate nurses are invited.

Candidates for the "Queen" title are Miss Barbara Robertson, first year student; Miss Barbara Sipe, second year student; and Miss Veda Shingleton, senior student.

The winner is to be chosen by the students vote, paying one cent a vote. Proceeds will be used for the junior book, "Le Tres Anni," which was published for the first time last year.

Dancing will be to music by the hi-fi set which was a gift to the students from the doctors last year. An entertainment program will be presented by the students during the intermission, preceding the coronation.

Miss Grace Hudson is chairman of the Entertainment committee, which includes Miss Ann Hartman and Miss Elizabeth Lewis. The Refreshment committee consists of Miss Virginia Leasure, Miss Joretta Henline, Miss Jean Breedlove, Miss Fannie Hatfield, Miss Shelby Bittner, Miss Virginia Ricewick and Miss Donna Haines. W.Va. Delegates, Senators Pass One-Third Mark

13 Bills Given Approval To Date

By BILL BARRETT
United Press International

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The West Virginia Legislature passed the one-third mark Monday with a hectic session in the House and a sedate one in the Senate.

The 20th day of the 60-day meeting ending March 14 was marked by these developments:

—the House and Senate passed a total of 13 bills, including six minor measures which now go to the governor for his signature.

—The House defeated an amendment to a package beer license bill which opponents said would mean local option on such establishments, and decided against reconsidering passage last Thursday of a bill barring use of personal checks to pay for motor vehicle licenses.

—the 10-member Democratic steering committee scheduled a meeting Tuesday morning to try to work out a compromise on the House-Senate dispute over tax measures.

—Gov. Cecil H. Underwood disclosed that he has signed into law the first bill enacted by the Legislature — a local measure allowing Mercer County to use surplus funds toward construction of a county health center.

Sent To Governor

During an hour and 35-minute floor session, its longest to date, the House passed six Senate-approved bills and sent them to the governor. Five of them amend state law to conform to the Better Schools Amendment approved by the voters last Nov. 4.

The sixth repeals a law allowing an unwed mother who relinquishes her child to a welfare agency 120 days to repudiate such action.

Passed by the House and sent to the Senate were bills to regulate the hunting of black bear, set up a new state board of accountants and provide for inspection of state-slaughtered meat by the Agriculture Department.

The House had passed the bill banning personal checks in payment of auto and truck licenses last Thursday by a 55-41 margin, but on Friday De. J. F. Deem (R-Ritchie) moved that the vote be reconsidered. The motion was put to a voice vote Monday and Speaker Harry R. Pauley ruled that it lost.

A similar motion to reconsider passage of a bill increasing fees for trustees and commissioners of accounts, by Del. Herb Morford (D-Calhoun) was defeated 72-20 on a roll-call vote. Morford contended the bill would work against the interests of creditors of estates of deceased persons.

Delegates approved and sent to the Senate and resolution by Dels. T. E. Myles (D-Fayette) and George H. Seibert (R- Ohio) to set up a study of retirement systems of state agencies which operate under the merit system.

Parker Objects

Pauley introduced a resolution to set up the so-called special calendar under which the Rules Committee determines which bills shall be voted on, and sought unanimous consent for immediate consideration. Del. William J. Parker (D-Marion objected and the resolution was laid over a day.

A brief flurry of debate followed an attempt by Del. George Rairden (R-Mason), dean of House members and a "dry" leader to amend the bill increasing the fee for a class B package beer license.

The amendment would have allowed municipalities to set up rules which such places must meet before qualifying for a license. Del. Hobert Booth (D-Fayette) argued that it amounted to giving municipalities local option to possibly bar such establishments, and the amendment was defeated 75 to 18.

Ten other bills moved through the amendment stage and will be voted on Tuesday, including measures to make Hancock County a separate judicial circuit; reduce parole periods for persons sentenced to an indeterminate term, and increase the annual assessment on utilities for support of the Public Service Commission from $300,000 to $450,000.

The Senate passed four bills during a 29-minute session and moved up to a vote Tuesday a bill to set fixed dates for school-teacher paydays.

Approved 32-0 was a measure directing the state fire marshal to report to the governor any governmental agency which fails to comply with recommendations on eliminating fire hazards.

Passed by a 23-9 margin was a bill giving hospitals a lien against patients treated for accident injuries which result in the patient collecting a court judgment.

Saloon Bill Is Attacked By Methodists

KINGWOOD, W. Va. (AP) — The leadership of the 1,600 Methodist churches in the West Virginia Conference said Monday that a measure to legalize the sale of liquor over the bar in the state "will inevitably be rigged in favor of the alcoholic beverage industry."

The 212,000-member conference took official action through The Rev. Joseph Casey, chairman of the section on temperance of the conference Board of Christian Social Relations.

The temperance section met in Clarksburg to map its formal stand. Rev. Casey released the following statement:

"Methodist leaders believe that if a special vote is to be taken concerning alcoholic beverages, the people should be given an opportunity to consider the whole question of the unlimited sale of beer and wine as well as distilled spirits, otherwise it will not be a fair election."

The annual state conference last summer adopted a resolution opposing the sale of liquor by the drink.

Offers Resolution To Sell Liquor By Drink In W. Va.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A resolution to legalize sale of liquor-by-the-drink in West Virginia probably will be introduced in the House of Delegates early this week by Del. E. E. Watson (D-Marion) — possibly by Tuesday.

Watson acknowledged leader of "wet" forces in the Legislature, may introduce the measure prior to a television debate Tuesday night with leaders of the "dry" forces.

Watson and former Del. Chester Hubbard, Wheeling, will debate the question with Del. J. C. Cruikshank (D-Clay) and the Rev. L. E. Crowson of Logan.

Crowson is head of a special State Temperance League committee to fight liquor legislation. The group is already responsible for numerous anti-liquor petitions being sent to the lawmakers.

Decorating Fund Shows Balance

LONACONING — Community Decorating Fund of Lonaconing has issued a financial report this week. Robert B. Thomas, treasurer, prepared the public report which shows a balance of $271.94 to begin planning for next year's fund.

Contributions, including the cash balance of $12.59 of 1957, totaled $449.05. Expenses for the street lighting at Christmas amounted to $177.11, for electricity, bulbs, and putting up and taking down the fixtures.

Sponsor for the decorations fund this past year was the Lonaconing Businessmen's Association with Boyd Bolyard, chairman. Mayor Wilmoth Garlitz asked Mr. Bolyard to assume the task. The mayor and council helped by furnishing the city truck and some labor when the lights were put up and taken down.

A sponsor for the decorations fund will be needed for the coming year and it is hoped that the project will get underway months previous to the Yuletide season, Mr. Thomas said.

FSTC Lists Delegates For Model UN

Session To Be Held In Canada

FROSTBURG—Dr. Hazel Ramsay, co-adviser of the International Relations Club of Frostburg State Teachers College, has announced that the club will send a delegation to attend a model United Nations session to be held in Montreal, Canada, from February 4 to February 16.

The model United Nations is being sponsored by four Montreal universities: Sir George Williams College, Loyola University, University of Montreal, and McGill University. Its aim is educational in the broadest sense. It sets out to demonstrate to the participants and to the public at large in the most realistic atmosphere possible, how the principal organs of the United Nations function and why they operate as they do.

A special committee of the UN in New York will advise on procedural and organizational questions, and the heads of the various UN bodies concerned have been invited to associate themselves with the counterparts of these assemblies during the forthcoming sessions.

To add further realism to the proceedings, a system of simultaneous translation, French and English, will be provided. During the public meetings a special panel of prominent speakers will highlight interesting topics of the day.

The honorable Lester B. Pearson will be the keynote speaker. He is leader of Her Majesty's Loyal opposition in the House of Commons, Ottawa, Canada, and won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957.

Frostburg State Teachers College is one of approximately 25 U. S. colleges which have been invited to attend this event. State College has been chosen to represent the country of Lebanon. Other U. S. colleges sending delegations include Harvard, which will represent the United States; Princeton, representing India; Yale representing the United Kingdom; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, representing Iraq; West Point, representing Italy; Cornell, representing Indonesia; and the University of California representing the USSR. Delegations will also be sent from colleges in Norway, Israel, China, The Philippines, Holland, Poland, and South Africa.

The Frostburg State Teachers College delegates are Helen Herboldsheimer, Betty Swartley, William Shoemaker and Margaret Stitcher. They will be accompanied by Dr. Ramsay of the college History Department.

MISS LOIS WOODS

Windber Sends Talented Entry To Maple Contest

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Among the ten Somerset County beauties who will compete for the title of Maple Queen is Miss Lois Woods, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Woods of 801 15th Street, Windber, Pa.

Miss Woods will represent Windber Joint High School in the competition at Johnstown on February 11. Her talent number will be a reading and dance.

The attractive young lady is five feet, one inch tall, weighs 115 pounds, has brown eyes and brown hair and is taking general course in high school. She is drum majorette in the band, a member of the editorial staff of the yearbook, Stylus, and is president of the school Dramatics club.

Her hobbies are doll collection, painting, piano and dancing. She is affiliated with the Methodist church and is not sure but thinks she would like to go on to Carnegie Tech to further her education. She would like to be a dancing teacher. Her advisor is Mrs. Ernest Pudliner.

Miss Woods is familiar with the Maple Festival. She has made three appearances in Maple Festival pageants in 1950, 1951 and 1956. She attended the Dance Educators of America convention in New York City in July, 1958.

In January, 1956, Miss Woods appeared on the Wilkens Amateur Hour program over a Pittsburgh TV station. Twice she has danced in the Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh and at various times has presented programs for various civic groups including the Eastern Star and the Lions clubs. She served as drum majorette for Junior high school band and Windber firemen's junior drum and bugle corps.

Lukas Named Leader In Heart Drive

FROSTBURG—Organization of the 1959 Heart Fund Drive in Frostburg moved another step forward today with the appointment of Peter Lukas to be vice chairman of the campaign which will be conducted here during this month.

Mr. Lukas will assist Edward P. Flanigan, fund campaign chairman, who last week accepted the post of chairman of the annual fund-raising drive which supports the Heart Association's research, education and community service programs.

Mr. Lukas is manager of the Clarysville Inn and has been very active in civic affairs.

Last year the Heart Fund Drive in Frostburg raised $750. A large proportion of the total collected each year remains in Frostburg and in Maryland. A minimum of 50 per cent of the funds allocated to the American Heart Association, of which the local Heart Association is an affiliate, is automatically earmarked for national research.

More than 32 million Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into research of heart and blood vessel diseases in the past ten years.

W. Va. To Get More Surplus Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An additional 1,700,000 pounds of government surplus food is expected to be shipped to West Virginia's needy within the next three or four weeks, West Virginia Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd said Monday. The Mountain State was recently visited by Agriculture Department officials who later recommended additional commodities for relief of the state's needy.

Gleaners Class Will Elect

FROSTBURG — The Gleaner's Sunday School Class will hold their annual February class sister dinner party at 6 p. m. Thursday in the social room of the church. Gifts will be exchanged and the names of secret sisters revealed.

The committee in charge of the dinner and program includes, Thelma Rephann, chairman; Mabel Elliott, Bernice Kohout, Pearl Shaffer, Ruth Todd, and Rose Crott.

A meeting will be held following the dinner when new officers will be elected for 1959.

Full School Term Assured Despite W.Va. Budget Cut

PETERSBURG — The Grant County Board of Education has revised its budget for the year in order to comply with an order from the West Virginia Board of Public Works to establish a five per cent account in the amount of $15,425. This action, affecting all state agencies who receive money from the general revenue, was taken by the Board of Public Works after state tax revenues declined to the point that it appeared there would be insufficient money to cover all appropriations.

The county board was able to plan for a full term of school in spite of the required reserve by postponing the purchase of a school bus, the completion of the "C" building at Petersburg High School, delaying some repairs on existing buildings, withholding the purchase of some instructional equipment and by transferring some funds made available by the drop in teacher certification caused by teacher resignations after the budget was prepared.

Ray Judy took the oath of office for a six-year term. Dillon C. Parks, of Scherr, was re-elected president for the next two years, a position which he has held since September 1949.

Miss Elizabeth F. Curry, daughter of E. F. Curry of Bayard, was named principal of Bayard Grade School to succeed M. F. White. Miss Curry is resigning her position as head of the School of Nursing of Western Pennsylvania Hospital in Pittsburgh. She was graduated in elementary education from Shepherd College in 1939 and received her master's degree in nursing education from the University of Pittsburgh in 1953. Her experience in teaching includes 11 years in elementary education, nine of which were in Grant county. She taught in the junior high school at Elk Garden and one year in Garrett county, Md., schools. Miss Curry will assume her duties as principal and teacher at the beginning of the second semester.

FSTC Lists Delegates For Model UN

Session To Be Held In Canada

FROSTBURG—Dr. Hazel Ramsay, co-adviser of the International Relations Club of Frostburg State Teachers College, has announced that the club will send a delegation to attend a model United Nations session to be held in Montreal, Canada, from February 4 to February 16.

The model United Nations is being sponsored by four Montreal universities: Sir George Williams College, Loyola University, University of Montreal, and McGill University. Its aim is educational in the broadest sense. It sets out to demonstrate to the participants and to the public at large in the most realistic atmosphere possible, how the principal organs of the United Nations function and why they operate as they do.

A special committee of the UN in New York will advise on procedural and organizational questions, and the heads of the various UN bodies concerned have been invited to associate themselves with the counterparts of these assemblies during the forthcoming sessions.

To add further realism to the proceedings, a system of simultaneous translation, French and English, will be provided. During the public meetings a special panel of prominent speakers will highlight interesting topics of the day.

The honorable Lester B. Pearson will be the keynote speaker. He is leader of Her Majesty's Loyal opposition in the House of Commons, Ottawa, Canada, and won the Nobel Peace Prize in 1957.

Frostburg State Teachers College is one of approximately 25 U. S. colleges which have been invited to attend this event. State College has been chosen to represent the country of Lebanon. Other U. S. colleges sending delegations include Harvard, which will represent the United States; Princeton, representing India; Yale representing the United Kingdom; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, representing Iraq; West Point, representing Italy; Cornell, representing Indonesia; and the University of California representing the USSR. Delegations will also be sent from colleges in Norway, Israel, China, The Philippines, Holland, Poland, and South Africa.

The Frostburg State Teachers College delegates are Helen Herboldsheimer, Betty Swartley, William Shoemaker and Margaret Stitcher. They will be accompanied by Dr. Ramsay of the college History Department.

MISS LOIS WOODS

Windber Sends Talented Entry To Maple Contest

MEYERSDALE, Pa.—Among the ten Somerset County beauties who will compete for the title of Maple Queen is Miss Lois Woods, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Woods of 801 15th Street, Windber, Pa.

Miss Woods will represent Windber Joint High School in the competition at Johnstown on February 11. Her talent number will be a reading and dance.

The attractive young lady is five feet, one inch tall, weighs 115 pounds, has brown eyes and brown hair and is taking general course in high school. She is drum majorette in the band, a member of the editorial staff of the yearbook, Stylus, and is president of the school Dramatics club.

Her hobbies are doll collection, painting, piano and dancing. She is affiliated with the Methodist church and is not sure but thinks she would like to go on to Carnegie Tech to further her education. She would like to be a dancing teacher. Her advisor is Mrs. Ernest Pudliner.

Miss Woods is familiar with the Maple Festival. She has made three appearances in Maple Festival pageants in 1950, 1951 and 1956. She attended the Dance Educators of America convention in New York City in July, 1958.

In January, 1956, Miss Woods appeared on the Wilkens Amateur Hour program over a Pittsburgh TV station. Twice she has danced in the Syria Mosque in Pittsburgh and at various times has presented programs for various civic groups including the Eastern Star and the Lions clubs. She served as drum majorette for Junior high school band and Windber firemen's junior drum and bugle corps.

Lukas Named Leader In Heart Drive

FROSTBURG—Organization of the 1959 Heart Fund Drive in Frostburg moved another step forward today with the appointment of Peter Lukas to be vice chairman of the campaign which will be conducted here during this month.

Mr. Lukas will assist Edward P. Flanigan, fund campaign chairman, who last week accepted the post of chairman of the annual fund-raising drive which supports the Heart Association's research, education and community service programs.

Mr. Lukas is manager of the Clarysville Inn and has been very active in civic affairs.

Last year the Heart Fund Drive in Frostburg raised $750. A large proportion of the total collected each year remains in Frostburg and in Maryland. A minimum of 50 per cent of the funds allocated to the American Heart Association, of which the local Heart Association is an affiliate, is automatically earmarked for national research.

More than 32 million Heart Fund dollars have been channeled into research of heart and blood vessel diseases in the past ten years.

BARTON — The 45th anniversary of Pride of Barton Council No. 77, Daughters of America will be celebrated with a Valentine party and dinner at the next regular meeting Tuesday, February 10, at 6 p. m. at the Junior Order Hall.

Each member is asked to bring a valentine and handkerchief for an exchange gift.

W. Va. To Get More Surplus Foods

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An additional 1,700,000 pounds of government surplus food is expected to be shipped to West Virginia's needy within the next three or four weeks, West Virginia Sens. Jennings Randolph and Robert C. Byrd said Monday. The Mountain State was recently visited by Agriculture Department officials who later recommended additional commodities for relief of the state's needy.

Gleaners Class Will Elect

FROSTBURG — The Gleaner's Sunday School Class will hold their annual February class sister dinner party at 6 p. m. Thursday in the social room of the church. Gifts will be exchanged and the names of secret sisters revealed.

The committee in charge of the dinner and program includes, Thelma Rephann, chairman; Mabel Elliott, Bernice Kohout, Pearl Shaffer, Ruth Todd, and Rose Croft.

A meeting will be held following the dinner when new officers will be elected for 1959.

Full School Term Assured Despite W.Va. Budget Cut

PETERSBURG — The Grant County Board of Education has revised its budget for the year in order to comply with an order from the West Virginia Board of Public Works to establish a five per cent account in the amount of $15,425. This action, affecting all state agencies who receive money from the general revenue, was taken by the Board of Public Works after state tax revenues declined to the point that it appeared there would be insufficient money to cover all appropriations.

The county board was able to plan for a full term of school in spite of the required reserve by postponing the purchase of a school bus, the completion of the "C" building at Petersburg High school, delaying some repairs on existing buildings, withholding the purchase of some instructional equipment and by transferring some funds made available by the drop in teacher certification caused by teacher resignations after the budget was prepared.

Ray Judy took the oath of office for a six-year term. Dillon C. Parks, of Scherr, was re-elected president for the next two years, a position which he has held since September 1949.

Miss Elizabeth F. Curry, daughter of E. F. Curry of Bayard, was named principal of Bayard Grade School to succeed M. F. White. Miss Curry is resigning her position as head of the School of Nursing of Western Pennsylvania Hospital in Pittsburgh. She was graduated in elementary education from Shepherd College in 1939 and received her master's degree in nursing education from the University of Pittsburgh in 1953. Her experience in teaching includes 11 years in elementary education, nine of which were in Grant county. She taught in the junior high school at Elk Garden and one year in Garrett county, Md., schools. Miss Curry will assume her duties as principal and teacher at the beginning of the second semester.

Man Mentally Unfit To Face Murder Trial

Clearville Farmer Institutionalized

Marcus Means, 73-year-old Clearville, Pa. area farmer, who was indicted for murder in the fatal shooting of an Everett truck driver last October 31, was committed to a mental institution sometime ago.

He was scheduled to go on trial this month in Bedford County Circuit Court after having been indicted last November by a grand jury in connection with the death of Oda Clingerman, 60, who was employed as a driver for a gasoline distributing company.

William Van Horn Jr., district attorney of Bedford County, said yesterday that Mr. Means was examined by a sanity commission and psychiatrist and it was found he was mentally unfit to stand trial and he was committed to the Hollidaysburg (Pa.) State Hospital.

The 60-year-old Clingerman was found in the rear of his truck after he had delivered gasoline to the Means farm. He was shot in the left side with a high-powered rifle.

The elderly farmer was admitted to the Bedford County Memorial Hospital for surgery upon a bullet wound in his left shoulder which authorities said was self-inflicted after he shot Clingerman.

Four Area Men Join Air Force

Four area men enlisted last week in the Air Force, according to T/Sgt. Harold C. Waldrop, local recruiter.

Garland Lee Barnes, Fort Ashby, W. Va., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hardy Barnes; Stephen Eugene Thompson, Bowmans Addition, son of Randell Oliver Thompson of Seattle, Wash.; and Allan Clifford Walls, 59 Walnut Street, Frostburg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Walls, each enlisted for four years. They have been assigned to Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas, for basic training.

Daniel I. DeVeau, 24, of Pinto, re-enlisted for six years after serving a four-year enlistment. He was assigned to the Air Police as an airman first class at James Connelly Air Force Base, Texas. DeVeau is married to the former Miss Winnie Larue of Pinto. He is originally from Lincoln, Mass.

Skating Available At Gephart Rink

Come on out, the ice skating is fine.

That is the word from Gephart Playground, where workers have put the ground's ice skating rink in top condition.

The City Recreation Department said yesterday that skating will be available each day from 7 to 10 p. m. as long as the cold weather lasts.

Mrs. Lauren Lapp, president of the Gephart association, said Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zucker and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Schubert are assisting with the skating program.

Skating has been limited to night hours so workers can flood and scrape the surface after each session.

Legion Meets Tonight

Members of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, Ridgeley, will meet this evening at 8 o'clock in the post home. Elmer Higgs, chairman of the entertainment committee, said refreshments will be served.

Rep. Foley Sends Information Here On Naturalization

Congressman John R. Foley has made available at his local office booklets of interest to residents who desire to become citizens of the United States.

Mrs. Anne B. Everline, secretary in Mr. Foley's office here, said that during January when aliens were required to register, several inquired about the necessary steps to become citizens.

Rep Foley sent Mrs. Everline a supply of two booklets, one entitled, "United States Naturalization Requirements" and the other "Special Naturalization Benefits for Veterans, Wives and Husbands of the United States."

Mrs. Everline has provided copies to those who made inquiry and also has this and other information available to assist aliens in their efforts to become citizens.

that while he is convinced the county should take over the full support of the Juvenile Court he has an open mind on other legislation asked by the city.

He said he "will sit down and listen" to other proposals. One of these is a city proposal that the county contribute $22,025 a year toward the support of Cumberland's four fire companies. This is the sum the county now contributes to volunteer fire companies of the county.

Defines Blindness

Copies of three bills sponsored by State Senator Charles M. See have been received here.

The first, Senate Bill 130, defines the word "blind" for the purpose of state law.

The bill specifies that . . . "blind" means visual acuity not to exceed 20/200 in the better eye with corrected lenses; or visual acuity greater than 20/200 but with a limitation in the fields of vision such that the greater diameter of the visual field subtends an angle no greater than 20 degrees.

The second, Senate Bill 150, would increase the funeral expense allowance a county welfare department may pay on behalf of a deceased recipient of old age assistance.

Cost To Be Shared

It provides that on the death of the recipient reasonable funeral expenses, not to exceed $150 (it is now $100) may, subject to regulations of the State Department, be paid by the county department if the estate of the deceased is insufficient to pay . . . and the persons legally responsible for the support of the deceased are unable to pay the same. The cost of any such payment shall be charged two-thirds to State funds and one-third to local funds.

Imposition of certain additional duties upon the Maryland Workshop for the Blind is provided in the third, Senate Bill 151.

Senator See is the Western Maryland field representative for the Workshop and is a member of its Board of Trustees.

Adds To Duties

The bill would require the Workshop to maintain a complete register of blind persons in Maryland, describing the cause, condition, capacity for educational and industrial training and other pertinent facts on each blind person.

It would authorize the Workshop to promote and provide for the employment of blind persons in their homes by providing raw materials, necessary devices and instruction; by providing cash remuneration or other form of compensation for the work performed or products obtained, and by selling these products and applying the proceeds toward such cash remuneration.

It also calls for the Workshop to provide a program to promote the social adjustment of the blind, to include instruction and other social services to the adult blind, in their homes or elsewhere to suit their convenience.

Civic Symphony Will Rehearse

All members of the Cumberland Civic Symphony Orchestra are reminded that tonight's rehearsal for the February 10 concert will be held at Allegany High School.

As a special feature of the concert the orchestra will present Leonard Withers and Jackie Fisher as a two-piano team. Mr. Withers and Mr. Fisher will play the Arensky Valse, the Danse Macabre by Saint-Seans and the Blue Danube by Johann Strauss.

The orchestra, now in its 13th season, numbers approximately 50 local and area musicians. All are unpaid volunteer members who rehearse every week throughout the year to prepare for concerts.

Wilton Syckes, conductor, has announced that tickets are on sale at Cooley's Pharmacy and Syckes Music Store in Cumberland and from Albert's Super Market in LaVale. Mail orders will be filled by writing to the orchestra at P. O. Box 147, Cumberland.

Man Is Arrested On Morals Charge

Vincent Paul Green, 39, of 27 Blackiston Avenue, was arrested last night on a morals complaint from a South Cumberland woman who said the man exposed himself to her 11-year-old daughter and two other 10-year-old girls.

Detective Kenneth Morrissey and Officer Harold Gibson arrested Green at his home. He will be taken to the State's Attorney's office today for questioning.

Returns From Seminar

Dr. Ethyl B. Dantzic has returned from Pittsburgh, where she attended a postgraduate seminar held for optometrists of the Middle Atlantic area.

Westernport Man Gets Home Permit

T. M. Hughes of Westernport has been issued a permit to construct a frame dwelling in the Horse Rock Hill section near that community.

The permit issued at the County Assessing Department indicates the home will cost about $9,500 and will have a concrete block foundation and composition shingle roof.

CUF Agencies Thank Donors

Contributors to County United Fund have received the thanks of Keating Memorial Day Nursery, Cumberland, and Friends Aware of Handicapped Children, Westernport, Winfield H. Adam, executive director of CUF, announced last night.

Speaking for the Sisters of Charity, Sister Angela, director of the nursery, stated:

"We wish to thank the United Fund for the $8,000 our agency was allotted for the year 1959. We depend upon the financial help received from the United Fund to carry on our program for the little ones at the Keating Day Nursery.

"Abundance of blessings during 1959 to each one who contributed in making the campaign a success."

V. E. Kalbaugh, president of Friends Aware in Westernport, put it this way:

"We believe we have made real progress this past year. We measure this in terms of the children's improvement. They are doing wonderfully well.

"We wish to thank the County United Fund for the support it has given us."

The nursery and Friends Aware are two of the 32 health, welfare, youth and community agencies supported by CUF in Allegany and Mineral counties.

B&O Costs Up, Traffic Down

BALTIMORE (AP) — The lowest traffic volume since 1939 and unusually high expenses caused by storms and floods will affect the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's financial showing for January, President Howard E. Simpson said Sunday.

In a statement, Simpson said daily average carloadings dropped to approximately 7,500 during the month and "there are significant indications that January will prove to be one of the worst in recent years."

Traffic was affected by the closing of steel and other industrial plants by flood waters in the areas served by the line, Simpson explained.

Reunion Group Sets Meeting Tonight

Committee members in charge of planning a reunion this summer for the Class of 1954 of Fort Hill High School will meet today at 7:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Bessie Ketterman Burton, 1824 Frederick Street.

The reunion will be held June 13 at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club. Wayne Couter will preside at tonight's meeting.

The Cumberland Lions Club will see a film entitled "Life Is Worth Living" at its weekly meeting tomorrow at noon at Central YMCA.

The film was prepared for the funeral directors of this country and will be shown by Vincent Leasure of the Stein Funeral Home.

Girl Is Missing

Sara Riggleman, 17, of RFD 2, Williams Road, has been reported missing to City Police. She is five feet, three inches tall, and was wearing a blue jacket, black skirt and light blouse. She has been missing from her home since 9 p. m. Sunday.

Man Is Jailed In Default Of Fines

A 34-year-old Hagerstown man was committed to the County Jail yesterday for 120 days in default of fines totaling $175 on two motor violations.

Magistrate Morris Baron of Trial Magistrate Court fined William Messersmith $25 on a charge of reckless driving and $150 on another motor vehicle violation.

Magistrate Baron also fined Myrl L. Harper, of 640 North Centre Street, a total of $175 on two motor violations. A third charge against Harper was dismissed by Magistrate Baron.

Injured In Fall

Mrs. Ann Hanlin, 22, of 12½ Waverly Terrace, was treated at Sacred Heart Hospital last night for a fractured ankle she sustained in a fall at her home.

THE WORLD'S MOST BEAUTIFULLY PROPORTIONED CARS
Here's the easiest way to comfort-test a Ford. Take six people—a daddy long-legs, a mister "five by five," any shape, any size. Put them in a Ford and watch what happens. In the first place they can get in easier. Doors are wider than on competitive cars in Ford's field . . . wider-opening, too. Slide inside and everybody (including the man in the middle) has a seat that's thickly padded for real comfort. There's more than enough room for legs, elbows, hips—and hats! And unlike cars with high rear-end styling, Ford's low-level trunk loads easily. Come in for a "people test"!
"Plenty of room to wear your hat"
"Seats are comfortable all the way across . . . no hard spot in the middle"
"Getting in and out is a snap"
Actually you could love Ford for its price alone. A quick check will show you that suggested Ford retail prices are lowest of the best-selling three for all comparable models. What's more, with radio, heater, and automatic transmission, Fords are priced up to $102.75 less than the major competition . . . and if you want air conditioning, you can save up to $219.85. Then there are Ford saving exclusives like Diamond Lustre Finish that never needs waxing and the aluminized muffler that normally lasts twice as long. Finally, Ford's beautiful proportions will command a higher price when you're ready to sell.

Let's Keep The Friends We Have

Manila is kicking up its heels and acting independent. "What have you done for us lately?" it, in effect, asks Washington.

The U. S. has been concerned with stopping the spread of Communism and blocking the Soviet Union in its expansionist moves. As a result, most of Washington's handouts have gone to the crucial areas of the world—not to Latin America and places like the Philippines.

Four years ago the Philippines government made a claim of $942 million against the U. S. This was not paid because it was obviously exhorbitant and also because American funds had to be used elsewhere.

There also is the matter of funds promised, according to the Filipinos, for economic development of the islands. They want such funds and figure making a lot of noise will aid them in obtaining the handout.

A third issue is corruption in the government of the Philippines which has disturbed American observers.

There is no crisis atmosphere, but it is agreed that the situation is deteriorating. U. S. Ambassador Bohlen has been recalled to Washington for consultations, and Philippines Ambassador Romulo has gone back to Manila.

The U. S. should move quickly to do whatever is reasonable and proper to reach an accord with the Pacific free republic. The West needs all the friends it has in Asia.

These Days

No Sensation

Nikita Khrushchev's long speech at the 21st Congress of the Russian Communist Party was not sensational. He blamed the United States for the continuation of the Cold War and he threatened to intensify it in the economic field. He announced that Soviet Russia is ahead in the production of missiles, which it obviously is. He stated the unity of the Soviet Universal State, except Yugoslavia. He favored peace with the United States but indicated no workable program except a Russian victory. He promised the Russian people a higher standard of living and better working hours and the victory of socialism over capitalism.

It could not have taken more than six hours to say this and therefore it must be assumed that Khrushchev said more and that it has not yet been made available. His great "secret" speech in the 20th Congress, which has created a sensation throughout the world, has never yet been completely published in Russia. From past experience, I would say that when the entire 21st Congress Khrushchev speech becomes available it will be a very different document from that which censorship permitted to be published.

The assertion of unity between the Chinese and Russian Communists as delivered by Chou En-lai, was to have been expected but the reports available have no reference to Mao Tze-tung's Left Deviation which is, from a Kremlin standpoint, very serious. Mao Tze-tung personally was not present at the 21st Congress. Chou En-lai, while premier of Red China, does not have the stature in his own country of Mao Tze-tung, whose position is comparable to what Stalin's used to be in Soviet Russia and who is rising in stature in the Communist world. Mao is trying to operate a Marxist communal state in Red China, a reduction of the human being to the condition of a voice-less, will-less creature, absolutely subject to the power of the authority of the state. This is called a Leftist Deviation among Communists, was tried in Soviet Russia in the early years of the Revolution and rejected, and endangers both agricultural and industrial production.

Khrushchev is not worried so much about that as he is that Mao will drive the Chinese people into a counter-revolution of great violence which would either give the "imperialists" an occasion for intervention in China or which could force Soviet Russia to intervene on a large scale, thus consuming resources, slowing up developments and perhaps disclosing the weakness of the Soviet Universal State. The Russians show every evidence of being frightened by what Mao is doing to his own people.

Chou En-lai did not refer to any of this. Therefore his speech was of little significance, for the delegates to the 21st Congress, mostly party workers, know what problems are presented by this Leftist Deviation and a mere declaration of unity and an accusation that the United States is attempting to break up this unity can make little impression upon them. They have heard all that before.

They know that unity was achieved by force and is maintained by force and that anything that weakens the Kremlin's power to use force, imperils the Revolution. This is the essential complaint against Tito who, while remaining a Marxist, has established an independent state which the Kremlin cannot reach by force without starting World War III and which therefore imperils the entire structure of the Soviet Universal State.

There can be no question but that the important purpose of Anastas Mikoyan's visit to the United States was to strengthen Nikita Khrushchev's position at the 21st Congress either by some decision which would bring an end to the Cold War on Soviet Russia's terms or by indicating to the delegates that there was hope of a two person summit conference in the very near future—the two persons being Eisenhower and Khrushchev. Mikoyan brought nothing home and therefore Khrushchev's speech, so far as it has been reported, contains no triumphant note.

Perhaps there will be another speech or some act during or immediately after the Congress which will give us a better indication of what Khrushchev is thinking or why he called this Congress at this time. Russian Communist Party Congresses are important and are never called without reason. The reason for this Congress is not yet clear.

Doesn't Look In The Plowing Mood

A Chaser For The Official Soothing Syrup

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

A chaser is in order, after such deluges of Defense Department soothing syrup. As a possible chaser, or maybe even as an antidote to all the syrupy assurances that the missile gap really hardly matters at all, consider the following true story. Not long ago, the appearance in the air of the first Soviet jet fighter, the Mig-15, was taken in Washington almost as a personal affront. The Air Force view was voiced by the late Chief of Air Staff, Gen. Hoyt. Vandenberg. He declared that the new plane "could not be in quantity production, although perhaps the Soviets could turn out five or six a month by hand-tooling."

When asked for the justification of this opinion, Gen. Vandenberg angrily pointed to the difficulties the American Air Force was having in producing good jet engines in quantity. The General was strongly supported by George F. Kennan, the State Department's leading resident Russian expert of that period. Kennan then used to say—and believe—that "the Soviets can't even quantity-produce good bicycles."

In this atmosphere, after some time had passed, the Central Intelligence Agency came up with evidence that the Soviets were actually turning out 300 Mig-15s each month—and this at a time when the only comparable U. S. fighter, the F-86, was being produced at the rate of eight per month. Naturally the C. I. A. evidence was ridiculed by all.

Nonetheless, Paul H. Nitze asked the C. I. A. to make a theoretical deployment of Soviet Mig-15s, based on an assumed production rate of 300 monthly. In those days—as can be told now—extremely high altitude photo reconnaissance of the Soviet Union was not difficult. Nitze therefore arranged for photo-reconnaissance of the airfields included in the C. I. A.'s theoretical deployment plan for the Migs. The photographs revealed exactly 50 per cent more Mig-15s on the airfields than the C. I. A. had said would be there. And in the end, the Soviets built 10,000 of these Migs that Gen. Vandenberg had been so sure they would have to "hand-tool."

The story suggests how grossly honest men can underrate Soviet military-industrial capabilities, merely from pride and prejudice. But this is not the story's only point, the truth is that the fantastic misjudgement of Soviet Mig-15 output was a fairly typical performance.

As in the case of the Mig-15, the raw material brought in by the C. I. A. has generally been pretty good. But the American government has consistently read the raw intelligence through the most rose-colored spectacles. For this reason, from the first Soviet atomic bomb down to the first Soviet intercontinental missile, the American government has regularly been taken by surprise. The Soviets have regularly turned out new weapons sooner, and they have regularly produced them in larger quantities, than was forecast by the American official estimates.

So far as is known, there is only one major exception to this melancholy rule. The Soviets designed and built their B-52 type "Bisor" bomber in about three years less time than the American "national estimates" allowed; but they decided in the end not to produce as many "Bisons" as the American estimates had forecast. The Eisenhower administration is obsessed with this past error, which drove even Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson to order an increase in B-52 production. The "Bison" story is constantly cited at the Pentagon, nowadays, to justify the happy, happy, happy official estimates of the Soviet missile program.

To begin with, however, we had better thank God for this solitary divergence into pessimism. Without it, the United States would have far less of the long-range air power that the President and Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy now swear is a completely satisfactory answer to superior Soviet power in long-range missiles. Moreover the pessimistic mistake about the "Bison" program was directly related to an even greater mistake on the optimistic side—the American government's gross under-estimation of Soviet progress with ballistic missiles, which permitted the Kremlin to cut down "Bison" output in favor of IRBMs and ICBMs.

There are two further things that also need saying. In the first place, the likelihood of optimistic error is certainly greater today than ever before, because of the intense White House and Budget Bureau pressure to think happy, happy, happy, money-saving thoughts. And in the second place, if errors in the intelligence estimates are now being made in the old way, they are nonetheless errors of a wholly new character. They no longer concern Mig-15s, solely useful for the defense of Soviet territory, or even atom bombs lacking any efficient means of delivery. These new errors, if made, concern weapons which can write "finis" to the story of this Republic and the history of human freedoms.

Ike, Stung By Criticism, Reaches For More Leadership In Party

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The President was a lot madder over the Republican criticism against him at Des Moines than he let on at his press conference. Privately he boils at the insinuation that his leadership was responsible for the Democratic landslide last November.

The Des Moines needling has had a healthy effect, however. For those who meet weekly with Ike to map strategy can see him reaching for leadership as never before. He seems to realize that he has only two years to go and in that short time he must repair the political damage and make his record as a great President. He wants to leave the White House with the same popularity as when he entered.

One year ago Ike was talking wistfully about the Queen of England and her relatively easy job of laying cornerstones and making speeches. Now he seems to realize that the United States cannot be run that way. He now even reads the papers himself, doesn't depend on the abbreviated news summary prepared by his staff. He asks more questions of Congressional leaders, has more suggestions to make. He is irked at the way Sen. Lyndon Johnson and the Democrats have stolen the initiative, but he isn't sulking over it. He's determined to catch up.

Adenauer Spanked

President Eisenhower sent a chiding message to crusty old Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany the other day, urging him to cooperate more with the West in solving the Berlin crisis. The "diplomatic spanking" was sent before Eisenhower knew that West German businessmen had agreed to sell Russia the 12,000 miles of steel pipe which the United States government had refused to let American businessmen sell. If he had known this, possibly the message would have been stronger.

What Eisenhower wants Adenauer to do is cut off West Germany's trade with East Germany in case of a Russian blockade, and to announce this in advance.

The East Germans rely so heavily on West German trade to keep their economy going that they might throw up their hands and tell their friends in the Kremlin to change their tactics if Adenauer should cut off all trade. However, Adenauer, who is urging the West to fight to the last man to save Berlin, has refused so far to consider cutting off trade. He claims such a trade boycott would hurt only the East German people who are anti-Communist, not the government.

The State Department refuses to accept this explanation, and has urged Eisenhower to keep needling Adenauer. The State Department is convinced that West German businessmen just don't want to interrupt their lucrative commerce across the border, regardless of Berlin's fate.

Summit Conference Politics

British elections again are getting mixed up in the business of whether there should be a summit conference.

Prime Minister Macmillan's political advisers are urging him to press for a summit conference with the Russians to be held sometime in May. Immediately afterward, they advise him to call for nationwide elections. And with the prestige and glamor of a summit conference to their credit, the Conservatives believe they could easily defeat the Labor party.

This is the second time domestic politics in Britain has intruded into the foreign-policy field. President Eisenhower agreed to the 1955 summit conference in Geneva, even though he didn't want it, to help Anthony Eden win a British election.

This time, however, the British Foreign Office doesn't agree with the Conservative party. British diplomats want to start with a foreign ministers' conference to test Russian sincerity, then proceed with the summit conference late. And Macmillan just hasn't made up his mind.

Enemy Of Dictators

It was Congressman Charles Porter of Oregon, the enemy of dictators, who helped induce Fidel Castro of Cuba to move his war crimes trials out of the Havana Sports Coliseum where they had every appearance of a Roman holiday.

While Castro was addressing the jam-packed crowd thirsting for blood, Porter sent him a note tactfully suggesting that the crowd could easily get out of hand. Porter has been the member of Congress who first carried the ball against all Latin American dictators — from Trujillo of the Dominican Republic to Perez Jiminez of Venezuela. He began attacking Batista and helping Castro a long time ago.

So when Castro received a note from the friendly American Congressman, he read it, and mentioned it to the crowd. Nevertheless, he kept on talking. Next day, he moved them out of the Coliseum.

Southern Spitework

There's an untold story behind the belated appointment of Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois as chairman of the Joint Economic Committee.

Southerners wanted to punish Douglas for leading the anti-filibuster fight. So they urged Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama to take the chairmanship of the Economic Committee away from Douglas, which he could do by pulling his seniority.

The only way Sparkman could do this, however, was by giving up the chairmanship of the Senate Small Business Committee, which gives him the power to help Alabama small businessmen — who, in turn, might help re-elect him in 1960.

Senator Sparkman refused to make the sacrifice simply to carry out southern vengeance against Senator Douglas.

Facing Realities

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK—The U. S. Treasury in its newest financing — $15 billion — faced realities and passed up for the time being any further switch of the debt into long term securities.

The two previous long term offerings — last spring and earlier this month — missed the market.

Last year's long term issue resulted in a demoralized market, from which it has yet to recover. Last spring and summer's crackup was one of the worst debacles in bond market history.

The long term bonds sold earlier this month are selling below the offering price even after a rally in governments.

The Treasury could hardly take another crack on the head or a kick elsewhere on the anatomy.

The new financing is all in short term securities — 3-year 4 per cent notes and one-year 3¾ per cent certificates. This is a "roll over." The new securities will be issued only in exchange for maturing issues. There will be no cash subscriptions.

Outside the regular short term bill offerings — none of which will be for cash under the new Treasury policy — there will be no more Treasury financing until April. The Treasury, to meet payrolls and other cash needs, will have to come into the market then.

The Treasury in the year ahead has more than $80½ billion in securities maturing, including the issues to be swapped for the new offering. This $80½ billion also includes nearly $2 billion in "E" bonds, and $1¾ billion in savings "F" and "G" bonds.

The Treasury is on the spot, largely as a result of its failure five and six years ago to refinance more of its debt into long term issues. Then it could have financed at around 2½ per cent. Now it has trouble getting money at 4 per cent.

The Federal Reserve has had a role in this, putting up money rates.

What the Treasury and the Federal Reserve do sets the pattern for the money market. The public fails to realize this, and when investors see Government bonds dumped because of the changing interest pattern they put part of the blame on a flight from the dollar. If there ever is a real flight from the dollar, the Treasury will be in trouble. So will everyone else.

One thing the Treasury can never explain is why a little "E" savings bond investor can only get 3¼ per cent for his money — and then only after holding his bonds more than 8 years — while large institutional investors now can get 4 per cent.

Research Points Way To Vaccine Against Cancer

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A vaccine for cancer may not be just around the corner but there is a good possibility that one will be developed within the next quarter century. This is a risky prediction, considering that the cause of the disease is not known.

There is growing evidence that the body attempts to develop resistance to malignant cells much as it does against invaders such as bacteria and viruses. The same action occurs when foreign tissues are implanted, such as a skin graft from another person or from an animal. These grafts may "take" for a short time but are not permanent. They are less useful than a person's own skin.

The body reacts to infection by forming protective antibodies that attach themselves to and inactivate the particular invader. These antibodies are protein molecules and the biochemist makes use of them in testing and treating diseases.

The Salk vaccine, for example, helps the system develop antibodies against polio. These antibodies can be measured in the blood and they increase markedly after the vaccine is administered. The increase is comparable to that which occurs after an attack of polio, showing that the degree of immunity is about the same.

Dr. Salk has been working on a comparable vaccine for cancer. The main drawback is lack of basic knowledge concerning the difference between a normal and a cancer cell. All cells are complicated structures and there must be some constituent or chemical in the cancer cell that is not in the normal cell, or vice versa. If this substance could be isolated and injected into a human or an animal, we might be able to create the antibodies necessary to protect us against cancer.

Thousands of studies along this line have been done. For example, when certain tumors are created artificially in rats, antibodies form that protect them from getting more tumors of the same type. In another experiment, a ratty substance was found in the cells of eight different rat cancers that did not exist in normal rat cells. Similar work on human malignancies has been less rewarding.

HEEL DEFECT

J. P. writes: Our 1 year old boy has tight heel cords and cannot stand flat on his feet. We are using braces at night to lengthen these cords. What could have caused this condition?

REPLY

Many children come into the world with imperfections of some sort or another. Unless a short tendon Achilles runs in your family, this must be a developmental defect. The cause of the latter is not known except that something happened at the time this part of your boy's anatomy was being formed. You might have had a cold or other type of viral infection or you may have been under physical or emotional stress at that time.

BEAUTIFUL BABY

Mrs. E. writes: My baby was not wrinkled when born. Is this because I had a caesarean birth?

REPLY

No. The amount of fat under the skin determines whether wrinkling is present, and how much. This never presents a problem, however, as the wrinkles disappear soon after the baby takes nourishment.

LOCKED FINGERS

C. P. writes: Could arthritis cause the fingers to lock after holding them rigid for a while, as in reading?

REPLY

Yes, in that stiffness is a symptom of arthritis. When it occurs in the circumstances mentioned, the condition is not too serious. It probably is associated with years of wear and tear.

NEGATIVE URINE

F. B. writes: If the urine is negative for sugar, could a person still have diabetes?

REPLY

Yes, even though the majority of diabetics show sugar in the urine. Exceptions occur, and if there is any question, further urinalyses and a test of the sugar level of the blood are indicated.

WHICH ONE DRIVES?

M. R. writes: Is it safe for a person with a split personality to drive?

REPLY

If the person you refer to has a mental disease like schizophrenia, the answer is no.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A pair of Communists from a satellite delegation sneaked off to Miami Beach for a stolen weekend. "What a glorious place this is!" enthused one. "Such gorgeous hotels! Such sun! Such beautiful girls!"

"Not so loud, you fool," warned the other. "The miserable capitalists will hear you and start enjoying it, too!"

A mixed-up industrialist who's been haunting psychoanalysts for seven years explained to his accountant, "It's not the cost of the analysis that bothers me; it's all the loose change that slips out of my pockets while I'm lying on the couch!"

Mao is trying to operate a Marxist communal state in Red China, a reduction of the human being to the condition of a voice-less, will-less creature, absolutely subject to the power of the authority of the state. This is called a Leftist Deviation among Communists, was tried in Soviet Russia in the early years of the Revolution and rejected, and endangers both agricultural and industrial production.

Khrushchev is not worried so much about that as he is that Mao will drive the Chinese people into a counter-revolution of great violence which would either give the "imperialists" an occasion for intervention in China or which could force Soviet Russia to intervene on a large scale, thus consuming resources, slowing up developments and perhaps disclosing the weakness of the Soviet Universal State. The Russians show every evidence of being frightened by what Mao is doing to his own people.

Chou En-lai did not refer to any of this. Therefore his speech was of little significance, for the delegates to the 21st Congress, mostly party workers, know what problems are presented by this Leftist Deviation and a mere declaration of unity and an accusation that the United States is attempting to break up this unity can make little impression upon them. They have heard all that before.

They know that unity was achieved by force and is maintained by force and that anything that weakens the Kremlin's power to use force, imperils the Revolution. This is the essential complaint against Tito who, while remaining a Marxist, has established an independent state which the Kremlin cannot reach by force without starting World War III and which therefore imperils the entire structure of the Soviet Universal State.

There can be no question but that the important purpose of Anastas Mikoyan's visit to the United States was to strengthen Nikita Khrushchev's position at the 21st Congress either by some decision which would bring an end to the Cold War on Soviet Russia's terms or by indicating to the delegates that there was hope of a two person summit conference in the very near future—the two persons being Eisenhower and Khrushchev. Mikoyan brought nothing home and therefore Khrushchev's speech, so far as it has been reported, contains no triumphant note.

Perhaps there will be another speech or some act during or immediately after the Congress which will give us a better indication of what Khrushchev is thinking or why he called this Congress at this time. Russian Communist Party Congresses are important and are never called without reason. The reason for this Congress is not yet clear.

Doesn't Look In The Plowing Mood

A Chaser For The Official Soothing Syrup

By Joseph Alsop

WASHINGTON

A chaser is in order, after such deluges of Defense Department soothing syrup. As a possible chaser, or maybe even as an antidote to all the syrupy assurances that the missile gap really hardly matters at all, consider the following true story. Not long ago, the appearance in the air of the first Soviet jet fighter, the Mig-15, was taken in Washington almost as a personal affront. The Air Force view was voiced by the late Chief of Air Staff, Gen. Hoyt. Vandenberg. He declared that the new plane "could not be in quantity production, although perhaps the Soviets could turn out five or six a month by hand-tooling."

When asked for the justification of this opinion, Gen. Vandenberg angrily pointed to the difficulties the American Air Force was having in producing good jet engines in quantity. The General was strongly supported by George F. Kennan, the State Department's leading resident Russian expert of that period. Kennan then used to say—and believe—that "the Soviets can't even quantity-produce good bicycles."

In this atmosphere, after some time had passed, the Central Intelligence Agency came up with evidence that the Soviets were actually turning out 300 Mig-15s each month—and this at a time when the only comparable U. S. fighter, the F-86, was being produced at the rate of eight per month. Naturally the C. I. A. evidence was ridiculed by all.

Nonetheless, Paul H. Nitze asked the C. I. A. to make a theoretical deployment of Soviet Mig-15s, based on an assumed production rate of 300 monthly. In those days—as can be told now—extremely high altitude photo reconnaissance of the Soviet Union was not difficult. Nitze therefore arranged for photo-reconnaissance of the airfields included in the C. I. A.'s theoretical deployment plan for the Migs. The photographs revealed exactly 50 per cent more Mig-15s on the airfields than the C. I. A. had said would be there. And in the end, the Soviets built 10,000 of these Migs that Gen. Vandenberg had been so sure they would have to "hand-tool."

The story suggests how grossly honest men can underrate Soviet military-industrial capabilities, merely from pride and prejudice. But this is not the story's only point, the truth is that the fantastic misjudgement of Soviet Mig-15 output was a fairly typical performance.

As in the case of the Mig-15, the raw material brought in by the C. I. A. has generally been pretty good. But the American government has consistently read the raw intelligence through the most rose-colored spectacles. For this reason, from the first Soviet atomic bomb down to the first Soviet intercontinental missile, the American government has regularly been taken by surprise. The Soviets have regularly turned out new weapons sooner, and they have regularly produced them in larger quantities, than was forecast by the American official estimates.

So far as is known, there is only one major exception to this melancholy rule. The Soviets designed and built their B-52 type "Bisor" bomber in about three years less time than the American "national estimates" allowed; but they decided in the end not to produce as many "Bisons" as the American estimates had forecast. The Eisenhower administration is obsessed with this past error, which drove even Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson to order an increase in B-52 production. The "Bison" story is constantly cited at the Pentagon, nowadays, to justify the happy, happy, happy official estimates of the Soviet missile program.

To begin with, however, we had better thank God for this solitary divergence into pessimism. Without it, the United States would have far less of the long-range air power that the President and Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy now swear is a completely satisfactory answer to superior Soviet power in long-range missiles. Moreover the pessimistic mistake about the "Bison" program was directly related to an even greater mistake on the optimistic side—the American government's gross under-estimation of Soviet progress with ballistic missiles, which permitted the Kremlin to cut down "Bison" output in favor of IRBMs and ICBMs.

There are two further things that also need saying. In the first place, the likelihood of optimistic error is certainly greater today than ever before, because of the intense White House and Budget Bureau pressure to think happy, happy, happy, money-saving thoughts. And in the second place, if errors in the intelligence estimates are now being made in the old way, they are nonetheless errors of a wholly new character. They no longer concern Mig-15s, solely useful for the defense of Soviet territory, or even atom bombs lacking any efficient means of delivery. These new errors, if made, concern weapons which can write "finis" to the story of this Republic and the history of human freedoms.

Ike, Stung By Criticism, Reaches For More Leadership In Party

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — The President was a lot madder over the Republican criticism against him at Des Moines than he let on at his press conference. Privately he boils at the insinuation that his leadership was responsible for the Democratic landslide last November.

The Des Moines needling has had a healthy effect, however. For those who meet weekly with Ike to map strategy can see him reaching for leadership as never before. He seems to realize that he has only two years to go and in that short time he must repair the political damage and make his record as a great President. He wants to leave the White House with the same popularity as when he entered.

One year ago Ike was talking wistfully about the Queen of England and her relatively easy job of laying cornerstones and making speeches. Now he seems to realize that the United States cannot be run that way. He now even reads the papers himself, doesn't depend on the abbreviated news summary prepared by his staff. He asks more questions of Congressional leaders, has more suggestions to make. He is irked at the way Sen. Lyndon Johnson and the Democrats have stolen the initiative, but he isn't sulking over it. He's determined to catch up.

Adenauer Spanked

President Eisenhower sent a chiding message to crusty old Chancellor Adenauer of West Germany the other day, urging him to cooperate more with the West in solving the Berlin crisis. The "diplomatic spanking" was sent before Eisenhower knew that West German businessmen had agreed to sell Russia the 12,000 miles of steel pipe which the United States government had refused to let American businessmen sell. If he had known this, possibly the message would have been stronger.

What Eisenhower wants Adenauer to do is cut off West Germany's trade with East Germany in case of a Russian blockade, and to announce this in advance.

The East Germans rely so heavily on West German trade to keep their economy going that they might throw up their hands and tell their friends in the Kremlin to change their tactics if Adenauer should cut off all trade. However, Adenauer, who is urging the West to fight to the last man to save Berlin, has refused so far to consider cutting off trade. He claims such a trade boycott would hurt only the East German people who are anti-Communist, not the government.

The State Department refuses to accept this explanation, and has urged Eisenhower to keep needling Adenauer. The State Department is convinced that West German businessmen just don't want to interrupt their lucrative commerce across the border, regardless of Berlin's fate.

Summit Conference Politics

British elections again are getting mixed up in the business of whether there should be a summit conference.

Prime Minister Macmillan's political advisers are urging him to press for a summit conference with the Russians to be held sometime in May. Immediately afterward, they advise him to call for nationwide elections. And with the prestige and glamor of a summit conference to their credit, the Conservatives believe they could easily defeat the Labor party.

This is the second time domestic politics in Britain has intruded into the foreign-policy field. President Eisenhower agreed to the 1955 summit conference in Geneva, even though he didn't want it, to help Anthony Eden win a British election.

This time, however, the British Foreign Office doesn't agree with the Conservative party. British diplomats want to start with a foreign ministers' conference to test Russian sincerity, then proceed with the summit conference late. And Macmillan just hasn't made up his mind.

Enemy Of Dictators

It was Congressman Charles Porter of Oregon, the enemy of dictators, who helped induce Fidel Castro of Cuba to move his war crimes trials out of the Havana Sports Coliseum where they had every appearance of a Roman holiday.

While Castro was addressing the jam-packed crowd thirsting for blood, Porter sent him a note tactfully suggesting that the crowd could easily get out of hand. Porter has been the member of Congress who first carried the ball against all Latin American dictators — from Trujillo of the Dominican Republic to Perez Jiminez of Venezuela. He began attacking Batista and helping Castro a long time ago.

So when Castro received a note from the friendly American Congressman, he read it, and mentioned it to the crowd. Nevertheless, he kept on talking. Next day, he moved them out of the Coliseum.

Southern Spitework

There's an untold story behind the belated appointment of Sen. Paul Douglas of Illinois as chairman of the Joint Economic Committee.

Southerners wanted to punish Douglas for leading the anti-filibuster fight. So they urged Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama to take the chairmanship of the Economic Committee away from Douglas, which he could do by pulling his seniority.

The only way Sparkman could do this, however, was by giving up the chairmanship of the Senate Small Business Committee, which gives him the power to help Alabama small businessmen — who, in turn, might help re-elect him in 1960.

Senator Sparkman refused to make the sacrifice simply to carry out southern vengeance against Senator Douglas.

Facing Realities

By Leslie Gould

NEW YORK—The U. S. Treasury in its newest financing — $15 billion — faced realities and passed up for the time being any further switch of the debt into long term securities.

The two previous long term offerings — last spring and earlier this month — missed the market.

Last year's long term issue resulted in a demoralized market, from which it has yet to recover. Last spring and summer's crackup was one of the worst debacles in bond market history.

The long term bonds sold earlier this month are selling below the offering price even after a rally in governments.

The Treasury could hardly take another crack on the head or a kick elsewhere on the anatomy.

The new financing is all in short term securities — 3-year 4 per cent notes and one-year 3¾ per cent certificates. This is a "roll over." The new securities will be issued only in exchange for maturing issues. There will be no cash subscriptions.

Outside the regular short term bill offerings — none of which will be for cash under the new Treasury policy — there will be no more Treasury financing until April. The Treasury, to meet payrolls and other cash needs, will have to come into the market then.

The Treasury in the year ahead has more than $80½ billion in securities maturing, including the issues to be swapped for the new offering. This $80½ billion also includes nearly $2 billion in "E" bonds, and $1¾ billion in savings "F" and "G" bonds.

The Treasury is on the spot, largely as a result of its failure five and six years ago to refinance more of its debt into long term issues. Then it could have financed at around 2½ per cent. Now it has trouble getting money at 4 per cent.

The Federal Reserve has had a role in this, putting up money rates.

What the Treasury and the Federal Reserve do sets the pattern for the money market. The public fails to realize this, and when investors see Government bonds dumped because of the changing interest pattern they put part of the blame on a flight from the dollar. If there ever is a real flight from the dollar, the Treasury will be in trouble. So will everyone else.

One thing the Treasury can never explain is why a little "E" savings bond investor can only get 3¼ per cent for his money — and then only after holding his bonds more than 8 years — while large institutional investors now can get 4 per cent.

Research Points Way To Vaccine Against Cancer

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

A vaccine for cancer may not be just around the corner but there is a good possibility that one will be developed within the next quarter century. This is a risky prediction, considering that the cause of the disease is not known.

There is growing evidence that the body attempts to develop resistance to malignant cells much as it does against invaders such as bacteria and viruses. The same action occurs when foreign tissues are implanted, such as a skin graft from another person or from an animal. These grafts may "take" for a short time but are not permanent. They are less useful than a person's own skin.

The body reacts to infection by forming protective antibodies that attach themselves to and inactivate the particular invader. These antibodies are protein molecules and the biochemist makes use of them in testing and treating diseases.

The Salk vaccine, for example, helps the system develop antibodies against polio. These antibodies can be measured in the blood and they increase markedly after the vaccine is administered. The increase is comparable to that which occurs after an attack of polio, showing that the degree of immunity is about the same.

Dr. Salk has been working on a comparable vaccine for cancer. The main drawback is lack of basic knowledge concerning the difference between a normal and a cancer cell. All cells are complicated structures and there must be some constituent or chemical in the cancer cell that is not in the normal cell, or vice versa. If this substance could be isolated and injected into a human or an animal, we might be able to create the antibodies necessary to protect us against cancer.

Thousands of studies along this line have been done. For example, when certain tumors are created artificially in rats, antibodies form that protect them from getting more tumors of the same type. In another experiment, a ratty substance was found in the cells of eight different rat cancers that did not exist in normal rat cells. Similar work on human malignancies has been less rewarding.

HEEL DEFECT

J. P. writes: Our 1 year old boy has tight heel cords and cannot stand flat on his feet. We are using braces at night to lengthen these cords. What could have caused this condition?

REPLY

Many children come into the world with imperfections of some sort or another. Unless a short tendon Achilles runs in your family, this must be a developmental defect. The cause of the latter is not known except that something happened at the time this part of your boy's anatomy was being formed. You might have had a cold or other type of viral infection or you may have been under physical or emotional stress at that time.

BEAUTIFUL BABY

Mrs. E. writes: My baby was not wrinkled when born. Is this because I had a caesarean birth?

REPLY

No. The amount of fat under the skin determines whether wrinkling is present, and how much. This never presents a problem, however, as the wrinkles disappear soon after the baby takes nourishment.

LOCKED FINGERS

C. P. writes: Could arthritis cause the fingers to lock after holding them rigid for a while, as in reading?

REPLY

Yes, in that stiffness is a symptom of arthritis. When it occurs in the circumstances mentioned, the condition is not too serious. It probably is associated with years of wear and tear.

NEGATIVE URINE

F. B. writes: If the urine is negative for sugar, could a person still have diabetes?

REPLY

Yes, even though the majority of diabetics show sugar in the urine. Exceptions occur, and if there is any question, further urinalyses and a test of the sugar level of the blood are indicated.

WHICH ONE DRIVES?

M. R. writes: Is it safe for a person with a split personality to drive?

REPLY

If the person you refer to has a mental disease like schizophrenia, the answer is no.

To the limit of space questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me

A pair of Communists from a satellite delegation sneaked off to Miami Beach for a stolen weekend. "What a glorious place this is!" enthused one. "Such gorgeous hotels! Such sun! Such beautiful girls!"

The Loyal Order of Moose made it two straight wins in the second half race of the City Basketball League by downing the Forty & Eight Club last night at Fort Hill High School. The score was 66-55.

In the other half of the twin bill, the Knights of Columbus took the Old Exports into camp by the score of 83-64.

Kenny Johnson headed the Moose attack with 18 points. George McGregor garnered 14. Ronnie Cage 11 and Don Lilya 10. John Poling's 16 tallies was high for the Box Car Society. Paul Mason tossed in 13 and Bill Day 10.

The Knights of Columbus broke a 15-15 tie on a foul shot by Jerry Farrell and a field goal by Mullaney in the second period and never were headed thereafter. They held a 38-25 advantage at intermission.

Donnie Madden, Farrell and Regis Fair were the Caseys' "big guns" with 22, 21 and 20 tallies. Ronnie Bruce and Bob Pence sparked the Old Exports with 21 and 20. Box scores:

Bert Lawler's 605 Is New K.C. Record

Bert Lawler hung up a season high in the Knights of Columbus Bowling League when he toppled 605 pins in three games as the Recorders scored a 2-1 decision over the Grand Knights last night on the Club Recreation alleys.

The previous high was 591 and was set by Don Palmer.

Blaik Will Join Avco Corporation

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl H. (Red) Blaik, who retires Feb. 15 as Army football coach and athletic director, will join a New York company (Avco Manufacturing Corp.) the next day as a vice president and member of the management committee.

The company is active in a number of fields, ranging from space reserve to television broadcasting. Whether Blaik will specialize in any one field was not indicated in Monday's joint announcement by him and the company.

D.D. Best Patrons Deserve Recognition — Our Best Salesmen Quotes After Dinner

By C. V. BURNS

RESIDENTS of Allegany County outside of Cumberland have been patronizing Dapper Dan dinners for many years and we would like to suggest that the local organization consider coaches and athletes of the entire county for the "special achievement award" in future years.

We'll venture to say that almost one-third of the persons attending Sunday's eleventh annual dinner were from the county outside of Cumberland and we believe they and theirs should be recognized in appreciation for their fine support.

Several years ago Paul "Bubbles" Thompson, of Midland, who starred on the gridiron for George Washington University, received the Dapper Dan Award and the following year the organization decreed that hereafter the plaque would go to a Cumberlander. The "special achievement award" leaves the door open to recognition on a county-wide scale and we believe it would be a progressive step if such action is taken.

PHIL GEATZ couldn't be blamed for not making the trip from Miami, Fla., because no cash for transportation was offered him. The fare for a round trip from Florida is much greater than the outlay for the award he was to receive. Then too, the Dapper Dans operate on a small budget and can't afford transportation for anyone coming a great distance to Cumberland.

A NUMBER of celebrities billed to appear here failed to show up but even at that the average was better than .500 and that's very good in any league, including the knife and fork circuit. There were several good replacements, however, in Lennie Dawson, one time Purdue quarterback, and now a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Frank Toomey, a swell guy who is the new backfield coach at the University of Maryland.

Anyhow, when fellows like Dick Groat, Ronnie Kline, "Chuck" Tanner and Paul Smith are on your side it means plenty to the Dapper Dans because they are topnotch fellows and real boosters of Cumberland. Do you know any better traveling salesmen?

A few quotes by those attending the 11th annual affair:

ED BOYLE, Allegheny County (Pa.) District Attorney:

"Hope you fans can come to the World Series in Pittsburgh this year. If you need tickets to the All-Star game in Pittsburgh contact Dick Groat. If Groat can't get them see Ronnie Kline or try Al Abrams, who gets the biggest share."

PAUL SMITH, of the Chicago Cubs:

"I played ball here last fall. This is the greatest place in the world and one of the greatest sports towns in the world."

MAL ALBERTS, of Pittsburgh, toastmaster:

"The greatest lies in the world are being told in this room—down in front of me, especially. (Smith, Tanner, Kline and Groat were seated there.")

WHITEY DOVELL, assistant football coach, University of Maryland:

"There is no de-emphasis at Maryland. We just had a recession. I'm here on a recruiting mission. Tom Nugent (Terps' new coach) likes to throw the ball and plays a wide open game."

ART DE CARLO, of the Baltimore Colts, NFL champions:

"I was a former Steeler and came to Baltimore via the Redskins. I consider that a very good move on my part."

REP. JOHN R. FOLEY, of Maryland's Sixth District:

"When a man is too old to play any game he goes into politics. I've been trying for three years to get Lefty Grove's autograph and he has been turning me down by saying he is only for winners. Politicians aren't liars, they just sound that way."

"CHUCK" TANNER, of the Chicago Cubs:

"I'm going to talk the way I hit last season—very little. We wouldn't have been here tonight if we lost that game here last October in which a left-handed batter hit Roy Face for a grand slam homer. If the Cubs can't win the pennant this year I hope the Pirates do."

DICK GROAT, Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop and captain:

"Many have asked me about the trading of Frank Thomas and how I feel about the Pirates this year. Before Thomas was traded to Cincinnati, I felt we had a good chance to win the pennant. Now that he is gone I have not changed my mind. Too bad Morrie Siegel, of Washington, is not here tonight. Remember, several years ago how he needled me about the Pirates being in the cellar? If he were here I would have some choice words for him."

FRANK TOOMEY, new backfield coach at Maryland, who came from Florida State with Tom Nugent:

"I coached at Florida State for five years and scouted Miami. I regard Phil Geatz as an outstanding defensive end. Nugent is installing the "I" formation at Maryland and I'm sure you will find him a good coach."

I. ELMER ECKER, Pittsburgh attorney, who has been associated with the Dapper Dans for many years:

"Al Abrams is the "big daddy" of all Dapper Dans. He founded the organization 27 years ago. Now he's trying to figure out how to get 80 sports celebrities at the main table of 36 places for next Sunday's Dapper Dan dinner in Pittsburgh. (Tickets to that one cost $15. The pasteboards to Sunday's affair here were $5)

AL ABRAMS, after presenting autographed football and baseball to Dave Cassell, 11, representative of the Allegany League for Crippled Children:

"Would you like to say a few words, David?"

When Cassell failed to respond, Abrams said:

"I suppose his legal department wouldn't let him talk."

MAL ALBERTS, toastmaster, recalling the 1956 season when he was broadcasting Notre Dame football games and Lenny Dawson was the Purdue quarterback:

"Lennie really took the Irish apart that day. Notre Dame had 49 separate injuries that season. Terry Brennan's wife was expecting and the Notre Dame coach feared the baby would be born with a bad shoulder."

GONE but not forgotten by the Dapper Dans were Clifton "Tippy" Fuller and W. Arnold Gunther, who died since last year's dinner. The guests stood in silence for one minute in honoring the memory of the two former Cumberland sportsmen.

REV. BRUCE PRICE, pastor of Park Place Methodist Church:

"No man stands straighter than when he stoops to help a child."

Elston Howard Signs Contract

Yankee Is Winner Babe Ruth Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Elston Howard, the New York Yankees' catcher - outfielder - first baseman, wore a wide grin Monday. He had signed a contract for a reported $25,000 salary and won the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding player of the 1958 World Series.

The award actually was voted some time ago by the New York baseball writers, but it was not announced previously. It will be presented to Howard on opening day at Yankee Stadium, April 10.

Howard climaxed his contract negotiations Sunday night at a brief session with club officials. The news was released Monday.

Howard, who will be 29 on Feb. 23, hit .314 during the regular season. For a long time he led the league in batting although it was obvious he would not be at bat enough times to make it official. He finished 11 points behind Ted Williams.

Grand Jury Acquits Newcombe Brothers

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Pitcher Don Newcombe of the Cincinnati Redlegs was acquitted Thursday of charges arising out of a fracas at his tavern in 1957. So were his two brothers.

The Essex County grand jury was out 65 minutes before returning its verdict.

Don and his brother Norman were found innocent of atrocious assault and battery charges. Another brother, Harold, was found innocent on threatening the complainant with a gun.

The charges had been brought by Ulysses Ross, a former East Orange cop, who said Don and Norman roughed him up when they ushered him out of Don's tavern Dec. 22, 1957.

Mountaineers Meet Pitt Quint Tonight

MORGANTOWN, W. Va. (UPI) — West Virginia University will be attempting to keep three win streaks going when it meets Pitt before a sellout crowd Tuesday night.

The Mountaineers will be after their 10th consecutive win of the season, their 30th in a row at home and their fifth straight over their traditional rivals, the Panthers.

Ridgeley High Pinmen Upset LaSalle, 3-0

Allegany Cops Lead, Athey's 554 Record

Ridgeley High School provided a stunning upset in the Bi-State Interscholastic Bowling League yesterday by sweeping three games from LaSalle High School on the Capital alleys and knocked the Explorers out of first place in the four-school circuit.

Allegany took over the leadership by winning two out of three games from Fort Hill and dropped the Sentinels into the league cellar.

Ridgeley moved into third place by toppling 2,205 maples with games of 712, 772 and 721 against LaSalle's total of 2,099 on games of 617, 769 and 713.

Powell sparked the Blackhawks with high set of 111-114-163—388 while Kincaid was runner-up with 363. Powell's 163 was high game. Blake was the only LaSalle bowler in three games and his total was 345. Offutt had high game of 159 for the losers.

Jim Hager led Allegany to victory with a set of 152-112-153—417 and was trailed by Paul Ossip with a 398.

Ray Athey of Fort Hill, however, set a season high of 554, posting games of 212, 197 and 145. Ed Dawson was runner-up with 435.

Fort Hill won the first game, 826-745 but lost the second 744-721 and also the third 735-715. The totals were: Fort Hill 2,262 and Allegany 2,224. The standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Allegany	10	5	.667
LaSalle	9	6	.600
Ridgeley	6	9	.400
Fort Hill	5	10	.333

Boland Wins Woolf Award

ARCADIA, Calif. (UPI) — Bill Boland, who nine years ago as an apprentice jockey won the Kentucky Derby on Middleground, Monday was selected the 1959 winner of the George Woolf Memorial jockey award by turf writers covering the Santa Anita meeting.

The award is presented annually in honor of the late jockey Woolf who lost his life in a racing accident at Santa Anita in 1946. The winner is selected as the rider who is a credit to his profession.

Boland, 25, is a native of Corpus Christi, Tex. He rode his first winner at Belmont Park on May 13, 1949, at the age of 15. Since then he has won more than 1150 races.

Celtics Are Opposed To NBA's Expansion

NEW YORK (UPI) —Asserting that National Basketball Assn. teams are "strung out like a bunch of freight cars," Walter Brown of the Boston Celtics Monday took a stand against expansion to the West Coast "until we have attained competitive balance."

"Lack of balance is hurting the whole league," Brown told the New York Basketball Writers Assn. "We shouldn't expand westward until we strengthen the teams we have now."

Cincinnati Wins

CINCINNATI (AP)—Oscar Robertson got king-sized help from Dave Tenwick Monday night as the University of Cincinnati's fifth-rated Bearcats registered an 84-71 Missouri Valley Conference basketball victory over Tulsa. Robertson, as usual, was high with 27 points. But Tenwick was right behind with 24.

Alva Kelley Quits Brown For Grid Post At Colgate

Gets 5-Year Pact, Will Succeed Rice

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Alva Kelley resigned Monday as Brown University football coach to accept a similar post at Colgate University with a five year contract.

Kelley had been offered a new 5-year contract, one that would have increased his pay to $11,500, to remain at Brown where in eight seasons his teams won 31 games, lost 39 and played two ties.

Kelley, 40, an All-East end at Cornell in 1939, is expected to have better material at Colgate which still has ambitions to become the ninth member of the Ivy group.

Kelley is one of a dozen invited to Colgate recently for interviews as possible successors to Fred Rice who resigned after two poor seasons.

Mrs. Hank Greenberg Is Granted Divorce

CULLMAN, Ala. (AP) — Hank Greenberg and his wife, Caral, were divorced here Jan. 15, court records show.

Mrs. Greenberg, the former Caral Gimbel and heiress to a New York department store fortune, filed for divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Records included a waiver signed by Greenberg, meaning the divorce was uncontested.

Greenberg is a member of baseball's Hall of Fame and a former general manager of the Cleveland Indians.

The Greenbergs were married Feb. 18, 1946, and have three children—Glenn, 11, Stephen, 9, and Val, 5.

Pen-Mar League To Meet Sunday

The Pen-Mar Baseball League, which has been in operation for ten consecutive years, will hold its first winter session Sunday at 1:30 p. m., at Melody Manor, Barrelville.

The league has functioned with eight teams in recent years. Hyndman's Merchants won the pennant last year and Barrelville's Old Exports won the playoffs.

Holdovers from last season and all other teams interested in obtaining franchises are urged to have representatives at Sunday's session.

Nellie Fox Given Boost In Salary

CHICAGO (UPI)—Second baseman Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox saved an estimated $5,000 in 30 minutes of conversation with Vice President Charles Comiskey Monday before he signed his 1959 contract at an estimated salary of more than $40,000.

Fox, the highest paid player on the Sox last year, received a slight increase, it was understood, even though the initial contract sent him called for a cut to $35,000.

Fox led the club in hitting last season, batting .300, and led the league in hits for the third time with 187 and in fewest strikeouts with 98.

He was the 20th Sox player to sign, leaving 19 unsigned.

West Virginia Interested In Negro Players

Coach Art Lewis Looking Them Over

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia University Football Coach Art Lewis has been talking with several outstanding West Virginia high school Negro athletes, Charleston Daily Mail Sports editor Dick Hudson said Monday.

Hudson observed that WVU "never has had a Negro athlete, but that situation may soon end." Hudson said Lewis was "looking over several colored stars," and quoted the coach that, "We must check them as athletes and also as potential college students."

Lewis talked with Weirton's outstanding halfback Tom Bloom at the recent Victory Awards Dinner in Huntington. Hudson said Lewis commented, "They tell me Bloom is a better football player than Bob Jeter, and you know about him."

Jeter was a high school star at Weirton after the school was integrated and went on to Iowa where he starred last season on the Rose Bowl championship Hawkeye team.

The Loyal Order of Moose made it two straight wins in the second half race of the City Basketball League by downing the Forty & Eight Club last night at Fort Hill High School. The score was 66-55.

In the other half of the twin bill, the Knights of Columbus took the Old Exports into camp by the score of 83-64.

Kenny Johnson headed the Moose attack with 18 points, George McGregor garnered 14, Ronnie Cage 11 and Don Lilya 10. John Poling's 16 tallies was high for the Box Car Society. Paul Mason tossed in 13 and Bill Day 10.

The Knights of Columbus broke a 15-15 tie on a foul shot by Jerry Farrell and a field goal by Mullaney in the second period and never were headed thereafter. They held a 38-25 advantage at intermission.

Donnie Madden, Farrell and Regis Fair were the Caseys' "big guns" with 22, 21 and 20 tallies. Ronnie Bruce and Bob Pence sparked the Old Exports with 21 and 20. Box scores:

Blaik Will Join Avco Corporation

NEW YORK (AP) — Earl H. (Red) Blaik, who retires Feb. 15 as Army football coach and athletic director, will join a New York company (Avco Manufacturing Corp.) the next day as a vice president and member of the management committee.

The company is active in a number of fields, ranging from space reserve to television broadcasting. Whether Blaik will specialize in any one field was not indicated in Monday's joint announcement by him and the company.

NELLIE INKS CHISOX PACT—Light for Nellie Fox's cigar—he chaws on the field—is provided by Chuck Comiskey, vice president of the Chicago White Sox, after the second baseman donned a cap after signing his 1959 contract at Chicago. Comiskey yesterday filed suit in probate court seeking to prevent his sister, Mrs. Dorothy Comiskey Rigney, from selling her majority interest in the club to a syndicate headed by Bill Veeck. D.D. Best Patrons Deserve Recognition

Our Best Salesmen Quotes After Dinner

By C. V. BURNS

RESIDENTS of Allegany County outside of Cumberland have been patronizing Dapper Dan dinners for many years and we would like to suggest that the local organization consider coaches and athletes of the entire county for the "special achievement award" in future years.

We'll venture to say that almost one-third of the persons attending Sunday's eleventh annual dinner were from the county outside of Cumberland and we believe they and theirs should be recognized in appreciation for their fine support.

Several years ago Paul "Bubbles" Thompson, of Midland, who starred on the gridiron for George Washington University, received the Dapper Dan Award and the following year the organization decreed that hereafter the plaque would go to a Cumberlander. The "special achievement award" leaves the door open to recognition on a county-wide scale and we believe it would be a progressive step if such action is taken.

PHIL GEATZ couldn't be blamed for not making the trip from Miami, Fla., because no cash for transportation was offered him. The fare for a round trip from Florida is much greater than the outlay for the award he was to receive. Then too, the Dapper Dans operate on a small budget and can't afford transportation for anyone coming a great distance to Cumberland.

A NUMBER of celebrities billed to appear here failed to show up but even at that the average was better than .500 and that's very good in any league, including the knife and fork circuit. There were several good replacements, however, in Lennie Dawson, one time Purdue quarterback, and now a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers, and Frank Toomey, a swell guy who is the new backfield coach at the University of Maryland.

Anyhow, when fellows like Dick Groat, Ronnie Kline, "Chuck" Tanner and Paul Smith are on your side it means plenty to the Dapper Dans because they are topnotch fellows and real boosters of Cumberland. Do you know any better traveling salesmen?

A few quotes by those attending the 11th annual affair:

ED BOYLE, Allegheny County (Pa.) District Attorney:

"Hope you fans can come to the World Series in Pittsburgh this year. If you need tickets to the All-Star game in Pittsburgh contact Dick Groat. If Groat can't get them see Ronnie Kline or try Al Abrams, who gets the biggest share."

PAUL SMITH, of the Chicago Cubs:

"I played ball here last fall. This is the greatest place in the world and one of the greatest sports towns in the world."

MAL ALBERTS, of Pittsburgh, toastmaster:

"The greatest lies in the world are being told in this room—down in front of me, especially. (Smith, Tanner, Kline and Groat were seated there.")

WHITEY DOVELL, assistant football coach, University of Maryland:

"There is no de-emphasis at Maryland. We just had a recession. I'm here on a recruiting mission. Tom Nugent (Terps' new coach) likes to throw the ball and plays a wide open game."

ART DE CARLO, of the Baltimore Colts, NFL champions:

"I was a former Steeler and came to Baltimore via the Redskins. I consider that a very good move on my part."

REP. JOHN R. FOLEY, of Maryland's Sixth District:

"When a man is too old to play any game he goes into politics. I've been trying for three years to get Lefty Grove's autograph and he has been turning me down by saying he is only for winners. Politicians aren't liars, they just sound that way."

"CHUCK" TANNER, of the Chicago Cubs:

"I'm going to talk the way I hit last season—very little. We woundn't have been here tonight if we lost that game here last October in which a left-handed batter hit Roy Face for a grand slam homer. If the Cubs can't win the pennant this year I hope the Pirates do."

DICK GROAT, Pittsburgh Pirates' shortstop and captain:

"Many have asked me about the trading of Frank Thomas and how I feel about the Pirates this year. Before Thomas was traded to Cincinnati, I felt we had a good chance to win the pennant. Now that he is gone I have not changed my mind. Too bad Morrie Siegel, of Washington, is not here tonight. Remember, several years ago how he needled me about the Pirates being in the cellar? If he were here I would have some choice words for him."

FRANK TOOMEY, new backfield coach at Maryland, who came from Florida State with Tom Nugent:

"I coached at Florida State for five years and scouted Miami. I regard Phil Geatz as an outstanding defensive end. Nugent is installing the "I" formation at Maryland and I'm sure you will find him a good coach."

I. ELMER ECKER, Pittsburgh attorney, who has been associated with the Dapper Dans for many years:

"Al Abrams is the "big daddy" of all Dapper Dans. He founded the organization 27 years ago. Now he's trying to figure out how to get 80 sports celebrities at the main table of 36 places for next Sunday's Dapper Dan dinner in Pittsburgh. (Tickets to that one cost $15. The pasteboards to Sunday's affair here were $5.)

AL ABRAMS, after presenting autographed football and baseball to Dave Cassell, 11, representative of the Allegany League for Crippled Children:

"Would you like to say a few words, David?"

When Cassell failed to respond, Abrams said:

"I suppose his legal department wouldn't let him talk."

MAL ALBERTS, toastmaster, recalling the 1956 season when he was broadcasting Notre Dame football games and Lenny Dawson was the Purdue quarterback:

"Lennie really took the Irish apart that day. Notre Dame had 49 separate injuries that season. Terry Brennan's wife was expecting and the Notre Dame coach feared the baby would be born with a bad shoulder."

GONE but not forgotten by the Dapper Dans were Clifton "Tippy" Fuller and W. Arnold Gunther, who died since last year's dinner. The guests stood in silence for one minute in honoring the memory of the two former Cumberland sportsmen.

REV. BRUCE PRICE, pastor of Park Place Methodist Church:

"No man stands straighter than when he stoops to help a child."

Elston Howard Signs Contract

Yankee Is Winner Babe Ruth Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Elston Howard, the New York Yankees' catcher - outfielder - first baseman, wore a wide grin Monday. He had signed a contract for a reported $25,000 salary and won the Babe Ruth Award as the outstanding player of the 1958 World Series.

The award actually was voted some time ago by the New York baseball writers, but it was not announced previously. It will be presented to Howard on opening day at Yankee Stadium, April 10.

Howard climaxed his contract negotiations Sunday night at a brief session with club officials. The news was released Monday.

Howard, who will be 29 on Feb. 23, hit .314 during the regular season. For a long time he led the league in batting although it was obvious he would not be at bat enough times to make it official. He finished 11 points behind Ted Williams.

Grand Jury Acquits Newcombe Brothers

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Pitcher Don Newcombe of the Cincinnati Redlegs was acquitted Thursday of charges arising out of a fracas at his tavern in 1957. So were his two brothers.

The Essex County grand jury was out 65 minutes before returning its verdict.

Don and his brother Norman were found innocent of atrocious assault and battery charges. Another brother, Harold, was found innocent on threatening the complainant with a gun.

The charges had been brought by Ulysses Ross, a former East Orange cop, who said Don and Norman roughed him up when they ushered him out of Don's tavern Dec. 22, 1957.

Ridgeley High Pinmen Upset LaSalle, 3-0

Allegany Cops Lead, Athey's 554 Record

Ridgeley High School provided a stunning upset in the Bi-State Interscholastic Bowling League yesterday by sweeping three games from LaSalle High School on the Capital alleys and knocked the Explorers out of first place in the four-school circuit.

Allegany took over the leadership by winning two out of three games from Fort Hill and dropped the Sentinels into the league cellar.

Ridgeley moved into third place by toppling 2,205 maples with games of 712, 772 and 721 against LaSalle's total of 2,099 on games of 617, 769 and 713.

Powell sparked the Blackhawks with high set of 111-114-163—388 while Kincaid was runner-up with 363. Powell's 163 was high game. Blake was the only LaSalle bowler in three games and his total was 345. Offutt had high game of 159 for the losers.

Jim Hager led Allegany to victory with a set of 152-112-153—417 and was trailed by Paul Ossip with a 398.

Ray Athey of Fort Hill, however, set a season high of 554, posting games of 212, 197 and 145. Ed Dawson was runner-up with 435.

Fort Hill won the first game, 826-745 but lost the second 744-721 and also the third 735-715. The totals were: Fort Hill 2,262 and Allegany 2,224. The standings:

Boland Wins Woolf Award

ARCADIA, Calif. (UPI) — Bill Boland, who nine years ago as an apprentice jockey won the Kentucky Derby on Middleground, Monday was selected the 1959 winner of the George Woolf Memorial jockey award by turf writers covering the Santa Anita meeting.

The award is presented annually in honor of the late jockey Woolf who lost his life in a racing accident at Santa Anita in 1946. The winner is selected as the rider who is a credit to his profession.

Past winners have been Gordon Glisson, Willie Shoemaker, John Longden, Eddie Arcaro, Ralph Neves, Ray York, Johnny Adams, Ted Atkinson and Merlin Volzke.

Boland, 25, is a native of Corpus Christi, Tex. He rode his first winner at Belmont Park on May 13, 1949, at the age of 15. Since then he has won more than 1150 races.

Celtics Are Opposed To NBA's Expansion

NEW YORK (UPI) —Asserting that National Basketball Assn. teams are "strung out like a bunch of freight cars," Walter Brown of the Boston Celtics Monday took a stand against expansion to the West Coast "until we have attained competitive balance."

"Lack of balance is hurting the whole league," Brown told the New York Basketball Writers Assn. "We shouldn't expand westward until we strengthen the teams we have now."

Cincinnati Wins

CINCINNATI (AP)—Oscar Robertson got king-sized help from Dave Tenwick Monday night as the University of Cincinnati's fifth-rated Bearcats registered an 84-71 Missouri Valley Conference basketball victory over Tulsa. Robertson, as usual, was high with 27 points. But Tenwick was right behind with 24.

Alva Kelley Quits Brown For Grid Post At Colgate

Gets 5-Year Pact, Will Succeed Rice

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Alva Kelley resigned Monday as Brown University football coach to accept a similar post at Colgate University with a five year contract.

Kelley had been offered a new 5-year contract, one that would have increased his pay to $11,500, to remain at Brown where in eight seasons his teams won 31 games, lost 39 and played two ties.

Kelley, 40, an All-East end at Cornell in 1939, is expected to have better material at Colgate which still has ambitions to become the ninth member of the Ivy group.

Kelley is one of a dozen invited to Colgate recently for interviews as possible successors to Fred Rice who resigned after two poor seasons.

Mrs. Hank Greenberg Is Granted Divorce

CULLMAN, Ala. (AP) — Hank Greenberg and his wife, Caral, were divorced here Jan. 15, court records show.

Mrs. Greenberg, the former Caral Gimbel and heiress to a New York department store fortune, filed for divorce on grounds of cruelty.

Records included a waiver signed by Greenberg, meaning the divorce was uncontested.

Greenberg is a member of baseball's Hall of Fame and a former general manager of the Cleveland Indians.

The Greenbergs were married Feb. 18, 1946, and have three children—Glenn, 11, Stephen, 9, and Val, 5.

Pen-Mar League To Meet Sunday

The Pen-Mar Baseball League, which has been in operation for ten consecutive years, will hold its first winter session Sunday at 1:30 p. m., at Melody Manor, Barrelville.

The league has functioned with eight teams in recent years. Hyndman's Merchants won the pennant last year and Barrelville's Old Exports won the playoffs.

Holdovers from last season and all other teams interested in obtaining franchises are urged to have representatives at Sunday's session.

Nellie Fox Given Boost In Salary

CHICAGO (UPI)—Second baseman Nellie Fox of the Chicago White Sox saved an estimated $5,000 in 30 minutes of conversation with Vice President Charles Comiskey Monday before he signed his 1959 contract at an estimated salary of more than $40,000.

Fox, the highest paid player on the Sox last year, received a slight increase, it was understood, even though the initial contract sent him called for a cut to $35,000.

Fox led the club in hitting last season, batting .300, and led the league in hits for the third time with 187 and in fewest strikeouts with 98.

He was the 20th Sox player to sign, leaving 19 unsigned.

West Virginia Interested In Negro Players

Coach Art Lewis Looking Them Over

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—West Virginia University Football Coach Art Lewis has been talking with several outstanding West Virginia high school Negro athletes, Charleston Daily Mail Sports editor Dick Hudson said Monday.

Hudson observed that WVU "never has had a Negro athlete, but that situation may soon end." Hudson said Lewis was "looking over several colored stars," and quoted the coach that, "We must check them as athletes and also as potential college students."

Lewis talked with Weirton's outstanding halfback Tom Bloom at the recent Victory Awards Dinner in Huntington. Hudson said Lewis commented, "They tell me Bloom is a better football player than Bob Jeter, and you know about him."

Jeter was a high school star at Weirton after the school was integrated and went on to Iowa where he starred last season on the Rose Bowl championship Hawkeye team.

LaSalle Tackles Fort Hill In Crucial Battle Tonight

Sentinel Win Would Settle Race In City

● LaSalle Could Tie It Up; Valley To Seek 15th In Row

The teams that shared the city championship last season will go at it again tonight when LaSalle High's Explorers tangle with the Fort Hill High Sentinels in the finale of their season series at SS. Peter & Paul gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

This is an important game for both teams as a Fort Hill victory would sew up the city title for Coach Wayne Boor's quint while a triumph for Coach George Goatz's Explorers would tie up the race and the final outcome would not be determined until the completion of the Allegany-Fort Hill (Feb. 20) and LaSalle-Allegany (Feb. 27) games.

Fort Hill leads the triangular race with a 2-0 record as a result of wins over LaSalle, 59-42, and Allegany 55-50. LaSalle is 1-1 with a victory over Allegany, 66-56, and a loss at the hands of the Sentinels. Allegany brings up the rear with an 0-2 mark.

Opener Ragged Affair

The first game of the LaSalle-Fort Hill series was a ragged, foul-marred affair in which 51 personals were plastered on the teams and eight players existed on fouls—five Fort Hillians and three Explorers.

Tonight's game is the 47th of the series between the schools. Fort Hill holds a 26-20 edge in wins. Since 1954 this series has been close, Fort Hill winning six games and LaSalle five.

The Sentinels take an overall record of 9-4 into tonight's game while LaSalle is playing .500 ball with an 8-8 mark. Last season the Explorers clobbered their crosstown rivals on the Fort Hill floor, 80-52, then lost on their home court in a 55-54 thriller.

The Lightner Brothers of Hagerstown, who handled the series opener, will again do the whistle tooting.

Campers Visit Bulldogs

Allegany High's Campers, defeated in their last three starts, journey to Martinsburg tonight to tackle George Whitacre's Bulldogs in a Cumberland Valley Athletic League game.

● Coach Chet Payne's quint dropped a 67-64 decision here in the first game of the series and will be the underdogs in the return tilt.

Martinsburg with a 3-3 record and Allegany at 2-4 are out of the running for the CVAL title. North High of Hagerstown leads with 6-0 and Fort Hill is in the runner-up spot with 5-2.

Valley Seeks No. 15

Valley High's Black Knights will be shooting for their 15th consecutive victory when they host Southern's Highlanders of Garrett County. Coach John C. Meyers' unbeaten quint won at Oakland by the score of 59-43 and figures to sweep the series. Coach Carl Schoonover's team owns an 8-5 record.

Mt. Savage High's Indians go after their 12th win of the campaign when they test the Alumni while Ridgeley does battle with Beall High at Frostburg. Mt. Savage is 11-2 to date. Ridgeley 8-8 and the Mountaineers 3-9.

Two PVC Games Listed

A pair of Potomac Valley Conference games finds Romney at Capon Bridge and Circleville at Moorefield.

Other Tuesday night engagements are Hedgesville at West Virginia School for the Deaf, Berkeley Springs at Shepherdstown, Parsons at Mountaineer High, Thomas, Oldtown at Mathias, Bayard at Northern, Hyndman at Bedford and undefeated Franklin High will be trying to bag its 16th victory at Green Bank.

Cats Visit Baltimore

Potomac State College faces Baltimore Junior College in a Tri-State Junior College Conference game at Baltimore and Shepherd College's Rams invade Washington to play Southeastern University.

Carter Stops Bob Woodall

Scrap At St. Nick Ends In 6th Round

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavyweight Harold Carter of Linden, N. J., knocked big Bob Woodall of Boston through the ring ropes once Monday night and won on a technical knockout at 2:11 of the sixth round in their fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

The kayo broke Woodall's winning streak at seven straight and probably lessened the confidence of manager Pete Fuller, who had bought $1,000 worth of tickets to get Woodall the St. Nick's main event.

It was an exciting, bruising fight between the two big fellows while it lasted.

The only knockdown in the fight came in the sixth round although each had been on rubber legs several times previously. Carter, 24, was battering his 24-year old opponent on the ropes when he suddenly landed a left-right combination that drove him through the ropes and out onto the ring apron.

Groggy Woodall was up at the count of nine and almost fell again as Carter went after him. At that instant, referee Johnny Lobianco pulled Carter away and stopped the bout.

Carter, favored at 14-5, registered his 25th victory and his 12th knockout in 30 starts. It was Woodall's third defeat, all by kayoes, in 17 professional bouts.

Brennan Reported Quitting Coaching For Bank Position

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Terry Brennan, recently fired head football coach at the University of Notre Dame, will quit coaching and take a position with a Chicago bank, the Elkhart Truth said Monday.

The Truth said it had learned from reliable sources that Brennan would make the announcement at a testimonial dinner in his honor in Chicago Monday night.

At Sunrise Wins At Charles Town

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (AP) — Shamrock Farms' At Sunrise romped to an easy 2½-length victory in the $1,600 Vandalite Purse Monday.

At Sunrise had a five-length lead by the time the 10-horse field reached the clubhouse turn and Jockey Bobby Stovall looked back over his shoulder the rest of the way. The 6-year-old did the mile and one sixteenth in 1:48, paying $13.80, $6 and $3.60.

Rabbitt was second at $3.80 and $2.60 and the show horse, Fremarcton, returned $3.40.

Piedmont High Whips Jackets

Cops Series, 74-32, Joe Taylor Gets 29

Sparked by Joe Taylor, who connected on 14 shots from the field, and rang up a total of 29 points, Piedmont High School's Lions made a sweep of their season series with Moorefield High School by beating the Yellowjackets last night in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Piedmont by the score of 74-32.

Coach "Huck" Miers' Lions jumped off to a 13-4 lead in the opening period, upped their advantage to 20 points at halftime, 37-17 and held the long end of a 60-25 score when the third stanza was concluded.

It was Piedmont's tenth win in 14 outings and gave the Lions a 6-2 record in the conference. Moorefield has won six and lost seven in league competition.

Jimmy Paugh headed Moorefield's scoring with six goals and 15 points.

Orioles Report $95,169 Profit

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles Sunday released a belated 10-month financial statement which showed a profit of $95,169.

It covered the period Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, 1958. The Orioles decided to base the statement on that period to coincide more nearly with the end of the baseball season.

Since salarise of officials and office expense continue during the last two months, the profit was quite a bit less for the year-long period.

The profit was somewhat surprising in view of the fact the front office had several bonus obligations to new players, and the Orioles attracted some 200,000 fewer customers into the park last year. Attendance was 829,991.

Warriors Beat Pirates, 44-38

Post Ninth Victory, Bob Brooks Gets 19

Coach Charles "Pete" Vance's Wardensville High School Warriors registered their ninth triumph of the basketball campaign last night by turning back the Paw Paw High School Pirates on the latter's court by the score of 44-38 in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

The victory gave the Hardy countians a 6-4 record in the P.V.C. and an overall mark of 9-4. Paw Paw 6-3 in the conference, suffered its fifth loss against 10 wins.

Bob Brooks, Warriors' center, was the game's high scorer with seven goals and 19 points while Virgil Heishman dumped in 11 and Julian Hott had ten. Kevin Edmondson and Jim Sharp with 15 and 11 tallies, respectively, paced the Paw Paw scorers.

The score was deadlocked at 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 in the opening stanza but Wardensville pulled away to a 30-16 lead at the half and was out in front by 12 points, 40-28, and the action moved into the final period.

Cubs Sign Pair

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs Monday signed left handed relief pitcher Marcelino Solis and infielder Earl Averill, leaving only one player unsigned for the 1959 season — pitcher Dave Hillman.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)— It'll be tough for the local crowds to tell 'em apart without a scorecard in baseball's training camps this spring.

More than 30 established major leaguers already have swapped uniforms in baseball's annual game of "musical chairs" with the hottest part of the trading season still to come.

The St. Louis Cardinals are leading both leagues as a result of picking up eight players in deals, including Manager Solly Hemus who moved over from the Phillies to pinch-hit as well as mastermind.

It's likely, however, that Frank Lane of Cleveland has not yet begun to fight. Trader Frank, who has made a few spectacular moves already, likes to look 'em over in the spring before dealing in wholesale lots.

Turnover Fairly Impressive

Even so, the turnover has been fairly impressive and these are among the "new faces" of 1959:

New Cardinals include Marv Grissom and Ernie Broglio from the Giants; George Crowe, Alex Kellner and Alex Grammas from Cincy; Gino Cimoli from Los Angeles, Hemus and Chuck Essegian from Philadelphia.

Jimmy Piersall, long-time Boston Red Sox outfielder, moved over to Cleveland and Billy Martin switched to Cleveland along with pitcher Al Cicotte from Detroit.

Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, star Cleveland relievers, will be working for Detroit. So will Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges, veteran infielders from Washington.

San Francisco added Jack Sanford of the Phillies and Billy Muffitt of the Cardinals, both pitchers. Los Angeles presents Wally Moon of the Cardinals and Rip Repulski from the Phils.

Ex-Cards To Cincy

Cincinnati has three ex-Cards—outfielder Del Ennis, pitcher Bob Mabe and infielder Eddie Kasko. And last week end the Redlegs got homer-hitting Frank Thomas, outfielders John Powers and Jim Pendleton and pitcher Whammy Douglas from the Pittsburgh Pirates in exchange for catcher Smokey Burgess, infielder Don Hoak and pitcher Harvey Haddix.

The Phillies acquired pitcher Reuben Gomez and catcher Valmey Thomas from the Giants for Sanford and added infielder Sparkie Anderson from Los Angeles.

Vic Wertz, at Cleveland last year, is with the Red Sox. Boston also picked up pitcher Herb Moford from Detroit, outfielder Jim Busby from Washington.

Front Office Switches

Infielders Reno Bertoia and Ron Samford of Detroit went to Washington in the deal for Yost and Bridges. Baltimore added Chico Carrasquel from Kansas City, Bob-by Avila from the Indians, Billy Klaus from Boston and ex-major leaguer Jim Finigan from the minors.

The game of musical chairs even extended to the front-office this winter.

When assistant Lee MacPhail of the Yankees took over at Baltimore things began to hum. The Yankees, who needed an assistant, nailed Roy Hamey from the Phillies. The Phillies took on John Quinn from the Braves. The Braves signed John McHale of the Tigers.

CU Gets Tourney

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Mason-Dixon Conference Basketball Tournament will be held Feb. 26-28 at Catholic University in Washington, league officials announced Monday.

The first eight teams among the 15 which make up the conference will compete. Loyola of Baltimore and Bridgewater in Virginia also were considered as possible sites before Catholic was given the nod.

Bill Wiltison Sparks Bruce To 85-67 Win

Scores 30 Points Against Ft. Ashby

Bill Wiltison's sharpshooting produced 30 points and sparked Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High School Bulldogs to an 85-67 triumph over Fort Ashby High's Eagles in the final game of their series last night at Fort Ashby.

The victory enabled the Bulldogs to avenge a 55-51 defeat at the hands of Fort Ashby in a game played December 19 at Westernport.

Wiltison, the top scorer of the W.M.I. League, turned in his best performance of the season in 14 games by slamming in a total of 13 field goals and converting four of five shots at the charity line. Bill Wright tossed in 17 points while Bob Kalbaugh and Roy Beard garnered 16 tallies each.

Bill Price, Glen Pyles and Jim Steed scored 20, 19 and 14 points, respectively, for the home team.

The teams battled to a 38-38 tie at halftime but Bruce held a 59-52 edge at the close of the third period. The Bulldogs outscored the Eagles 35 to 28 from the field and 15 to 11 at the foul line. Box score:

LaSalle Tackles Fort Hill In Crucial Battle Tonight

Sentinel Win Would Settle Race In City

● LaSalle Could Tie It Up; Valley To Seek 15th In Row

The teams that shared the city championship last season will go at it again tonight when LaSalle High's Explorers tangle with the Fort Hill High Sentinels in the finale of their season series at SS. Peter & Paul gymnasium at 8 o'clock.

This is an important game for both teams as a Fort Hill victory would sew up the city title for Coach Wayne Boor's quint while a triumph for Coach George Goatz's Explorers would tie up the race and the final outcome would not be determined until the completion of the Allegany-Fort Hill (Feb. 20) and LaSalle-Allegany (Feb. 27) games.

Fort Hill leads the triangular race with a 2-0 record as a result of wins over LaSalle, 59-42, and Allegany 55-50. LaSalle is 1-1 with a victory over Allegany, 66-56, and a loss at the hands of the Sentinels. Allegany brings up the rear with an 0-2 mark.

Opener Ragged Affair

The first game of the LaSalle-Fort Hill series was a ragged, foul-marred affair in which 51 personals were plastered on the teams and eight players existed on fouls—five Fort Hillians and three Explorers.

Tonight's game is the 47th of the series between the schools. Fort Hill holds a 26-20 edge in wins. Since 1954 this series has been close, Fort Hill winning six games and LaSalle five.

The Sentinels take an overall record of 9-4 into tonight's game while LaSalle is playing .500 ball with an 8-8 mark. Last season the Explorers clobbered their crosstown rivals on the Fort Hill floor, 80-52, then lost on their home court in a 55-54 thriller.

The Lightner Brothers of Hagerstown, who handled the series opener, will again do the whistle tooting.

Campers Visit Bulldogs

Allegany High's Campers, defeated in their last three starts, journey to Martinsburg tonight to tackle George Whitacre's Bulldogs in a Cumberland Valley Athletic League game.

Coach Chet Payne's quint dropped a 67-64 decision here in the first game of the series and will be the underdogs in the return tilt.

Martinsburg with a 3-3 record and Allegany at 2-4 are out of the running for the CVAL title. North High of Hagerstown leads with 6-0 and Fort Hill is in the runner-up spot with 5-2.

Valley Seeks No. 15

Valley High's Black Knights will be shooting for their 15th consecutive victory when they host Southern's Highlanders of Garrett County. Coach John C. Meyers' unbeaten quint won at Oakland by the score of 59-43 and figures to sweep the series. Coach Carl Schoonover's team owns an 8-5 record.

Mt. Savage High's Indians go after their 12th win of the campaign when they test the Alumni while Ridgeley does battle with Beall High at Frostburg. Mt. Savage is 11-2 to date, Ridgeley 8-8 and the Mountaineers 3-9.

Two PVC Games Listed

A pair of Potomac Valley Conference games finds Romney at Capon Bridge and Circleville at Moorefield.

Other Tuesday night engagements are Hedgesville at West Virginia School for the Deaf, Berkeley Springs at Shepherdstown, Parsons at Mountaineer High, Thomas, Oldtown at Mathias, Bayard at Northern, Hyndman at Bedford and undefeated Franklin High will be trying to bag its 16th victory at Green Bank.

Cats Visit Baltimore

Potomac State College faces Baltimore Junior College in a Tri-State Junior College Conference game at Baltimore and Shepherd College's Rams invade Washington to play Southeastern University.

EARNS AWARD — Jockey Bill Boland, above, yesterday was named the winner of the George Woolf Memorial Jockey Award. Turf writers and sports editors covering the current Santa Anita meeting chose Boland for the tenth annual award.

Carter Stops Bob Woodall

Scrap At St. Nick Ends In 6th Round

NEW YORK (UPI) — Heavyweight Harold Carter of Linden, N. J., knocked big Bob Woodall of Boston through the ring ropes once Monday night and won on a technical knockout at 2:11 of the sixth round in their fight at St. Nicholas Arena.

The kayo broke Woodall's winning streak at seven straight and probably lessened the confidence of manager Pete Fuller, who had bought $1,000 worth of tickets to get Woodall the St. Nick's main event.

It was an exciting, bruising fight between the two big fellows while it lasted.

The only knockdown in the fight came in the sixth round although each had been on rubber legs several times previously. Carter, 24, was battering his 24-year old opponent on the ropes when he suddenly landed a left-right combination that drove him through the ropes and out onto the ring apron.

Groggy Woodall was up at the count of nine and almost fell again as Carter went after him. At that instant, referee Johnny Lobianco pulled Carter away and stopped the bout.

Carter, favored at 14-5, registered his 25th victory and his 12th knockout in 30 starts. It was Woodall's third defeat, all by kayoes, in 17 professional bouts.

Brennan Reported Quitting Coaching For Bank Position

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Terry Brennan, recently fired head football coach at the University of Notre Dame, will quit coaching and take a position with a Chicago bank, the Elkhart Truth said Monday.

The Truth said it had learned from reliable sources that Brennan would make the announcement at a testimonial dinner in his honor in Chicago Monday night.

At Sunrise Wins At Charles Town

CHARLES TOWN, W.Va. (AP) — Shamrock Farms' At Sunrise romped to an easy 2½-length victory in the $1,600 Vandalite Purse Monday.

At Sunrise had a five-length lead by the time the 10-horse field reached the clubhouse turn and Jockey Bobby Stovall looked back over his shoulder the rest of the way. The 6-year-old did the mile and one sixteenth in 1:48, paying $13.80, $6 and $3.60.

Rabbitt was second at $3.80 and $2.60 and the show horse, Fremarcton, returned $3.40.

Piedmont High Whips Jackets

Cops Series, 74-32, Joe Taylor Gets 29

Sparked by Joe Taylor, who connected on 14 shots from the field, and rang up a total of 29 points, Piedmont High School's Lions made a sweep of their season series with Moorefield High School by beating the Yellowjackets last night in a Potomac Valley Conference game at Piedmont by the score of 74-32.

Coach "Huck" Miers' Lions jumped off to a 13-4 lead in the opening period, upped their advantage to 20 points at halftime, 37-17 and held the long end of a 60-25 score when the third stanza was concluded.

It was Piedmont's tenth win in 14 outings and gave the Lions a 6-2 record in the conference. Moorefield has won six and lost seven in league competition.

Jimmy Paugh headed Moorefield's scoring with six goals and 15 points.

Orioles Report $95,169 Profit

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles Sunday released a belated 10-month financial statement which showed a profit of $95,169.

It covered the period Jan. 1 to Oct. 31, 1958. The Orioles decided to base the statement on that period to coincide more nearly with the end of the baseball season.

Since salarise of officials and office expense continue during the last two months, the profit was quite a bit less for the year-long period.

The profit was somewhat surprising in view of the fact the front office had several bonus obligations to new players, and the Orioles attracted some 200,000 fewer customers into the park last year. Attendance was 829,991.

Warriors Beat Pirates, 44-38

Post Ninth Victory, Bob Brooks Gets 19

Coach Charles "Pete" Vance's Wardensville High School Warriors registered their ninth triumph of the basketball campaign last night by turning back the Paw Paw High School Pirates on the latter's court by the score of 44-38 in a Potomac Valley Conference game.

The victory gave the Hardy countians a 6-4 record in the P.V.C. and an overall mark of 9-4. Paw Paw 6-3 in the conference, suffered its fifth loss against 10 wins.

Bob Brooks, Warriors' center, was the game's high scorer with seven goals and 19 points while Virgil Heishman dumped in 11 and Julian Hott had ten. Kevin Edmondson and Jim Sharp with 15 and 11 tallies, respectively, paced the Paw Paw scorers.

The score was deadlocked at 2, 4, 6, 8, 10 and 12 in the opening stanza but Wardensville pulled away to a 30-16 lead at the half and was out in front by 12 points, 40-28, and the action moved into the final period.

Paw Paw Junior High School topped Wardensville in the preliminary contest, 44-12. Box score:

Cubs Sign Pair

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Chicago Cubs Monday signed left handed relief pitcher Marcelino Solis and infielder Earl Averill, leaving only one player unsigned for the 1959 season — pitcher Dave Hillman.

The Sports Patrol

By STEVE SNIDER

NEW YORK (UPI)— It'll be tough for the local crowds to tell 'em apart without a scorecard in baseball's training camps this spring.

More than 30 established major leaguers already have swapped uniforms in baseball's annual game of "musical chairs" with the hottest part of the trading season still to come.

The St. Louis Cardinals are leading both leagues as a result of picking up eight players in deals, including Manager Solly Hemus who moved over from the Phillies to pinch-hit as well as mastermind.

It's likely, however, that Frank Lane of Cleveland has not yet begun to fight. Trader Frank, who has made a few spectacular moves already, likes to look 'em over in the spring before dealing in wholesale lots.

Turnover Fairly Impressive

Even so, the turnover has been fairly impressive and these are among the "new faces" of 1959:

New Cardinals include Marv Grissom and Ernie Broglio from the Giants; George Crowe, Alex Kellner and Alex Grammas from Cincy; Gino Cimoli from Los Angeles, Hemus and Chuck Essegian from Philadelphia.

Jimmy Piersall, long-time Boston Red Sox outfielder, moved over to Cleveland and Billy Martin switched to Cleveland along with pitcher Al Cicotte from Detroit.

Ray Narleski and Don Mossi, star Cleveland relievers, will be working for Detroit. So will Eddie Yost and Rocky Bridges, veteran infielders from Washington.

San Francisco added Jack Sanford of the Phillies and Billy Muffitt of the Cardinals, both pitchers. Los Angeles presents Wally Moon of the Cardinals and Rip Repulski from the Phils.

Ex-Cards To Cincy

Cincinnati has three ex-Cards—outfielder Del Ennis, pitcher Bob Mabe and infielder Eddie Kasko. And last week end the Redlegs got homer-hitting Frank Thomas, outfielders John Powers and Jim Pendleton and pitcher Whammy Douglas from the Pittsburgh Pirates in exchange for catcher Smokey Burgess, infielder Don Hoak and pitcher Harvey Haddix.

The Phillies acquired pitcher Reuben Gomez and catcher Valmey Thomas from the Giants for Sanford and added infielder Sparkie Anderson from Los Angeles.

Vic Wertz, at Cleveland last year, is with the Red Sox. Boston also picked up pitcher Herb Moford from Detroit, outfielder Jim Busby from Washington.

Front Office Switches

Infielders Reno Bertoia and Ron Samford of Detroit went to Washington in the deal for Yost and Bridges. Baltimore added Chico Carrasquel from Kansas City, Bobby Avila from the Indians, Billy Klaus from Boston and ex-major leaguer Jim Finigan from the minors.

The game of musical chairs even extended to the front-office this winter.

When assistant Lee MacPhail of the Yankees took over at Baltimore things began to hum. The Yankees, who needed an assistant, nailed Roy Hamey from the Phillies. The Pnillies took on John Quinn from the Braves. The Braves signed John McHale of the Tigers.

CU Gets Tourney

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Mason-Dixon Conference Basketball Tournament will be held Feb. 26-28 at Catholic University in Washington, league officials announced Monday.

The first eight teams among the 15 which make up the conference will compete. Loyola of Baltimore and Bridgewater in Virginia also were considered as possible sites before Catholic was given the nod.

Bill Wiltison Sparks Bruce To 85-67 Win

Scores 30 Points Against Ft. Ashby

Bill Wiltison's sharpshooting produced 30 points and sparked Coach Leonard Ritchie's Bruce High School Bulldogs to an 85-67 triumph over Fort Ashby High's Eagles in the final game of their series last night at Fort Ashby.

The victory enabled the Bulldogs to avenge a 55-51 defeat at the hands of Fort Ashby in a game played December 19 at Westernport.

Wiltison, the top scorer of the W.M.I. League, turned in his best performance of the season in 14 games by slamming in a total of 13 field goals and converting four of five shots at the charity line. Bill Wright tossed in 17 points while Bob Kalbaugh and Roy Beard garnered 16 tallies each.

Bill Price, Glen Pyles and Jim Steed scored 20, 19 and 14 points, respectively, for the home team.

The teams battled to a 38-38 tie at halftime but Bruce held a 59-52 edge at the close of the third period. The Bulldogs outscored the Eagles 35 to 28 from the field and 15 to 11 at the foul line. Box score:

Luke PTA Meets

LUKE — Mrs. P. E. Berry, Piedmont, will speak at the meeting of the Luke Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday evening. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Rooms will be open at 7 p. m. for visitation and the program will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Basic Guidance Course Offered At Romney High

ROMNEY — Romney High School has been designated again by the West Virginia University Extension Division as a center for the second semester of this school year. Two courses will be offered: Education 373, a basic course in guidance and Education 270, Special Problems and Workshop. Only college or university graduates may enroll in Education 373 for three hours of university credit. Those who enroll in Education 373 may earn one additional hour of university credit by completing a project approved by the instructor in a field of major interest.

Teachers and others who do not hold college degrees, may earn from one to three hours credit in Education 270 with a major emphasis in guidance by completing the assignments given to those who are enrolled in Education 373.

Professor Martin M. Mansperger, a member of the university Extension staff for the past six years, will have charge of these courses. Registration of students will be held at Romney High School at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Founders Day Program Planned

BARTON — A Founders Day play entitled "The PTA Birthday" will be presented by grade school students and Mrs. Ruby Gattens, at the meeting of the Parent Teachers Association, at 7:30 p. m. today in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Norma Metz, program chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Television and Radio
by John Crosby

Supernatural Success

"Alcoa Presents" is a new series based, according to its director and narrator John Newland, on investigated case histories of possession, clairvoyance, and precognition. "Actually, all these stories did happen to real people," declared Mr. Newland, a man of imposing grandeur and elegance, whom I would not dream of contradicting. "They are all based on the indisputable and irrefutable."

Well, "indisputable and irrefutable" are pretty big words but the series is sure as hell a thoroughly fascinating and new idea for a TV season that has been mostly concerned with western shoot-em-ups. Of course, I should warn you I'm a sucker for precognition and all that jazz, the more psychic the better, so I am a little prejudiced. The first of these stories was called "One Step Beyond" and it was a tale of possession.

A young couple is on their honeymoon, the bride being a real sugar - mouthed Southern belle, who falls asleep on her husband's shoulder and wakes up talking pure Yankee. "Take your hands off me," she snarls at her husband and lopes off into the night. "She looked so different," mutters her husband to the psychiatrist, who is brought in on the case. And she sure did look different. She has a whole new personality and the name of a dead girl who had supposedly committed suicide.

"I didn't kill myself!" the girl screams. "I was murdered! I was murdered!" Looked at in cold type that way, that snatch of dialogue sounds strictly ridiculous but actually, if you dig the supernatural, that is an entirely rational outcry of one possessed. Possessed is what the girl was, possessed by a murdered girl who wanted vengeance on the guy what done her in and, Mr. Newland assured us with a straight face, got it.

It was a very solid production with sound acting and direction and highly sensible writing which is all you can decently ask. The other day I had lunch with Mr. Newland and asked him what he sought to do in this series and how seriously we should take it. "We want to probe, entertain, and expose a bit. Originally the concept was that the stories be absolutely true but this proved to be difficult. Now the stories are just based on fact. We plan to use no stars. By using unfamiliar faces we hope to gain acceptance. I think the stories are quite adult, judging by many other things I've seen on television."

What, I asked, did he hope to expose?

"We hope to expose psychical phenomena, things people have heard about but really don't know much about, things like levitational phenomena, or extra-sensory perception."

Did Mr. Newland believe in these things?

"Why, of course. I believe them and so do the other three people connected with the show. I never have been able to understand the skeptic. Tell him a story such as the one about the granite blocks found in the Andes. Granite has certain chacteristics that enable scientist to pinpoint where it was mined. High in the Andes are these huge blocks of granite that could have been mined only near the river Nile in Africa. How did they get in the Andes, a whole continent and an ocean away?

"The skeptic can only say 'Well' and shrug. I believe that contemporary man thinks he knows everything. He forgets other centuries knew other things, different things. Logic is not enough. We must go beyond logic. Look at electricity. No one knows how it works, why it works, or even what it is. How does it get transported from one place to another? If sound can do it, why not granite blocks?"

If you are still skeptical, Mr. Newland would remind you that we have all had psychical phenomena happen to us at one time or another. For instance, you haven't seen someone in years. Suddenly you start thinking about him and within a day or so you run into him on the street.

There are thousands of such psychical phenomena out of actual records which should keep the show running for years and that should keep the supernatural buffs of which I'm one) very happy. At any rate, it's a change from the Westerns. Any day now, I expect we'll get the psychic Western. We've had all the other kinds.

Luke PTA Meets

LUKE — Mrs. P. E. Berry, Piedmont, will speak at the meeting of the Luke Parent-Teacher Association Wednesday evening. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Rooms will be open at 7 p. m. for visitation and the program will begin at 7:30 p. m.

Basic Guidance Course Offered At Romney High

ROMNEY — Romney High School has been designated again by the West Virginia University Extension Division as a center for the second semester of this school year. Two courses will be offered: Education 373, a basic course in guidance and Education 270, Special Problems and Workshop. Only college or university graduates may enroll in Education 373 for three hours of university credit. Those who enroll in Education 373 may earn one additional hour of university credit by completing a project approved by the instructor in a field of major interest.

Teachers and others who do not hold college degrees, may earn from one to three hours credit in Education 270 with a major emphasis in guidance by completing the assignments given to those who are enrolled in Education 373.

Professor Martin M. Mansperger, a member of the university Extension staff for the past six years, will have charge of these courses. Registration of students will be held at Romney High School at 7 p. m. Thursday.

Founders Day Program Planned

BARTON — A Founders Day play entitled "The PTA Birthday" will be presented by grade school students and Mrs. Ruby Gattens, at the meeting of the Parent Teachers Association, at 7:30 p. m. today in the school auditorium.

Mrs. Norma Metz, program chairman, is in charge of arrangements.

Supernatural Success

"Alcoa Presents" is a new series based, according to its director and narrator John Newland, on investigated case histories of possession, clairvoyance, and precognition. "Actually, all these stories did happen to real people," declared Mr. Newland, a man of imposing grandeur and elegance, whom I would not dream of contradicting. "They are all based on the indisputable and irrefutable."

Well, "indisputable and irrefutable" are pretty big words but the series is sure as hell a thoroughly fascinating and new idea for a TV season that has been mostly concerned with western shoot-em-ups. Of course, I should warn you I'm a sucker for precognition and all that jazz, the more psychic the better, so I am a little prejudiced. The first of these stories was called "One Step Beyond" and it was a tale of possession.

A young couple is on their honeymoon, the bride being a real sugar-mouthed Southern belle, who falls asleep on her husband's shoulder and wakes up talking pure Yankee. "Take your hands off me," she snarls at her husband and lopes off into the night. "She looked so different," mutters her husband to the psychiatrist, who is brought in on the case. And she sure did look different. She has a whole new personality and the name of a dead girl who had supposedly committed suicide.

"I didn't kill myself!" the girl screams. "I was murdered! I was murdered!" Looked at in cold type that way, that snatch of dialogue sounds strictly ridiculous but actually, if you dig the supernatural, that is an entirely rational outcry of one possessed. Possessed is what the girl was, possessed by a murdered girl who wanted vengeance on the guy what done her in and, Mr. Newland assured us with a straight face, got it.

It was a very solid production with sound acting and direction and highly sensible writing which is all you can decently ask. The other day I had lunch with Mr. Newland and asked him what he sought to do in this series and how seriously we should take it. "We want to probe, entertain, and expose a bit. Originally the concept was that the stories be absolutely true but this proved to be difficult. Now the stories are just based on fact. We plan to use no stars. By using unfamiliar faces we hope to gain acceptance. I think the stories are quite adult, judging by many other things I've seen on television."

What, I asked, did he hope to expose?

"We hope to expose psychical phenomena, things people have heard about but really don't know much about, things like levitational phenomena, or extra-sensory perception."

Did Mr. Newland believe in these things?

"Why, of course. I believe them and so do the other three people connected with the show. I never have been able to understand the skeptic. Tell him a story such as the one about the granite block found in the Andes. Granite has certain chacteristics that enable scientist to pinpoint where it was mined. High in the Andes are these huge blocks of granite that could have been mined only near the river Nile in Africa. How did they get in the Andes, a whole continent and an ocean away?

"The skeptic can only say 'Well' and shrug. I believe that contemporary man thinks he knows everything. He forgets other centuries knew other things, different things. Logic is not enough. We must go beyond logic. Look at electricity. No one knows how it works, why it works, or even what it is. How does it get transported from one place to another? If sound can do it, why not granite blocks?"

If you are still skeptical, Mr. Newland would remind you that we have all had psychical phenomena happen to us

Pick Up Truck

We have in stock this very economical Pickup Truck. It has never been titled, as we used it here at the garage for small pickups. It is ideal for the farm or business as the sides will turn down and make a flat bed. There is also a large storage compartment under the bed that can be locked. It has a large heater, defroster, signal lights, electric wipers and the tires are like new. It has a 4-speed forward transmission and you can get 25 miles and up on a gallon of gas. You will have to see or drive to appreciate the wonderful ability of this pickup at only

Pick Up Truck

We have in stock this very economical Pickup Truck. It has never been titled, as we used it here at the garage for small pickups. It is ideal for the farm or business as the sides will turn down and make a flat bed. There is also a large storage compartment under the bed that can be locked. It has a large heater, defroster, signal lights, electric wipers and the tires are like new. It has a 4-speed forward transmission and you can get 25 miles and up on a gallon of gas. You will have to see or drive to appreciate the wonderful ability of this pickup at only

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Clarence Sheetz et al. complainants vs. Katherine S. Plummer, et al., No. 25461 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that George F. Sheetz, widower, died intestate, on May 25, 1948, seized and possessed of certain real estate improved by a 1½ story brick building located at number 124 Oak St., in Cumberland, Md. being the same property conveyed to George F. Sheetz et ux., by deed of Johanna Kyne, widow, dated Oct. 12, 1921, and recorded in Liber No. 138, Folio 505, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

That the said George F. Sheetz left as his only heirs-at-law the following: Clarence Sheetz married to Evelyn Sheetz, P. O. Box 314, Rowlesburg, W. Va.; Donald Sheetz married to Anna Sheetz, 737 Md. Ave., Cumberland, Md.; George K. Sheetz married to Nellie Sheetz, Route 5, Cumberland, Md.; Elmer L. Sheetz married to Lillie Sheetz, Route 4, Cumberland, Md.; Katherine Sheetz Plummer married to William Plummer, 681 Fairview Road, Hyattsville, Md.; Vady Sheetz Mantheiy married to John Mantheiy, 2415 Plainfield Road, Baltimore 22, Md.; Mary Sheetz Skelly married to Harry Skelly, West St., LaVale, Md.; Evelyn Sheetz, single, West St., LaVale, Md.; Shirley Sheetz Brant married to Ronald H. Brant, Somerset Bridge, Bermuda; the said Ronald H. Brant is in the U. S. Navy and his armed services address is U. S. Naval Facility, Navy 138, c/o F. P. O. New York, N. Y.

The Bill then recites that the aforegoing parties are the only heirs-at-law of George F. Sheetz.

The Bill further states that the property referred to in the proceedings is not susceptible to partition without substantial loss or injury to the parties entitled to an interest therein, and that in order to make a division of said property it will be necessary to sell the same and divide the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto, and prays for a decree to that effect.

It is thereupon, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., this 31st day of January 1959, that the complainants by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in Allegany County, Md., once a week for four succesive weeks before the 5th day of March, 1959 giving notice to Shirley Sheetz Brant and Ronald H. Brant, her husband, non-residents of the State of Maryland, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 21st day of March, 1959, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper and show cause if any they may have, why the relief prayed therein ought not to be granted as prayed.

How often are you offended by chance remarks?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Free Translations Can Spoil Your Charm

One way to avoid becoming a man doesn't understand it and charmer is to translate what's said to you in your own mistaken way. Of course there's often more meaning to a remark than the actual words. But the person who has the bad habit of looking inward too closely and too often is likely to hear criticism when none was intended, and this slows the blooming of attractive personality.

When your office superior suggests a way to improve your work, do you think he means that your efforts are a failure? When someone else is admired in your presence, do you bristle or shrink in self-pity because in your translation, your own shortcomings were pointed out? When you hear a compliment on an old suit, do you consider it an insult to your new hat? When a dancing partner offers to teach you new steps, are you sure you've been clumsy?

Women are often criticized by men for taking remarks personally when no such thing was implied. Many a rousing squabble starts in just this way — an innocent, general comment is seized upon as an offense, or a slight to herself or someone or something a woman holds dear. The has difficulty in defending himself. A mountain, he says, is being made of something that wasn't even intended as a molehill. In these instances and many others, irritation and lack of confidence show up lamentably. And very unnecessarily.

It's the narrow personality that turns everything self-ward, and when feelings seek wounding, it's so much worse. The wide and well - rounded personality a charmer has translates in larger ways. She reads no derogatory means into chance remarks, can see criticism as constructive, can be enthusiastic about suggestions, is alert to ideas, improves her point of view.

How good a translator are you? Watch your reactions for a while now to discover growing attitudes you may not have been aware of.

Opening lead: Five of ♥.

North bid one heart and though South had the high card values for a jump shift, he responded modestly with one spade. No fit had been established so he wished to proceed cautiously while he investigated the possibilities of the hand. North rebid two diamonds and South temporized again with three clubs. When North revealed the fit by raising to four, South contracted for slam.

West, with his utterly hopeless hand, opened the five of hearts. To East, this was marked beyond any question as a singleton, for the only heart out of view was the jack, which was obviously held by declarer, for West would hardly have led the five from a holding of jack-five. If East won the trick with the queen and returned the suit, declarer might be put on guard as to the impending danger and ruff high enough to shut out West. East therefore set up a smoke screen by winning with the ace and returning the deuce. There could be no doubt that the queen of hearts was in the West hand, so declarer is hardly to be taken to task for discarding on the heart return. When West ruffed in, South had a rude awakening.

I suppose that purists will point out that South might just as well have ruffed the return with the eight of clubs and perhaps they are right, but I for one am not going to hold this against South's record for deportment. I shall look upon him as an outraged victim.

Car Production Up

PARIS (UPI) — France passed the one million mark in production of cars and trucks for the first time in history during 1958, it was announced Sunday. The country produced 1,127,549 units compared to 927,956 during 1957.

Select Best Film

TOKYO (UPI) — A movie called "Daughter of the Communist Party" was selected overwhelmingly as Communist China's best film of 1958, the Communist New China news agency reported Monday.

MARRIAGE CAMPAIGN

IDRAMAJU, Indonesia (UPI)—Officials of this Java island community launched a campaign Monday to use marriage to combat rats overrunning the area. They announced each marriage license would cost 25 rat tails.

BUCKS RECOMMENDATION

LONDON (UPI) — Tax accountant Ronald Rickard, who recommended engaged couples get married in April or September to get the most favorable tax rebate, announced Monday he would marry his secretary, Margaret Lancaster, next week. "Margaret would not wait," he explained.

CHILD DIES

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Three-year-old Judith Sanders of nearby Lavalette, Wayne County, died in a hospital here Sunday of a heart condition. The death was not unexpected and residents in the area had provided her last week with watermelons, one of her last cravings. One melon also was sent from Cuba.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Clint Walker is tall in the saddle again, not only in his old "Cheyenne" TV series, but he's been cast by the boss himself, Jack L. Warner, for the starring role in "Yellowstone Kelly."

As soon as the snow melts in Yellowstone Park, Clint, Director Gordon Douglas and writer Burt Kennedy take off for the Wyoming location.

Meanwhile, Clint is getting ready for the new "Cheyenne" series which now goes on Monday nights instead of Tuesday when it airs in September. Ty Hardin, who substituted while the warring Mr. Walker was battling with his studio, has been put into "Bronco," a new series, by Bill Orr head of Warners TV.

Surprising and unexpected was Charles Schnee's resignation from Columbia Studio today. Schnee won the Academy Award for writing "The Bad and the Beautiful," and he has such properties as "Let No Man Write My Epitaph," "The Image Makers", and "The Tiger Among Us."

I asked him why he left Columbia when Kim Novak was set for "The Image Makers" with Richard Quine directing. He told me the basic reason is that he is a writer and would much rather write than produce motion pictures.

"I believe," he said, "that Richard Quine will still direct 'The Image Makers,' and of course I won't stand in the way if he wants to produce it. But I want to get back to writing."

Gustavo Rojo, who cut quite a romantic swatch when he was here making "The Miracle", is back for another fling at Hollywood films if not the Hollywood femmes.

Rojo joins Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds in "It Started With a Kiss", playing a dashing bullfighter who covets Glenn's wife (Debbie) and his race car (the fabulous car of the future). Aaron Rosenberg is producing and George Marshall will direct.

The young and handsome Uruguay born Gustavo has starred in 50 Spanish, Italian, French, Mexican and South American movies and now it appears he's off to a Hollywood click.

If Roberto Rossellini hoped to recoup his depleted fortunes with that now famous (or infamous) documentary he filmed in India, he'll do it over the barbed darts of the Rome critics who proclaim it a "flop." Some say that what happened to Roberto himself in India would have made a far better movie!

It was during the making of this film, you remember, that the scandal of his romance with married Somali Das Gupta hit the headlines. This set off an explosion of troubles for Rossellini including his separation and annulment suit with Ingrid Bergman. He was also named as the other man by Das Gupta's husband. Maybe dear Roberto should title the documentary, "I Lost My Heart, My Wife and My Bankroll in India."

One of my favorite actresses, Thelma Ritter, who has been in New York for two long years in "New Girl in Town," is returning to Hollywood for the featured character role in "Pillow Talk" with Rock Hudson, Doris Day and Tony Randall.

Thelma arrives in town in a few days to check in at the Universal-International Studio, and everyone will be mighty glad to see her. Her role in "Pillow Talk" is that of a confidante and housekeeper to Doris Day. Thelma is constantly nursing a hangover, and just the thought of it makes me laugh.

John Ireland will have to leave his changing romances long enough to check into "Spartacus" with Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Tony Curtis and John Gavin. Ireland was ready to take off for the musical, "Destry", in New York, but when he had the chance to get into "Spartacus," he bowed out of the stage play.

You will see John as Kirk's chief lieutenant who helps lead the gladiators in their revolt against Rome. Yes they even had revolutions in those days.

HOLLYWOOD — Attention Dean Martin in Las Vegas! You're wanted for still ANOTHER movie. Howard Hawks, who directed you in "Rio Bravo" wants you again for "Gold of Seven Saints" by Steve Frazier.

Knowing how much you liked working with Howard in "Rio Bravo," I just kind of have a feeling that Hawks has a better chance than any other producer now bidding for your services of getting you, Dino.

Joe Mankiewicz has been in town very quietly conferring with Sam Spiegel about directing "Suddenly Last Summer." This is Elizabeth Taylor's next picture, and she will have Vivien Leigh as her co-star.

I told you that Sam was dickering with Vivien many weeks ago. In fact, he told me I broke the story first.

So far no leading man has been named for "Suddenly Last Summer." Elizabeth will have Delbert Mann directing for "Two for the Seesaw," The Ray Stark-Eliot Hyman epic, unless something unexpected happens. "Seesaw" follows "Summer" for Liz.

Felicia Farr, who hasn't checked in at her home base since she made "3:10 to Yuma," is back on the Columbia lot to play opposite Cornel Wilde in "Dancing Buckets" (what's a dancing bucket?). Anyway, it appears that Felicia is going to be kept busy because she reports to Otto Preminger about playing Mary in "Anatomy of a Murder" immediately after the "Buckets" job.

By the way, if anybody had any doubts of the way Felicia feels about Jack Lemmon, and vice versa, they found out about these two at the Milton Berles' winging last week. Such smooching on the dance floor! And at the table.

My daughter Harriet returned from Europe full of praise for Haya Harareet in "Ben Hur." Haya is in Tel-Aviv now with her engineer-husband, but she'll arrive here in June to discuss the Frank Sinatra picture, "Never So Few." Her husband plans to accompany her to do some additional work at the California Institute of Technology.

The name Haya Harareet means "mountain animal" in Hebrew. When she was first signed they wanted to change her name, but Willy Wyler pointed out that when Gina Lollobrigida was first signed there was difficulty with her name, but later there were no complaints.

"Anyhow," George Thomas Jr., who is a reliable publicity director and a good friend of mine, writes: "You were right about the Melbourne weather, but wrong about Ava Gardner's disposition in your recent story about 'On the Beach.' Ava, Gregory Peck, Fred Astaire, Tony Perkins and Donna Anderson worked outdoors in the worst local heat wave in 50 years. Ava took the heat and the work as well as anyone."

I am glad Ava took the heat, but I must say the clipping George sent me about Ava's popularity with the Australian press doesn't prove a thing. It's merely a story about the filming of the picture.

WOULD HIKE PAY

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Del. Charles F. Bachmann (R-Ohio) introduced a bill Monday to increase the salaries of the clerk and members of the Ohio County Board of Commissioners. The clerk's salary would be hiked from $4,200 to $5,200, while commissioners would get a raise from $4,500 to $5,500 each.

ELLIS DIES

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The man who had a major hand in the growth of the now defunct West Virginia high school band festival died here Sunday of a heart attack. Robert O. Ellis Sr., was 78. Ellis, whose son is assistant mayor of Huntington, served for many years as parade marshal and program director of the festival.

KILLS SELF

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—A Chesapeake, Ohio, sales executive died at a Huntington hospital Sunday from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head. Robert L. Edwards, 41, had been employed by the Ultramarine & Color Co. here for 20 years.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

Clarence Sheetz et al. complainants vs. Katherine S. Plummer, et al., No. 25461 Equity. In the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland.

The Bill recites that George F. Sheetz, widower, died intestate, on May 25, 1948, seized and possessed of certain real estate improved by a 1½ story brick building located at number 124 Oak St., in Cumberland, Md. being the same property conveyed to George F. Sheetz et ux., by deed of Johanna Kyne, widow, dated Oct. 12, 1921, and recorded in Liber No. 138, Folio 505, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland.

That the said George F. Sheetz left as his only heirs-at-law the following: Clarence Sheetz married to Evelyn Sheetz, P. O. Box 314, Rowlesburg, W. Va.; Donald Sheetz married to Anna Sheetz, 737 Md. Ave., Cumberland, Md.; George K. Sheetz married to Nellie Sheetz, Route 5, Cumberland, Md.; Elmer L. Sheetz married to Lillie Sheetz, Route 4, Cumberland, Md.; Katherine Sheetz Plummer married to William Plummer, 681 Fairview Road, Hyattsville, Md.; Vady Sheetz Mantheiy married to John Mantheiy, 2415 Plainfield Road, Baltimore 22, Md.; Mary Sheetz Skelly married to Harry Skelly, West St., LaVale, Md.; Evelyn Sheetz, single, West St., LaVale, Md.; Shirley Sheetz Brant married to Ronald H. Brant, Somerset Bridge, Bermuda; the said Ronald H. Brant is in the U. S. Navy and his armed services address is U. S. Naval Facility, Navy 136, c/o F. P. O. New York, N. Y.

The Bill further states that the property referred to in the proceedings is not susceptible to partition without substantial loss or injury to the parties entitled to an interest therein, and that in order to make a division of said property it will be necessary to sell the same and divide the proceeds among the parties entitled thereto, and prays for a decree to that effect.

It is thereupon, ordered by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Md., this 31st day of January 1959, that the complainants by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some daily newspaper published in Allegany County, Md., once a week for four succesive weeks before the 5th day of March, 1959 giving notice to Shirley Sheetz Brant and Ronald H. Brant, her husband, non-residents of the State of Maryland, warning them and each of them to be and appear in this Court on or before the 21st day of March, 1959, and answer the premises and abide by and perform such decree as the Court may deem proper and show cause if any they may have, why the relief prayed therein ought not to be granted as prayed.

How often are you offended by chance remarks?

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Free Translations Can Spoil Your Charm

One way to avoid becoming a man doesn't understand it and charmer is to translate what's said to you in your own mistaken way. Of course there's often more meaning to a remark than the actual words. But the person who has the bad habit of looking inward too closely and too often is likely to hear criticism when none was intended, and this slows the blooming of attractive personality.

When your office superior suggests a way to improve your work, do you think he means that your efforts are a failure? When someone else is admired in your presence, do you bristle or shrink in self-pity because in your translation, your own shortcomings were pointed out? When you hear a compliment on an old suit, do you consider it an insult to your new hat? When a dancing partner offers to teach you new steps, are you sure you've been clumsy?

Women are often criticized by men for taking remarks personally when no such thing was implied. Many a rousing squabble starts in just this way — an innocent, general comment is seized upon as an offense, or a slight to herself or someone or something a woman holds dear. The has difficulty in defending himself. A mountain, he says, is being made of something that wasn't even intended as a molehill. In these instances and many others, irritation and lack of confidence show up lamentably. And very unnecessarily.

It's the narrow personality that turns everything self-ward, and when feelings seek wounding, it's so much worse. The wide and well - rounded personality a charmer has translates in larger ways. She reads no derogatory means into chance remarks, can see criticism as constructive, can be enthusiastic about suggestions, is alert to ideas, improves her point of view.

How good a translator are you? Watch your reactions for a while now to discover growing attitudes you may not have been aware of.

Opening lead: Five of ♥.

East pulled off a highly ingenious bit of deception today to defeat a vulnerable slam contract that was virtually in the bag.

North bid one heart and though South had the high card values for a jump shift, he responded modestly with one spade. No fit had been established so he wished to proceed cautiously while he investigated the possibilities of the hand. North rebid two diamonds and South temporized again with three clubs. When North revealed the fit by raising to four, South contracted for slam.

West, with his utterly hopeless hand, opened the five of hearts. To East, this was marked beyond any question as a singleton, for the only heart out of view was the jack, which was obviously held by declarer, for West would hardly have led the five from a holding of jack-five. If East won the trick with the queen and returned the suit, declarer might be put on guard as to the impending danger and ruff high enough to shut out West. East therefore set up a smoke screen by winning with the ace and returning the deuce. There could be no doubt that the queen of hearts was in the West hand, so declarer is hardly to be taken to task for discarding on the heart return. When West ruffed in, South had a rude awakening.

I suppose that purists will point out that South might just as well have ruffed the return with the eight of clubs and perhaps they are right, but I for one am not going to hold this against South's record for deportment. I shall look upon him as an outraged victim.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD—Clint Walker is tall in the saddle again, not only in his old "Cheyenne" TV series, but he's been cast by the boss himself, Jack L. Warner, for the starring role in "Yellowstone Kelly."

As soon as the snow melts in Yellowstone Park, Clint, Director Gordon Douglas and writer Burt Kennedy take off for the Wyoming location.

Meanwhile, Clint is getting ready for the new "Cheyenne" series which now goes on Monday nights instead of Tuesday when it airs in September. Ty Hardin, who substituted while the warring Mr. Walker was battling with his studio, has been put into "Bronco," a new series, by Bill Orr, head of Warners TV.

Surprising and unexpected was Charles Schnee's resignation from Columbia Studio today. Schnee won the Academy Award for writing "The Bad and the Beautiful," and he has such properties as "Let No Man Write My Epitaph," "The Image Makers", and "The Tiger Among Us."

I asked him why he left Columbia when Kim Novak was set for "The Image Makers" with Richard Quine directing. He told me the basic reason is that he is a writer and would much rather write than produce motion pictures.

"I believe," he said, "that Richard Quine will still direct 'The Image Makers,' and of course I won't stand in the way if he wants to produce it. But I want to get back to writing."

Gustavo Rojo, who cut quite a romantic swatch when he was here making "The Miracle", is back for another fling at Hollywood films if not the Hollywood femmes.

Rojo joins Glenn Ford and Debbie Reynolds in "It Started With a Kiss", playing a dashing bullfighter who covets Glenn's wife (Debbie) and his race car (the fabulous car of the future). Aaron Rosenberg is producing and George Marshall will direct.

The young and handsome Uruguay born Gustavo has starred in 50 Spanish, Italian, French, Mexican and South American movies and now it appears he's off to a Hollywood click.

If Roberto Rossellini hoped to recoup his depleted fortunes with that now famous (or infamous) documentary he filmed in India, he'll do it over the barbed darts of the Rome critics who proclaim it a "flop." Some say that what happened to Roberto himself in India would have made a far better movie!

It was during the making of this film, you remember, that the scandal of his romance with married Somali Das Gupta hit the headlines. This set off an explosion of troubles for Rossellini including his separation and annulment suit with Ingrid Bergman. He was also named as the other man by Das Gupta's husband. Maybe dear Roberto should title the documentary, "I Lost My Heart, My Wife and My Bankroll in India."

One of my favorite actresses, Thelma Ritter, who has been in New York for two long years in "New Girl in Town," is returning to Hollywood for the featured character role in "Pillow Talk" with Rock Hudson, Doris Day and Tony Randall.

Thelma arrives in town in a few days to check in at the Universal-International Studio, and everyone will be mighty glad to see her. Her role in "Pillow Talk" is that of a confidante and housekeeper to Doris Day. Thelma is constantly nursing a hangover, and just the thought of it makes me laugh.

John Ireland will have to leave his changing romances long enough to check into "Spartacus" with Kirk Douglas, Laurence Olivier, Tony Curtis and John Gavin. Ireland was ready to take off for the musical, "Destry", in New York, but when he had the chance to get into "Spartacus," he bowed out of the stage play.

You will see John as Kirk's chief lieutenant who helps lead the gladiators in their revolt against Rome. Yes they even had revolutions in those days.

HOLLYWOOD — Attention Dean Martin in Las Vegas! You're wanted for still ANOTHER movie. Howard Hawks, who directed you in "Rio Bravo" wants you again for "Gold of Seven Saints" by Steve Frazier.

Ever since Jack Warner saw "Rio Bravo" he made up his mind he'd like to keep Howard Hawks right in the family, so he's signed him to a multiple picture deal. Right off the bat, Hawks signified he wanted the "Saints" story to direct.

Knowing how much you liked working with Howard in "Rio Bravo," I just kind of have a feeling that Hawks has a better chance than any other producer now bidding for your services of getting you, Dino.

Joe Mankiewicz has been in town very quietly conferring with Sam Spiegel about directing "Suddenly Last Summer." This is Elizabeth Taylor's next picture, and she will have Vivien Leigh as her co-star.

I told you that Sam was dickering with Vivien many weeks ago. In fact, he told me I broke the story first.

So far no leading man has been named for "Suddenly Last Summer." Elizabeth will have Delbert Mann directing for "Two for the Seesaw," The Ray Stark-Eliot Hyman epic, unless something unexpected happens. "Seesaw" follows "Summer" for Liz.

Felicia Farr, who hasn't checked in at her home base since she made "3:10 to Yuma," is back on the Columbia lot to play opposite Cornel Wilde in "Dancing Buckets" (what's a dancing bucket?). Anyway, it appears that Felicia is going to be kept busy because she reports to Otto Preminger about playing Mary in "Anatomy of a Murder" immediately after the "Buckets" job.

By the way, if anybody had any doubts of the way Felicia feels about Jack Lemmon, and vice versa, they found out about these two at the Milton Berles' winging last week. Such smooching on the dance floor! And at the table.

My daughter Harriet returned from Europe full of praise for Haya Harareet in "Ben Hur." Haya is in Tel-Aviv now with her engineer-husband, but she'll arrive here in June to discuss the Frank Sinatra picture, "Never So Few." Her husband plans to accompany her to do some additional work at the California Institute of Technology.

The name Haya Harareet means "mountain animal" in Hebrew. When she was first signed they wanted to change her name, but Willy Wyler pointed out that when Gina Lollobrigida was first signed there was difficulty with her name, but later there were no complaints.

Delighted that Stanley Kramer company likes Ava Gardner, and I am glad she's changing her tactics—if it's true.

"Anyhow," George Thomas Jr., who is a reliable publicity director and a good friend of mine, writes: "You were right about the Melbourne weather, but wrong about Ava Gardner's disposition in your recent story about 'On the Beach.' Ava, Gregory Peck, Fred Astaire, Tony Perkins and Donna Anderson worked outdoors in the worst local heat wave in 50 years. Ava took the heat and the work as well as anyone."

I am glad Ava took the heat, but I must say the clipping George sent me about Ava's popularity with the Australian press doesn't prove a thing. It's merely a story about the filming of the picture.

Car Production Up

PARIS (UPI) — France passed the one million mark in production of cars and trucks for the first time in history during 1958, it was announced Sunday. The country produced 1,127,549 units compared to 927,956 during 1957.

Select Best Film

TOKYO (UPI) — A movie called "Daughter of the Communist Party" was selected overwhelmingly as Communist China's best film of 1958, the Communist New China news agency reported Monday.

MARRIAGE CAMPAIGN

IDRAMAJU, Indonesia (UPI)—Officials of this Java island community launched a campaign Monday to use marriage to combat rats overrunning the area. They announced each marriage license would cost 25 rat tails.

BUCKS RECOMMENDATION

LONDON (UPI) — Tax accountant Ronald Rickard, who recommended engaged couples get married in April or September to get the most favorable tax rebate, announced Monday he would marry his secretary, Margaret Lancaster, next week. "Margaret would not wait," he explained.

CHILD DIES

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Three-year-old Judith Sanders of nearby Lavalette, Wayne County, died in a hospital here Sunday of a heart condition. The death was not unexpected and residents in the area had provided her last week with watermelons, one of her last cravings. One melon also was sent from Cuba.

WOULD HIKE PAY

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (UPI)—Del. Charles F. Bachmann (R-Ohio) introduced a bill Monday to increase the salaries of the clerk and members of the Ohio County Board of Commissioners. The clerk's salary would be hiked from $4,200 to $5,200, while commissioners would get a raise from $4,500 to $5,500 each.

ELLIS DIES

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (UPI)—The man who had a major hand in the growth of the now defunct West Virginia high school band festival died here Sunday of a heart attack. Robert O. Ellis Sr. was 78. Ellis, whose son is assistant mayor of Huntington, served for many years as parade marshal and program director of the festival.

Stock Averages Decline On Moderate Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sharp losses in a few issues pulled down the stock averages while the main body of stocks held in a narrow, irregular range on moderately active turnover.

Losses of 3 points in Goodyear, 2½ American Telephone, 2 points Eastman Kodak, around a point in Allied Chemical, American Smelting, International Paper and Standard Oil of California weighed on the industrial average and it dropped 1.73 to 592.23.

Rails and utilities had small losses — 0.16 to 161.75 and 0.16 to 90.72, respectively — bringing down the general average by 0.47 to 205.22.

Early demand was unable to carry through except in a few special groups and issues and even for the day's features closing prices generally were below the best levels.

Copper stocks moved up on continuing price improvement for the metal. Magma stood out at the close with a gain of more than a point. Steels also moved up as steel industry operations approached 80 per cent of capacity. Lukens was up over 2 points, Bethlehem nearly a point.

Pitney Bowes ran up 3½ points on its 3-for-1 stock split and Bush Terminal, Beckman Instruments, ACF Industries, Minneapolis Honeywell, Lehn & Fink rose around 2 to nearly 3 points.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains closed mixed Monday, generally weak to steady, on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed unchanged to ½ cent lower; corn (old) unchanged to up ⅛ cent; (new) up ⅛ to off ⅛ cent; oats off ¼ to ⅜ cent; rye off ⅜ to ¾ cent; soybeans off ⅜ to 1⅞ cents.

Lower parity levels which have been recently proposed were the main factors in the session's decline. Increased moisture in Southwestern grain areas also contributed to the drop.

Liquidation of the March contract weakened wheat prices. The delivery dropped ½ cent from its previous level. Other positions barely maintained steadiness on the strength of some moderate export buying. May wheat slipped ¼ and distant December ⅛ cent a bushel. Yugoslavia took two cargoes of red wheat for February shipment. A little buying support also came from commission houses, particularly for the May.

A general resting demand and some scattered buying of May corn were features in the crop's slight recovery from early low levels. Old March stayed about steady; new crop deliveries remained unchanged or ⅛ cent from their previous closes. Cash houses were the main buyers. Northwest brokers took new March. And with larger receipts—Monday's was 524 cars—activity centered in spot trade. The basis dropped 1½ cents under sales of Nos. 1 and 2 yellow around the $1.19 mark.

The U.S. visible supply of all six major grains decreased this week according to a compilation by the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat decreased 1,825,000 bushels, leaving 353,204,000 in stocks; corn decreased 1,742,000, leaving 83,032,000; oats decreased 535,000, leaving 19,923,000; rye decreased 66,000, leaving 3,172,000; barley decreased 403,000, leaving 21,026,000, and soybeans decreased 1,125,000, leaving 31,850,000.

Grains at outside markets were easy. The range:

MAN WINS LEGS CONTEST

DIDCOT, England (UPI) — Organizers of a "most fascinating legs" contest here were thinking of women but forgot to say so in their advertisements. Lance Cpl. William Nimmo, 21, entered and won an electric heater by virtue of an applause meter. "There was nothing to say men couldn't enter," said Nimmo.

Stock Averages Decline On Moderate Turnover

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sharp losses in a few issues pulled down the stock averages while the main body of stocks held in a narrow, irregular range on moderately active turnover.

Losses of 3 points in Goodyear, 2½ American Telephone, 2 points Eastman Kodak, around a point in Allied Chemical, American Smelting, International Paper and Standard Oil of California weighed on the industrial average and it dropped 1.73 to 592.23.

Rails and utilities had small losses — 0.16 to 161.75 and 0.16 to 90.72, respectively — bringing down the general average by 0.47 to 205.22.

Early demand was unable to carry through except in a few special groups and issues and even for the day's features closing prices generally were below the best levels.

Copper stocks moved up on continuing price improvement for the metal. Magma stood out at the close with a gain of more than a point. Steels also moved up as steel industry operations approached 80 per cent of capacity. Lukens was up over 2 points, Bethlehem nearly a point.

Pitney Bowes ran up 3½ points on its 3-for-1 stock split and Bush Terminal, Beckman Instruments, ACF Industries, Minneapolis Honeywell, Lehn & Fink rose around 2 to nearly 3 points.

Chicago Grains

CHICAGO (UPI)—Grains closed mixed Monday, generally weak to steady, on the Chicago Board of Trade.

Wheat closed unchanged to ½ cent lower; corn (old) unchanged to up ⅛ cent; (new) up ⅛ to off ⅛ cent; oats off ¼ to ¾ cent; rye off ⅜ to ¾ cent; soybeans off ⅝ to 1⅛ cents.

Lower parity levels which have been recently proposed were the main factors in the session's decline. Increased moisture in Southwestern grain areas also contributed to the drop.

Liquidation of the March contract weakened wheat prices. The delivery dropped ½ cent from its previous level. Other positions barely maintained steadiness on the strength of some moderate export buying. May wheat slipped ¼ and distant December ⅛ cent a bushel. Yugoslavia took two cargoes of red wheat for February shipment. A little buying support also came from commission houses, particularly for the May.

A general resting demand and some scattered buying of May corn were features in the crop's slight recovery from early low levels. Old March stayed about steady; new crop deliveries remained unchanged or ⅛ cent from their previous closes. Cash houses were the main buyers. Northwest brokers took new March. And with larger receipts—Monday's was 524 cars—activity centered in spot trade. The basis dropped 1½ cents under sales of Nos. 1 and 2 yellow around the $1.19 mark.

The U.S. visible supply of all six major grains decreased this week according to a compilation by the Chicago Board of Trade. Wheat decreased 1,825,000 bushels, leaving 353,204,000 in stocks; corn decreased 1,742,000, leaving 83,032,000; oats decreased 535,000, leaving 19,923,000; rye decreased 66,000, leaving 3,172,000; barley decreased 403,000, leaving 21,026,000, and soybeans decreased 1,125,000, leaving 31,850,000.

Union Votes Free Hand To Committee

Policy Meeting Set In Philadelphia

Members of Local 180, Glass Workers Union, AFL-CIO, last night voted to give its negotiating committee full authority to settle all unresolved contract issues with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company by arbitration or negotiation.

Charles O. Buskirk, president of the local which represents hourly-paid workers at the company's Works 7 here, said the action was taken at a meeting in the Woodmen's Hall and attended by 482 members of the union.

Members of the union have been on strike here since October 8.

Vote Confidence

Mr. Buskirk said the action was taken after the members of the Cumberland union gave a full vote of confidence to the negotiating committee.

Mr. Buskirk and Andrew Lewis, wage committeeman, will leave here today for Philadelphia, where union officials will hold a policy session in the Sheraton Hotel before negotiations resume Wednesday at 2 p.m.

During the meeting, Local 180 officials presented a full report on local issues, including those on which agreement has been reached and the unresolved issues.

Joseph Lunz, Kittaning, Pa., District 1 president, represented the Glass Workers union and gave a report on the negotiations from the international's view.

Take Same Action

He said the Creighton, Ford City and Mt. Vernon locals all voted to give the negotiating committee the right to continue the negotiations or arbitrate remaining issues.

All other PPG locals were expected to complete similar meetings last night.

Negotiations were recessed last Friday after the union asked time to brief members on the status of the talks and to decide whether some disputed issues should be submitted to arbitration.

Bonnell Sends His Resignation To Gov. Tawes

McMullen Seen As Acting Head

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes received Monday the written resignation of Robert O. Bonnell as chairman of the State Roads Commission.

The governor said he is not ready to announce Bonnell's successor to one of the most important appointive positions in the state.

It has been heard widely that John J. McMullen, present Democratic member of the commission, would be named acting chairman.

It was understood that McMullen, a Cumberland daily newspaper publisher, would serve from the date of Bonnell's resignation, Feb. 16, until June 1. At that time, Tawes hopes that the commission will be reorganized and he then would name a permanent chairman.

The governor is preparing to introduce this week his bill calling for revamping of the commission. In general, the membership of the commission would be doubled to six with a new post of executive director. The members would have to come from various geographical sections of the state.

Bonnell's resignation had been anticipated since he is a Republican appointed by Gov. McKeldin in the summer of 1956.

As he mentioned in his letter to Tawes, Bonnell said he had agreed to continue until the commission made its annual report to the governor and the Legislature.

The report was submitted to Gov. Tawes last weekend and it will be explained to the legislators Feb. 10-11.

"Being chairman has been a very challenging experience," Bonnell wrote in his letter of resignation.

"I can only wish for my successor the same splendid spirit of cooperation I have enjoyed from members of the commission, its staff and personnel, the governor and Legislature.

"Working together, much has been accomplished. But it is only a preview of what remains to be done . . ."

Ridgeley Airman Retires After 20 Years

Col. G. J. Dunkleberg, commander of the 1254th Air Transport Group, Special Missions Air Transport Service at Washington National Airport, is shown here presenting a certificate of retirement to M/Sgt. Frank B. Robbins Jr., formerly of Ridgeley, upon completion of 20 years active service with the Air Force. Robbins has accepted a Civil Service position at Andrews Air Force Base.

Former Allegany Student Retires From Air Force

M/Sgt. Frank B. Robbins Jr. of the 1298th Air Transport Squadron, 1254th Air Transport Group, Medium (Special Missions), Military Air Transport Service, Washington, D. C., was recently presented his retirement certificate from the 1254th ATG Commander, Colonel Grover J. Dunkleberg.

A native of the state of Maine, Sgt. Robbins moved to Ridgeley, W. Va. when he was 10 years old. He attended Allegany High School.

Sgt. Robbins first enlisted in the USA Air Corps at Fort McArther, Calif. in March 1937. He was assigned to Hamilton Field, Calif. and performed duties as an operations dispatcher. In 1939, he applied for and was sent to mechanics school and has been working as a mechanic and maintenance man ever since. He has had three overseas tours; South Pacific in 1943 and '44, Guam in 1947, and England in 1951 and '52. Arriving in Washington, D. C. area in 1953, he was assigned to Andrews Air Force Base for one year, before being transferred to the 1298th Air Transport Squadron, where he has been with the maintenance section until his recent retirement. Sgt. Robbins is a captain in the United States Air Force Reserve, and has had five years active duty as a commissioned officer.

Evidently not the retiring type, Sgt. Robbins has started to work for Civil Service. He is with engine conditioning and flight test at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland.

The father of two boys and one girl, Sgt. Robbins is now residing at 5989 Reamy Drive, Washington, D. C.

Tramp Pigeon Problem Cited By Health Board

This is the conclusion reached yesterday at a meeting of the City Board of Health, held in City Hall yesterday with Mayor J. Edwin Keech, chairman, presiding.

Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer and secretary, said the board felt that some community attempt should be made to get rid of the tramp pigeons.

City officials said they would participate in such a drive by attacking the problem in public buildings.

Several years ago, pigeons and starlings were brought under control by a major drive.

Army Reserve Reorganization Affects Units

Major General H. J. Vander Heide, commander of the XXI U. S. Army Corps (Reserve) area including Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia announces that the reorganization within the Corps is expected to be completed by the end of July.

The reorganization is designed to modernize the Reserve to make it a stronger and more effective fighting force. The Corps' present 727 active Reserve units will be consolidated to about 570. Overall manpower will not be decreased, however, there will be an internal redistribution of personnel, General Vander Heide said.

At the present time there are seven units in Cumberland, comprised of some 195 men. Of these units, the 942d Ordnance Detachment (Explosive Ordnance Disposal) and the 729 Army Postal Unit (Type V) will remain unchanged.

Those which will be discontinued are Company G, 319th Infantry Regiment, and Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 810th Signal Battalion (Support).

The 353d Ordnance Company (Ammunition) will be moved to Clearfield, Pa. Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment of the 398th Ordnance Battalion will be moved to Philadelphia. New units to be organized are a Rifle Company of A Battle Group of the 79th Infantry Division and the 818 Ordnance Company (Field Supply.)

The 372d Military Police Company (Guard) a unit of approximately 75 Reservists, will be discontinued. A new unit, the 336th Military Police Battalion, Company B, will move to Lonaconing from Pittsburgh.

42 County Students Plan Scholarship Test

Some 42 students in public and parochial schools of Allegany County have indicated they will take the Maryland Teacher Education Scholarship test on Saturday at Allegany High School.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county public schools, announced yesterday that the test, which will be given under his supervision, will begin at 9 a. m. and last until about 12:15 p. m.

Mr. Rizer pointed out yesterday that no additional applications will be accepted at his office after 5 p. m. today.

Seven such scholarships have have been alloted to the county. Mr. Rizer pointed out the competitive examinations will be machine scored and the results will be sent to the State Board of Education. Awards will be made on the basis of the highest to the lowest score with due consideration of financial ability of a student to pay toward a college education.

The program was created a few years ago by the General Assembly in Annapolis and the purpose of the program is to encourage high schol students to enter the teaching profession.

Those who accept the scholarship are required to teach for at least two years in Maryland upon completion of the required college education.

Assisting Mr. Rizer in giving the examination will be Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools in the county and John Snyder, guidance counselor of Allegany High School.

Planning to take the test are eight students from Allegany, six from LaSalle, five from Ursuline Academy, four each from Catholic Girls Central, Beall, and Valley, three each from Fort Hill, Mt. Savage, and St. Peter's, Westernport, and two from St. Mary's here.

Colleges eligible in the program include Notre Dame of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, Goucher College, Loyola College, Maryland Institute, Mount St. Agnes College and the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore; Mount St. Mary's, St. Joseph's College, of Emmittsburg; Washington College, Chestertown, Washington Missionary College, Takoma Park, and Western Maryland College, Westminster.

Mrs. Grace Van Pelt, 206 Fairfax Street; Robert L. Gilpin, 215 Pennsylvania Avenue; Charles H. Sturtz ,133 Reynolds Street, and G. W. Davis, 145 Bedford Street.

Atending physicians were Dr. Leo Ley, Dr. Wylie Faw and Dr. James Hallinan.

See Sponsors Bill To Ease Court Burden

Ups Civil Limitation From $300 To $500

State Senator Charles M. See last night introduced a bill to ease the burden of civil cases coming before the Allegany County Circuit Court.

It would be accomplished by increasing the jurisdiction of the Trial Magistrates Court in Allegany County in civil cases from the present $300 or less to $500 or less.

Senator See said the plan would relieve the Circuit Court, which now has only one judge, of many of the small civil cases brought before it.

He said Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris is in favor of the bill and that Del. William Walsh, secretary of the Allegany County Bar Association, reported the proposal has been endorsed by that unit.

Senator See said he and members of the Allegany County Delegation are in accord in favoring the bill.

To Enter Court Bill

The Allegany County senator reported that he will introduce a bill, now being prepared by the Department of Legislative Reference, which would eliminate the $2,500 a year the City of Cumberland now contributes toward the support of the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

The Juvenile Court, he said, is as much a county function as the Circuit Court.

Citizens of Cumberland contribute their part toward the cost of operating county courts through the payment of city taxes, as do all other political subdivisions of the county.

For years, however, the City of Cumberland has been required by law to make annual contributions of $2,500 toward the Juvenile Court.

The elimination of the contribution, termed double taxation by city officials, is one of the legislative proposals being made by the Mayor and Council.

Has Open Mind

Senator See reported last night

GI Insurance Has Loan Value

Veterans holding permanent GI life insurance policies do not need to surrender their policies for cash if they need money for emergencies, Samuel J. Weston, VA contact officer said here yesterday.

It is possible, the local VA representative explained, for a veteran to borrow up to 94 per cent of the policy's cash surrender value.

Until the loan is repaid, the protection for the veteran's beneficiary is reduced but the policy remains in force, Mr. Weston points out. Once surrendered however, all protection ceases and the policy cannot, by law, be reinstated.

Annual interest charged on these policy loans is four per cent. If not paid on the due date, the amount of interest is added to the principal of the loan, thus lowering the amount of protection.

If the borrower receives disability compensation or other benefits paid by VA, he can arrange to have his loan repaid systematically by a deduction from his cash benefit, Mr. Weston noted.

Celanese Names New Controller

David W. Chappuis has been elected controller of Celanese Corporation of America. He succeeds James H. Black, who was recently elected president of Fiber Industries, Inc., the company formed by Celanese and Imperial Chemical Industries Limited of Great Britain, to produce Teron, a polyester fiber.

Since February, 1958, Mr. Chappins had served as group controller of Daystrom, Inc., Murray Hill, N. J. Past affiliations also nclude two year as vice-president and treasurer for Telautograph Corporation, Los Angeles; six years as controller of Marchant Calculators, Inc., Oakland, Calif., and work in San Francisco as a Certified Public Accountant.

A native of Maricopa, Calif., he was educated at a Pace Institute affiliate.

Pittsburgh Boy Nabbed In Car Theft

Search Continues For Holdup Man

A 16-year-old Pittsburgh youth, arrested yesterday in Baltimore in connection with a stolen car case here, also will be questioned in the attempted armed robbery of a local service station, city police said last night.

A warrant has been obtained charging the boy with unauthorized use of an automobile allegedly taken off the Potomac Motors Company lot early Sunday morning.

Sheriff's deputies will leave today for Baltimore to bring the youth to Cumberland, police said.

Man Sought

Police said a man walked into the Bell Service Station, 88 Wineow Street, Sunday morning and ordered the night attendant at gun-point to turn over all his cash.

The attendant, Norval Rawlings, said at first he thought the man was pulling a joke until he noticed the weapon, a small revolver.

He told police the man walked into the station at 2:10 a.m. and shouted "hand over all your cash."

Rawlings informed the man that he had turned over all the day's receipts to the station manager and there was no money in the building.

Returned To Station

The holdup man then left the building but returned immediately to instruct Rawlings not to use the telephone. Ae he left a second time the would-be bandit wiped off the knob of the door.

He was last seen walking toward downtown Cumberland.

Station Police were notified and issued a routine 13-state alarm. Police said a good description of the holdup man was obtained from the witnesses.

Works 7 Briefs Employes On Pact Progress

Employes of Works 7 of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company were briefed on the status of negotiations and the strike situation in letters written by J. B. White, plant manager.

The reports were given in letters dated January 30 and 31.

In Friday's letter, Mr. White reported the strike, affecting all of the company's plate and window glass factories had lasted 115 days—the longest strike in the glass division's history.

He said the loss of earnings to Cumberland employes amounts to about $1,917 each and that the community has lost about $770,000 in goods and services normally purchased locally by the company.

The basic wage structure at Cumberland, he said, is an evaluated rate system which pays equitable rates within the plant, based on such factors as required training, skills and effort expended.

The rate, he said, differs from other plants where the rate is distorted by the incentive system and practices which cause earnings to be out of proportion to effort expended and glass produced.

These unjustified earnings at other plants, he said, are causing PPG to be noncompetitive with domestic and foreign competition.

He added the firm has offered a substantial increase which would bring the average earned rate to the $2.81 an hour mark for the first year of the new contract.

Saturday's letter listed all issues which remain unresolved and "which represent the reason for Cumberland being on strike."

The chart showed the status of each issue—granted, pending or settled through discussion or compromise.

Mr. White said the company's position is that arbitration is the best method to solve this strike issue, since it "appears impossible to solve it by negotiations."

Beneficiaries Of SS To Get Pay Increases

Increased Social Security checks to about 12,500 people now on the old-age, survivors, and disability insurance rolls in this area will go into mails as scheduled, James A. Gwinn, manager of the Cumberland Social Security district office, announced yesterday.

He said the Payment Centers servicing this area had assured him that the checks will be mailed by the U. S. Treasury for delivery commencing February 3. The checks are usually received here on the third or fourth day of the month.

These are the payments for January, the first month to show the increased benefit amounts for old-age, survivors, and disability insurance provided by the 1958 amendments to the Social Security law. The general increase in benefit amount is about seven per cent.

Before 1959, monthly payments to a retired worker ranged from $30 to $108.50. The January checks to workers who retired at 65 or over will range from $33 to $116. The maximum monthly payment to a family, which was $200 in December, will be $254 on January checks.

The task of refiguring the benefit amounts for the more than twelve and one half million men, women, and children in the nation who are now getting monthly payments, and mailing the checks on scheduled time, was made possible by the electronic equiment in the Payment Centers of the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance, Mr. Gwinn said.

About seven million of the beneficiaries are aged retired workers, two million are wives or dependent aged husbands of retired workers, over 1.3 million are widows, dependent widowers, and dependent aged parents of deceased workers, and over two million are widowed mothers and minor children.

Disability insurance payments included in this total will go to more than 300,000 disabled workers and their dependents.

Missing Girl

Rosemary Rexrode, 15, Flintstone, has been reported missing from her home. She is five feet, five inches tall, weighs 110 pounds and has dark hair and eyes. Wearing a dark green tweed coat she was last seen boa ding a church bus traveling to Cumberland Sunday evening.

VA Payments Are Rounded To Next Dollar

Effective with the payments for January this year, a few veterans receiving disability compensation find their checks have been increased a few cents. Veterans concerned are those whose disability resulting from service is rated at 50 per cent or more and have dependents.

What has actually happened, according to Samuel J. Weston, local Veterans Administration contact representative, is a "dollar rounding."

The law now provides, Mr. Weston noted, that the combined payment for compensation and dependents in such cases shall be rounded out to the nearest dollar. The amount cannot be reduced to the nearest dollar, but must be increased to the nearest dollar, he explained.

R. T. Brown, manager of the regional VA office in Baltimore advised Mr. Weston to publicize this change, so that veterans who receive checks for even money, when previously their checks were for a lesser amount, will understand that no error has been made.

Mr. Weston said, "as an example, a veteran gets a check for $60 and before his check was $59.61, no error has been made, but the payment has been rounded to the dollar."

Fred Weber Receives Animal Welfare Award

The monthly "Child Kindness to Animals" award was made to Frederick Weber, by the executive committee of the Animal Welfare Society, at a meeting last night at the home of Mrs. W. Earle Cobey, The Dingle, education committee chairman.

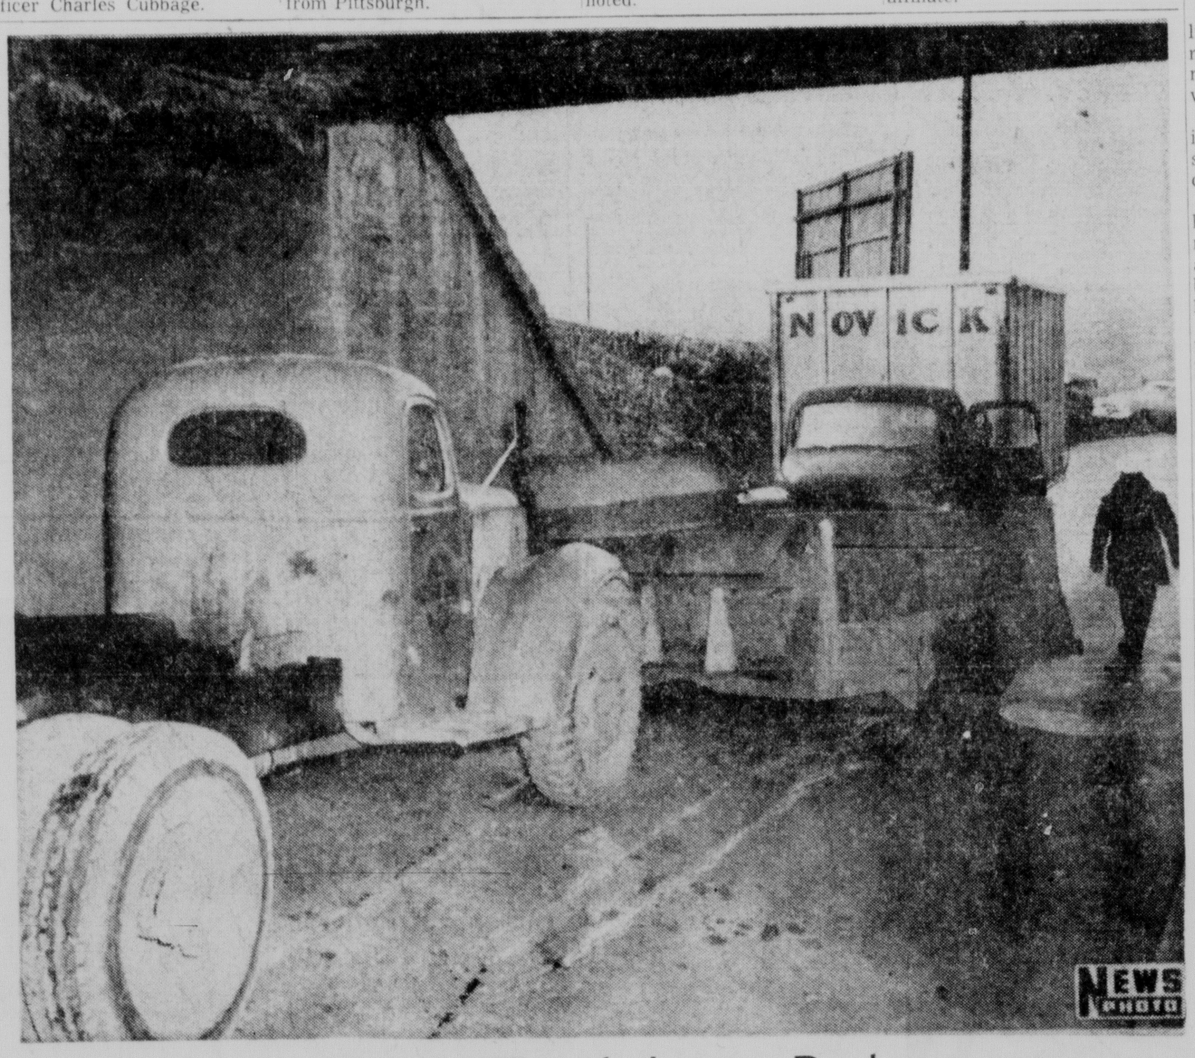
The eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weber, Wempe Drive, received a merit award certificate, $1 cash and a junior membership to the society for one year.

Anyone knowing a child under 12, whom they consider eligible for the award, is asked to call or write to Mrs. Cobey and submit the name. Fred saved his rabbit from burning to death, when a kerosene lamp exploded, by beating the flames out with his hands.

Hearing Is Set For Two Youths

Two youths, nabbed Saturday for disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, will be given a hearing at 9 a. m. Saturday, city police said last night. The two were arrested for fighting at a teen-age center.

Police said David Linn, 18, of Mt. Savage, posted $50 bond on both charges while Harold Counihan, 19, of 10 Altamont Terrace, posted $20 bond on a disturbing the peace count registered by Officer Charles Cubbage.



Dump Truck Loses Bed

The heavy metal dump bed of a Hazelwood Construction Company truck was sheared off the vehicle in the Wineow Street underpass about 3:30 p. m. yesterday. City police said the bed, which blocked the underpass for nearly half an hour, apparently was raised as the truck went through the north entrance and struck the top of the viaduct. The bed was hauled from the underpass with chains hooked to it by the driver of the Novick truck, seen at the rear of the picture. It was then pushed onto a lot adjoining the underpass along Wineow Street. No one was injured in the accident. Officers E. P. Wilson and Warren Brehm investigated the mishap and directed traffic around the underpass until it was cleared.

Union Votes Free Hand To Committee

Policy Meeting Set In Philadelphia

Members of Local 180, Glass Workers Union, AFL-CIO, last night voted to give its negotiating committee full authority to settle all unresolved contract issues with the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company by arbitration or negotiation.

Charles O. Buskirk, president of the local which represents hourly-paid workers at the company's Works 7 here, said the action was taken at a meeting in the Woodmen's Hall and attended by 482 members of the union.

Members of the union have been on strike here since October 8.

Vote Confidence

Mr. Buskirk said the action was taken after the members of the Cumberland union gave a full vote of confidence to the negotiating committee.

Mr. Buskirk and Andrew Lewis, wage committeeman, will leave here today for Philadelphia, where union officials will hold a policy session in the Sheraton Hotel before negotiations resume Wednesday at 2 p.m.

During the meeting, Local 180 officials presented a full report on local issues, including those on which agreement has been reached and the unresolved issues.

Joseph Lunz, Kittaning, Pa., District 1 president, represented the Glass Workers union and gave a report on the negotiations from the international's view.

Take Same Action

He said the Creighton, Ford City and Mt. Vernon locals all voted to give the negotiating committee the right to continue the negotiations or arbitrate remaining issues.

All other PPG locals were expected to complete similar meetings last night.

Negotiations were recessed last Friday after the union asked time to brief members on the status of the talks and to decide whether some disputed issues should be submitted to arbitration.

The strike has idled some 13,000 workers at nine Pittsburgh Plate Glass plants.

Bonnell Sends His Resignation To Gov. Tawes

McMullen Seen As Acting Head

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes received Monday the written resignation of Robert O. Bonnell as chairman of the State Roads Commission.

The govgrnor said he is not ready to announce Bonnell's successor to one of the most important appointive positions in the state.

It has been heard widely that John J. McMullen, present Democratic member of the commission, would be named acting chairman.

It was understood that McMullen, a Cumberland daily newspaper publisher, would serve from the date of Bonnell's resignation, Feb. 16, until June 1. At that time, Tawes hopes that the commission will be reorganized and he then would name a permanent chairman.

The governor is preparing to introduce this week his bill calling for revamping of the commission. In general, the membership of the commission would be doubled to six with a new post of executive director. The members would have to come from various geographical sections of the state.

Bonnell's resignation had been anticipated since he is a Republican appointed by Gov. McKeldin in the summer of 1956.

As he mentioned in his letter to Tawes, Bonnell said he had agreed to continue until the commission made its annual report to the governor and the Legislature.

The report was submitted to Gov. Tawes last weekend and it will be explained to the legislators Feb. 10-11.

"Being chairman has been a very challenging experience," Bonnell wrote in his letter of resignation.

"I can only wish for my successor the same splendid spirit of cooperation I have enjoyed from members of the commission, its staff and personnel, the governor and Legislature.

"Working together, much has been accomplished. But it is only a preview of what remains to be done . . ."

Ridgeley Airman Retires After 20 Years

Col. G. J. Dunkleberg, commander of the 1254th Air Transport Group, Special Missions Air Transport Service at Washington National Airport, is shown here presenting a certificate of retirement to M/Sgt. Frank B. Robbins Jr., formerly of Ridgeley, upon completion of 20 years active service with the Air Force. Robbins has accepted a Civil Service position at Andrews Air Force Base.

Former Allegany Student Retires From Air Force

M/Sgt. Frank B. Robbins Jr. of the 1298th Air Transport Squadron, 1254th Air Transport Group, Medium (Special Missions), Military Air Transport Service, Washington, D. C., was recently presented his retirement certificate from the 1254th ATG Commander, Colonel Grover J. Dunkleberg.

A native of the state of Maine, Sgt. Robbins moved to Ridgeley, W. Va. when he was 10 years old. He attended Allegany High School.

Sgt. Robbins first enlisted in the USA Air Corps at Fort McArther, Calif. in March 1937. He was assigned to Hamilton Field, Calif. and performed duties as an operations dispatcher. In 1939, he applied for and was sent to mechanics school and has been working as a mechanic and maintenance man ever since. He has had three overseas tours: South Pacific in 1943 and '44, Guam in 1947, and England in 1951 and '52. Arriving in Washington, D. C. area in 1953, he was assigned to Andrews Air Force Base for one year, before being transferred to the 1298th Air Transport Squadron, where he has been with the maintenance section until his recent retirement. Sgt. Robbins is a captain in the United States Air Force Reserve, and has had five years active duty as a commissioned officer.

Evidently not the retiring type, Sgt. Robbins has started to work for Civil Service. He is with engine conditioning and flight test at Andrews Air Force Base, Maryland.

The father of two boys and one girl, Sgt. Robbins is now residing at 5989 Reamy Drive, Washington, D. C.

Tramp Pigeon Problem Cited By Health Board

The pigeon problem is becoming serious in Cumberland again.

This is the conclusion reached yesterday at a meeting of the City Board of Health, held in City Hall yesterday with Mayor J. Edwin Keech, chairman, presiding.

Dr. Ton van Strien, county health officer and secretary, said the board felt that some community attempt should be made to get rid of the tramp pigeons.

City officials said they would participate in such a drive by attacking the problem in public buildings.

Several years ago, pigeons and starlings were brought under control by a major drive.

Hearing Is Set For Two Youths

Two youths, nabbed Saturday for disturbing the peace and resisting arrest, will be given a hearing at 9 a. m. Saturday, city police said last night. The two were arrested for fighting at a teen-age center.

Police said David Linn, 18, of Mt. Savage, posted $50 bond on both charges while Harold Counihan, 19, of 10 Altamont Terrace, posted $20 bond on a disturbing the peace count registered by Officer Charles Cubbage.

Army Reserve Reorganization Affects Units

Major General H. J. Vander Heide, commander of the XXI U. S. Army Corps (Reserve) area including Maryland, Virginia, Delaware and Pennsylvania, and the District of Columbia announces that the reorganization within the Corps is expected to be completed by the end of July.

The reorganization is designed to modernize the Reserve to make it a stronger and more effective fighting force. The Corps' present 727 active Reserve units will be consolidated to about 570. Overall manpower will not be decreased, however, there will be an internal redistribution of personnel, General Vander Heide said.

At the present time there are seven units in Cumberland, comprised of some 195 men. Of these units, the 942d Ordnance Detachment (Explosive Ordnance Disposal) and the 729 Army Postal Unit (Type V) will remain unchanged.

Those which will be discontinued are Company G, 319th Infantry Regiment, and Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 810th Signal Battalion (Support).

The 353d Ordnance Company (Ammunition) will be moved to Clearfield, Pa. Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment of the 398th Ordnance Battalion will be moved to Philadelphia. New units to be organized are a Rifle Company of A Battle Group of the 79th Infantry Division and the 818 Ordnance Company (Field Supply.)

The 372d Military Police Company (Guard) a unit of approximately 75 Reservists, will be discontinued. A new unit, the 336th Military Police Battalion, Company B, will move to Lonaconing from Pittsburgh.

42 County Students Plan Scholarship Test

Some 42 students in public and parochial schools of Allegany County have indicated they will take the Maryland Teacher Education Scholarship test on Saturday at Allegany High School.

Richard T. Rizer, assistant superintendent of county public schools, announced yesterday that the test, which will be given under his supervision, will begin at 9 a. m. and last until about 12:15 p. m.

Mr. Rizer pointed out yesterday that no additional applications will be accepted at his office after 5 p. m. today.

Seven such scholarships have have been alloted to the county. Mr. Rizer pointed out the competitive examinations will be machine scored and the results will be sent to the State Board of Education. Awards will be made on the basis of the highest to the lowest score with due consideration of financial ability of a student to pay toward a college education.

The program was created a few years ago by the General Assembly in Annapolis and the purpose of the program is to encourage high schol students to enter the teaching profession.

Those who accept the scholarship are required to teach for at least two years in Maryland upon completion of the required college education.

Assisting Mr. Rizer in giving the examination will be Jack A. Petry, supervisor of high schools in the county and John Snyder, guidance counselor of Allegany High School.

Planning to take the test are eight students from Allegany, six from LaSalle, five from Ursuline Academy, four each from Catholic Girls Central, Beall, and Valley, three each from Fort Hill, Mt. Savage, and St. Peter's, Westernport, and two from St. Mary's here.

Colleges eligible in the program include Notre Dame of Maryland, Johns Hopkins University, Goucher College, Loyola College, Maryland Institute, Mount St. Agnes College and the Peabody Conservatory of Music, Baltimore; Mount St. Mary's, St. Joseph's College, of Emmittsburg; Washington College, Chestertown, Washington Missionary College, Takoma Park, and Western Maryland College, Westminster.

GI Insurance Has Loan Value

Veterans holding permanent GI life insurance policies do not need to surrender their policies for cash if they need money for emergencies, Samuel J. Weston, VA contact officer said here yesterday.

It is possible, the local VA representative explained, for a veteran to borrow up to 94 per cent of the policy's cash surrender value.

Until the loan is repaid, the protection for the veteran's beneficiary is reduced but the policy remains in force, Mr. Weston points out. Once surrendered however, all protection ceases and the policy cannot, by law, be reinstated.

Annual interest charged on these policy loans is four per cent. If not paid on the due date, the amount of interest is added to the principal of the loan, thus lowering the amount of protection.

If the borrower receives disability compensation or other benefits paid by VA, he can arrange to have his loan repaid systematically by a deduction from his cash benefit, Mr. Weston noted.

Bloodmobile Obtains 201 Pints Here

Exceeds Quota; 34 New Donors

Personnel of the Red Cross Regional Bloodmobile Unit of Johnstown, Pa. had a field day here yesterday afternoon as some 201 pints of blood — 51 pints over the quota — were collected at the Eagles Home on North Mechanic Street.

Although 184 persons were scheduled to give blood, a total of 124 showed up. There were 94 walk-ins and 34 persons who gave for the first time. It was also pointed out there were 19 pints of blood which were replacements.

Charles E. Hoenicka, of 516 Avondale Avenue, became a member of the Four Gallon Club yesterday. Joining the Three-Gallon Club were Edwin C. Justice, of 429 Centre Street and Clyde Brooks, 7 Wabash Street, Ridgeley.

Some 12 persons joined the Two-Gallon Club. They are Harry Hartman Jr., RFD 3, Bedford Road; Michael Lindner, 837 Gephart Drive; Walter Jedlowski, 30 Laing Avenue Philip M. Reushel, 611 Oldtown Road; Lorenzo H. Chambers, 4 Oaklawn Avenue, LaVale; Mrs. Madelin Little, Box 165, Bedford Road.

Ralph Bett, 516 Broadway Circle; Paul M. Livengood, RFD 2, Keyser; Mrs. Betty Kiser, 496 Williams Street; Mrs. Irma Paul, 251 Henderson Avenue; Mrs. Veronica Paul, 31 Henderson Avenue, and John F. Powell, 719 Fayette Street.

Those donors who joined the One-Gallon Club are Theodore C. Fritz, Cresaptown, R. E. Twaits Jr., 1134 Braddock Road, Edwin R. Hunt, 1716 Frederick Street; Walter H. Shaffer Jr., Hyndman, Pa.; Charles E. Nield, 111 Grand Avenue; William J. Petit, Route 1, Ridgeley.

Mrs. Grace Van Pelt, 206 Fairfax Street; Robert L. Gilpin, 215 Pennsylvania Avenue; Charles H. Sturtz ,133 Reynolds Street, and G. W. Davis, 145 Bedford Street.

Ups Civil Limitation From $300 To $500

State Senator Charles M. See last night introduced a bill to ease the burden of civil cases coming before the Allegany County Circuit Court.

It would be accomplished by increasing the jurisdiction of the Trial Magistrates Court in Allegany County in civil cases from the present $300 or less to $500 or less.

Senator See said the plan would relieve the Circuit Court, which now has only one judge, of many of the small civil cases brought before it.

He said Chief Judge Morgan C. Harris is in favor of the bill and that Del. William Walsh, secretary of the Allegany County Bar Association, reported the proposal has been endorsed by that unit.

Senator See said he and members of the Allegany County Delegation are in accord in favoring the bill.

To Enter Court Bill

The Allegany County senator reported that he will introduce a bill, now being prepared by the Department of Legislative Reference, which would eliminate the $2,500 a year the City of Cumberland now contributes toward the support of the Allegany County Juvenile Court.

The Juvenile Court, he said, is as much a county function as the Circuit Court.

Citizens of Cumberland contribute their part toward the cost of operating county courts through the payment of city taxes, as do all other political subdivisions of the county.

For years, however, the City of Cumberland has been required by law to make annual contributions of $2,500 toward the Juvenile Court.

The elimination of the contribution, termed double taxation by city officials, is one of the legislative proposals being made by the Mayor and Council.

Has Open Mind

Senator See reported last night

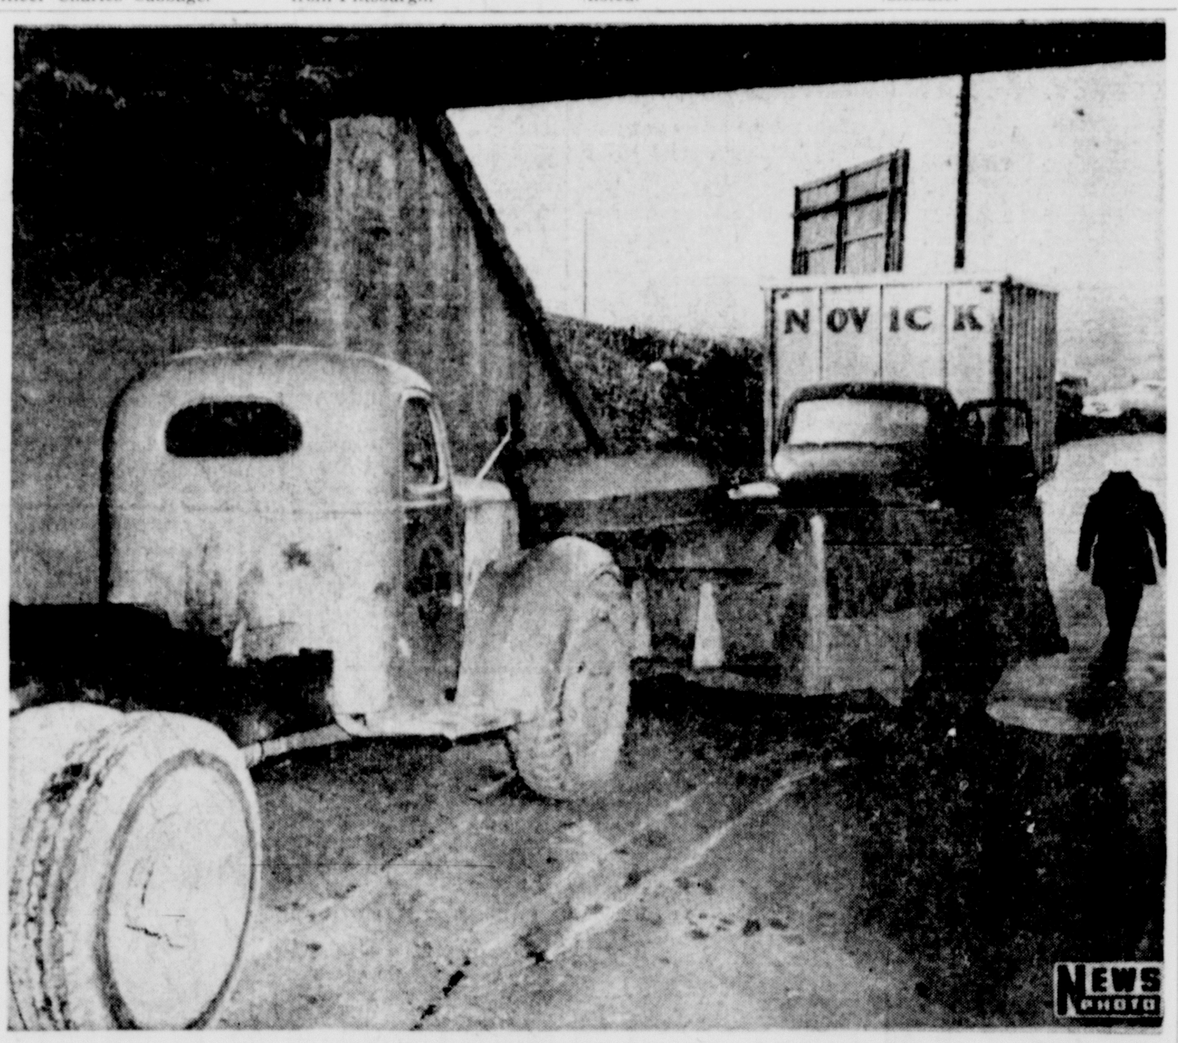
The eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Weber, Wempe Drive, received a merit award certificate, $1 cash and a junior membership to the society for one year.

Anyone knowing a child under 12, whom they consider eligible for the award, is asked to call or write to Mrs. Cobey and submit the name. Fred saved his rabbit from burning to death, when a kerosene lamp exploded, by beating the flames out with his hands.



Dump Truck Loses Bed

The heavy metal dump bed of a Hazelwood Construction Company truck was sheared off the vehicle in the Wineow Street underpass about 3:30 p. m. yesterday. City police said the bed, which blocked the underpass for nearly half an hour, apparently was raised as the truck went through the north entrance and struck the top of the viaduct. The bed was hauled from the underpass with chains hooked to it by the driver of the Novick truck, seen at the rear of the picture. It was then pushed onto a lot adjoining the underpass along Wineow Street. No one was injured in the accident. Officers E. P. Wilson and Warren Brehm investigated the mishap and directed traffic around the underpass until it was cleared.
